The Leap Year Party.

The ladies gave their Leap Year dancing party at Woodman Hall last Saturday evening. As entertainers they proved their superiority over the sterner sex in every way. Of course their was a good sized crowd in attendance, and everybody felt foolish trying to act unnatural. The boys had to act very ladylike at all times and any breach of the rules was punishable by a fine of five cents—and many fines were paid into the funds of the club. A fellow never knows how hard it is to sit down and act nice until he has to. The boys were all very quiet and orderly—they had to be. In fact we thought at times the floor managers were to strict. About the time a fellow would settle down in his seat and sit on the middle of his back to rest here would come a floor manager and make him straighten up in a very uncomfortable position and pay the regulation five cents. We could not so much as go to the ante room to smoke. Yet we can't kick much. While they were very strict in making us act like perfect ladies they did the square thing by us when 12 o'clock came. Dancing ceased and they selected their partners and then was brought in one of those elegant lunches that only good cooks know how to prepare—and here is where the boys were allowed to act natural for the first time during the evening, and they were not slow in taking advantage of the opportunity. They ate every thing in sight—or rather as much as they could hold.

Financially and socially the party was a success. The ladies made so much money out of the affair they promise to give several more dances to use up the surplus coin.

The addition to the orchestra of Mr. Hearde, the minstrel man, with the trap drums was a pleasing feature and was highly appreciated by all.

Waldport Items

The leap year dance was a grand success. Everything was turned over to the management of the ladies and they proved equal to the task. Miss Mae Hart acted as chairman of the committee and also as floor manager. Some of the old dances were revived and the ladies very cleverly showed the boys that they had been forgetting to call up such dances as the Virginia Reel, French Minute, etc., for some time past. A fine supper was served at midnight at the Alsea House but the dancing continued till morning. The affair was a decided success and as usual the proceeds went to the band boys.

Mr. Wm. F. Keady, candidate for commissioner, is a resident of Waldport and has been a taxpayer in Lincoln county for many years. He is a graduate of the Oregon Agricultural College at Corvallis having completed the Mechanical Engineering course in June 1896. In April, 1897, he entered the custom service at Portland, Oregon, as examiner of merchandise and served continuously until moving to Waldport to engage in the Lumber business as a member of the Waldport Lumber Company. The republicans in this end of the county are giving Mr. Keady their unqualified support, knowing him to be well qualified for the office of Commissioner.

The Gasoline Schooner Condor arrived at Waldport Monday noon. The bar was rather rough but the Condor had no trouble coming in, thereby demonstrating her seaworthiness. The entire population of the town headed by the band, turned out to meet the boat and she was certainly tattered a warm welcome. The Condor brought in a supply of general merchandise and will carry out a load of shingles and lumber.
