School Closes Tuesday.

Next Tuesday the schools of Toledo will close for the term. Appropriate exercises will be held at Woodmen Hall Tuesday evening. This marks the close of the most successful school year in our history. Toledo school patrons have nothing but praise for the manner in which the excellent corps of instructors has conducted the school. The teachers are, Joel W. Wilson, high school instructor, J. M. Wood, advanced grades, Miss Alice Fleming, intermediate, and Miss Edith Harrison, primary.

The same teachers have been retained for the next term, except Miss Fleming, who was not a candidate for re-election. Miss Addie Harrison, who taught the primary department the two previous terms, will again take charge of a department this coming term.

This institute promises to be one of the most interesting and instructive ever held in the county. All are invited and urged to attend.

Ten Innings of Sport.

Last Sunday was a red-letter day to all true lovers of base ball, and the game was one that will long be remembered by the fans on the bay. One of the many pleasing features of the game was the lack of wrangling which characterizes and spoils so many contests. The day was a perfect baseball day, warm enough so that you did not need an overcoat, and could yell all you wanted to without catching cold and they all had a chance to whoop it up, you bet. For eight innings the score stood 2 to 1 in favor of the visitors, in the first half of the ninth Elk City managed to score another run, making the score 3 to 1. In the last half of the ninth Toledo managed to change the monotony of the long string of goose eggs on the score sheet by making two runs thereby tying the score. Toledo presented Elk city with another cipher in the first half of the tenth inning and made the much needed run in the last half. Following is the score by innings also the lineup of the teams.

Kenneth Raines Palmer Killed.

Last Monday afternoon the little five-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Palmer was killed in Portland by a runaway team. Little Kenneth was a grandson of Mrs. R. F. Raines of Toledo, his mother, who was Miss Burd Raines, having spent her girlhood days with her parents here. The profound sympathy of this entire community is extended to the sorrowing family in their sad bereavement.

Tuesday morning's Oregonian in giving an account of the accident says: Laughing, playing and cooing in the bright sunshine yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock, little 5-year-old Kenneth Raines Palmer of 412 East Everett street, trundled his little "push wagon" down the sidewalk a few yards from the door of his home, and there was stricken with instant death.

He was knocked down and killed by a runaway team and delivery wagon belonging to Olds, Wortman & King. The little child who was killed was the only son of Frank A. Palmer, who conducts a barber shop at 27½ North Second street and who has lived in the neighborhood where he now resides for the past ten years. Little Kenneth was always a dutiful child and when left alone by his mother for a short time yesterday afternoon while she went to do some necessary shopping for the household, he "minded" his mother's parting admonition not to go further away from home than the corner. Their house stands a few doors from the corner of Grand avenue North and East Everett street.

Grief at the shocking death which overtook the manly little fellow is not confined to his parents. The neighbors also feel his loss to a remarkable degree. In more than one sympathetic eye big tears welled up as it learned that little Kenneth, who had been everybody's play-fellow, had been killed. "He was the best child I ever saw," said one red-eyed mother, who lives nearby. "It did not make any difference what his mother told him to do, he did it."

Portland, Or., June 8, 1908.

The great Rose Festival of Portland is now a matter of history. It was easily the most eventful week Portland ever enjoyed. The convention of the Pacific Coast Ad Men's League started at the Commercial Club Monday morning, closing the day with a dinner that was simply perfect.

In the valley around Cove, Oregon their will be produced this year two hundred tons of cherries and five hundred cars of apples. The people there realize that they will need from two hundred and fifty to three hundred people in addition to their local population to pick and pack the cherry crop.

With the election over and with the assurance of a great cherry and berry crop, the people of all Oregon should "get busy" and advertise more than ever before. With its latest addition, the Toledo Development League, the Oregon Development League now has 83 members.
