Oregon Fruit.

(Special Correspondence)
Portland Or. Sept. 16, 1907.

Weather conditions throughout the Northwest have been almost perfect for the harvest of all kinds of crops.

Oregon apples and pears have brought record prices this Fall.

At the request of the Oregon Development League, Hon. Wilbur K. Newell, president of the State Board of Horticulture, has condensed in the following one hundred words a statement about Oregon fruit that should be printed in every language known to the tongue of man: "Oregon excels in fruit. Proof: Because her apples are the acknowledged standard of the world, bringing highest prices from the trade of New York, Paris, London and Berlin. Her pears, cherries, dried prunes and strawberries have a national reputation, unequalled by the fruit of any other section of the United States. Why? because nature has given her a soil containing the necessary plant food, a climate without extremes, and moisture and sunshine just right to produce a fruit of beautiful color, firm texture, and unrivalled flavor. And her people have the intelligence to take advantage of these conditions."

Of the 400,000 leaflets printed by the Portland Commercial Club advertising the low rates to Oregon, 351,000 had been put in circulation up to noon Saturday.

The Union Pacific, Northern Pacific, Great Northern, Burlington, and Denver & Rio Grande are running at least two daily trains in sections to accommodate the tremendous rush of colonists to the Pacific Northwest, and Oregon is getting her full share. Every citizen of the State should make an effort to bring some acquaintance, friend or relative from the East or Middle West to locate permanently in Oregon.

Secretary Taft had many good things to say of this portion of the United States before leaving for the Orient.

Had Tetter For Thirty Years.

I have suffered with tetter for thirty years and have tried almost countless remedies with little, if any, relief. Three boxes of Chamberlain's Salve cured me. It was a torture. It breaks out a little sometimes, but nothing to what it used to do.—D. H. BEACH, Midland City, Ala. Chamberlain's Salve is for sale by O. O. Krogstad.

CONTEST NOTICE.

U. S. Land Office, Portland, Oregon, September 10, 1907.
A sufficient contest affidavit having been filed in this office by George Smith, contestant, against homestead entry No. 11668, made December 8, 1902, for the $\frac{1}{2}$ sec. 27, and $\frac{1}{4}$ sec. 27, township 8 s., range 10 w., by Frank Goffynski, contestee, in which it is alleged that he is well informed by those who are acquainted with the tract of land embraced in the homestead entry, and know the present condition of the same; also that said entryman has never established any legal bona fide residence on said claim, but abandoned same immediately after making filing and ever since has continued to abandon same, as deponent is informed and believes and therefore deposes; and that said alleged absence from said land was not due to his employment in the army, navy or marine corps of the United States as a private soldier, officer, seaman or marine, during the war with Spain or during any other war in which the United States may be engaged, and parties are hereby notified to appear, respond and offer evidence touching said allegation at 10 o'clock a. m. on October 21, 1907, before the Register and Receiver at the United States Land Office in Portland, Or. The said contestant having, in a proper affidavit, filed August 20, 1907, set forth facts which show that after due diligence personal service of this notice can not be made, it is hereby ordered and directed that such notice be given by due and proper publication.
