A Portland man wears No. 16 shoes—almost big enough for the average Chicago girl.

If "the unwritten law" is a good thing, why not save further controversy by giving it space in the statutes?

Thomas W. Lawson of Boston says he has bet ten thousand dollars that Roosevelt will be nominated and elected. Say, it's getting serious. Lawson is supposed to be a sure-thing man.

Every state which contains a section of unpatented timber land will probably have its "land-fraud" trials in due time. This means the jobs of Heney et al will last about forty years.

Mark Twain is over in England engaged in making King Edward laugh. If the Britons size up Mark as a typical American, it will give us a reputation as a very frivolous nation, doucheknow.

Seattle cannery have quietly stepped in, purchased all but a minor fraction of Oregon's small fruit crop, and put the Oregon packers in a hole. Seattle enterprise is commendable but slightly offensive.

New York, Pittsburg and other parts of the blessed east report numerous deaths and prostrations from excessive heat. A few sweats have been heard from in Oregon recently, but no deaths or even temporary knockouts.

Officials of the Harriman lines declare the shippers and merchants to be largely responsible for the car shortage. The shippers and merchants are real mean. They shouldn't annoy themselves in that manner.

President Roosevelt accuses himself of using "cuss words" during the battle of Santiago. If a little affair like that caused him to indulge in profanity, it is hard to believe he always holds himself in check when up against the many annoyances incident to his present strenuous duties.

One Henry M. Walker of New Jersey has started a suit against E. H. Harriman, charging the latter with knocking the proposed Nehalem & Tillamook Railway into a cocked hat or something. Harriman says he doesn't know a thing about the troubles of Mr. Walker, who was the promoter of the proposed line.

L. M. Miller, a high-grade Portland citizen, took a dose of strychnine Monday night and passed out of this cruel world. The Portland saloons have been closed recently on Sundays, and Mr. Miller couldn't stand the disappointment to his stomach and the sting to his abnormally developed American pride. He preferred death to a dry Sunday in Portland. It is feared Mr. Miller has gone to a place where it is harder to get a thirst quencher than it is in the metropolis of the Northwest.

Tetters Cured.

A lady customer of ours had suffered with tetters for two or three years. It got so bad on her hands that she could not attend to her household duties. One box of Chamberlain's Salve cured her. Chamberlain's medicines give splendid satisfaction in this community—M. H. Rodney & Co., Almond, Ala. Chamberlain's medicines are for sale by O. O. Krogstad.
