F. Stewart, in which he made it very plain to those present that he was glad to be there; the Guards gave a pretty drill. Then came the "Trip Around the World" for your supper. Each nation represented had a booth and the guests had to go around to all the booths in order to get a full supper. Germany was represented by Mesdames Lulu Gildersleeve and Imogene Wilson, who served sauer kraut; the Indian tepee was presided over by Misses Esther Copeland and Hester Hill, who served pop corn; Misses Ruth Ofstedahl and Agnes Krogstad served potatoes "on the half shell" in Ireland's booth; Mrs. Jennie Arnold and Miss Aileen Hawkins served cake in France's booth; Mesdames Myrtle Harding and Alma Altree, in Japan's booth served tea and cakes; Mesdames Hattie Starr and Nellie Gaither served coffee in India's booth; Mesdames Eunice Akin and Emma Crosno served sandwiches and pickles in America's booth. ## Murder at Siletz.

Last Thursday evening at about 7 o'clock Larkey L. Logan and Willie Garnier, both Indians, became engaged in a dispute and fight which terminated in the fatal stabbing of Garnier, who died the following Saturday evening.

The fight occurred on the old Fairchild place a half mile west of the Agency on Siletz, where Garniers reside. Garnier was about 25 years old and unmarried. Logan is 46 years old.

The fight was witnessed by an other man, but the cause of the quarrel is not known. Logan stabbed Garnier twice, once in the hip, and once in the stomach cutting a gash about two inches long and penetrating the intestines. Logan was bruised and cut about the head but not serious. The murdered man was a cripple having lost one leg.

The body of the murdered man was buried in the Siletz cemetery Sunday. Mrs. Thomas, mother of Garnier, arrived in from her home at Portland Monday evening, but being to late to attend the funeral remained in Toledo.

Indian Policemen John Adams and Clayborne Arden brought Logan to Toledo Saturday evening and turned him over to Sheriff Ross who held him for the arrival of the United States Marshal from Portland.

Tuesday noon as Marshal McElwain was returning the prisoner from dinner at the Commercial Hotel, Howard Garnier, brother of the murdered man, went out on the upper front porch of the hotel and fired three shots at Logan as he came out below, and had not Garnier's wife caught his arm while shooting their would undoubtedly been another death. The bullets all missed their mark and Logan was rushed off to jail when Sheriff Ross and Marshal McElwain went back and arrested Garnier but soon released him on bond.

The preliminary examination of Logan was held yesterday afternoon before United States Commissioner C. H. Gardner. W. R. Wyatt of Albany appeared for the Government and County Judge Swope was attorney for Logan. After examining three witnesses Commissioner Gardner bound the prisoner over to the Federal Grand Jury. Marshal McElwain again took him in charge and held him until the arrival of Deputy United States Marshal, Nickolson, who arrived yesterday evening and left for Portland this morning with the prisoner.

Howard was taken before Justice Clark yesterday morning and was bound over to the Grand Jury, his bond being placed at $700, which was given and he was released.
