Night Sweats & Cough.

E. W. Walton, Condr. S. P. Ry., 717 Van Ness St., San Antonio, Tex., writes: "During the summer and fall of 1902, my annoyance from catarrh reached that stage where it was actual misery and developed alarming symptoms, such as a very deep-seated cough, night sweats, and pains in the head and chest. I experimented with several so-called remedies before I finally decided to take a thorough course of Peruna.

"Two of my friends had gone so far as to inform me that the thing for me to do was to resign my position and seek a higher, more congenial climate. Everyone thought I had consumption and I was not expected to live very long.

"Having procured some Peruna, I decided to give it a thorough test and applied myself assiduously to the task of taking it, as per instructions, in the meantime.

"The effects were soon apparent, all alarming symptoms disappeared and my general health became fully as good as it had ever been in my life.

"I have resorted to the use of Peruna on two or three occasions since that time to cure myself of bad colds."

The Brute!

"Wasn't your wife awfully lonesome at that mountain resort while you were spending your time fishing for trout?"

"O, no; she found a place where there was a splendid echo, and she enjoyed nothing better than to go there and carry on a conversation with it by the hour."—Chicago Tribune.

The greatest length of time which any bottle has been known to remain afloat is twenty-one years. A bottle containing a message, which was thrown overboard by an American sea captain off Newfoundland in 1878, was picked up off the west coast of Ireland early in 1899.

When Children Were Made to Smoke

It may seem strange that there was a period in English history when juvenile smoking was enforced officially, but it is nevertheless true. The diarist Hearne, in writing of the Plague of London, says: "Even children were obliged to smoak. And I remember that I heard formerly Tom Rogers, who was yeoman beadle, say that when he was a school boy at Eton that year when the plague raged all the boys of that school were obliged to smoak in the school every morning, and that he was never whipped so much in his life as he was one morning for not smoaking."

The Country's Best Dressed Man.

The best dressed man in the United States, according to the best of authority, is C. S. Eddy, a banker's clerk of Providence, R. I. Eddy possesses some fifty-odd suits. He says that is approximately the number, but really it's too much trouble to count them, you know. There is a suit for each day in a month, suits for social functions, for driving, walking, for almost every special thing a human being can do. Moreover, it is said he is constantly adding to his collection.

The Alphabet.

The great Phoenician alphabet, the parent of every form of European writing and of the scripts of Persia, Arabia and India as well, owes but little to Egypt. It is true that in the construction of their alphabet the Phoenicians made use of certain hieratic characters found in their trade dealings with Egypt, but this fact in no way detracts from the glory of the invention which belongs to the "Yankees of antiquity."—New York American.

The quartz lamp is the latest electric lighting apparatus. It is a mercury-vapor lamp with a quartz tube in a glass globe, and resembles an arc lamp in general appearance. It is to be used as a single lamp at 220 volts, and has a rating of 3,000 candles, consuming 0.25 watt per candle power. Its life is given at 1,000 hours, and an advantage claimed for it is that it is unnecessary to replace any electrodes.

"Not at all, my love," said Mr. Outsome. "Your complexion is a clear, beautiful light brown."

Adding to His Sufferings.

The Doctor—I expected to go out of town next Saturday, as usual, to spend Sunday with my family in the country, but professional duties forbid. The fates are against me.

The Professor—The fates are to blame, are they? Well, it's natural for a weekender to come to a lame conclusion.

Uncertain as Yet.

Borus (struggling author)—All I can tell you about it now, Naggus, is that seven of the magazines are not going to publish it.

HOUSEHOLD TALKS

Hints for Preserving.

The first consideration is a preserving kettle of brass polished until lustrous and with no stain of fruit.

This is the sort of vessel used by the old-fashioned housewife and the jellies of our grandmothers have never been equalled.

Porcelain kettles should be discarded as soon as they commence to crack and tin, iron or pewter should never be used.

The best jelly bag is a long one made of flannel, which is made in a point at the bottom.

This should never be squeezed in order to hasten the dropping or a discoloration of the fruit will result.

In selecting fruit the greatest care should be taken to see that it is not overripe.

Berries that have been picked more than twenty-four hours are too old to make good jellies and preserves.

A cheesecloth bag will be found useful in straining the fruit through the colander.

Jelly glasses without fitted tin or glass tops can be covered by pieces of writing paper.

These pieces should be dipped in the unbeaten whites of an egg and pasted at once over the glass.

Plenty of sugar makes rich and luscious preserves and makes the fruit keep much longer.

To prevent jars from cracking when the hot preserves are poured in them, set on cloths dipped in cold water and partly wrung out.

Electric Kettle.

At the present time cooking by electricity is one of the luxuries of life enjoyed only by the few. Nevertheless, another decade will see its universal adoption, because of the very obvious advantages over coal or gas. A glance at the electric kettle shown in the illustration will give the reader a good idea of the present form of these utensils. The simple manner by which the heat is carried to the kettle to heat the water is apparent. Within the kettle is a chamber for the reception of electric heating coils, power being obtained by connection with a convenient incandescent burner. The total absence of dirt or dust instantly recommends electric cooking to every housewife.

ELECTRIC KETTLE.

Pickled Walnuts.

These must be picked when tender enough to be pierced with needle. Cover with very strong brine; keep the nuts in this for three days; drain and recover with brine. At the end of three days drain again and leave in fresh, cold water for six hours. Bring to a boil a gallon of vinegar in which you put a cup of sugar, two tablespoons each of whole peppers and cloves, one tablespoon allspice and eight blades of mace. Boil for ten minutes, put the nuts in a crock and pour the boiling vinegar over them. At the end of three days drain off vinegar, bring it to the boil again and pour back of the nuts. Cover and season for six weeks before eating.

Maple Blanc Mange.

A delicious sweet, and, if properly chilled, a substitute for ice cream. In a double boiler heat one quart of sweet milk, thicken with four heaping tablespoons of corn starch, moistened with just enough cold milk to dissolve it. Stir until smooth and thick, adding gradually a cup of very thick, real maple sirup. Do not add all the sirup at once, and stir continually. If you have no good maple sirup at hand, buy maple sugar and boil it down until it is thick, almost ropy. When the mixture is almost stiff, pour into a mold, dipped into cold water. When ice cold, turn out, and serve with whipped cream.

Molasses Candy.

Half gallon of West India molasses, one pound of sugar, quarter of a pound of butter. Boil for three hours, and just before the candy is done add the juice of a lemon. Try some by cooling it on a plate to see if it is sufficiently stiff. Pull as for sugar candy for half an hour. A little vinegar on the hands will make the taffy crisp. It should be a light yellow color when pulled.

A Cooling Dessert.

For a plain ice which is the basis of all ices, boil a cupful of sugar and two cupfuls of water to a smooth sirup; add fruit juice or lemon, or both; strain, cool, add two egg whites, unbeaten, and freeze. A little lemon juice is always really necessary, with other fruits to bring out the flavor.

S.S.S. BEST TREATMENT FOR CATARRH

The entire inner portion of our bodies is covered with a soft, delicate lining called mucous membrane; this is kept in healthy condition by the nourishment and vital vigor it receives from the blood. So long as the circulation remains pure this membrane will be healthy, but when the blood becomes infected with catarrhal impurities and poisons this inner lining of the body becomes irritated and diseased, and the unpleasant and serious symptoms of Catarrh commence. There is a tight, stuffy feeling in the nose, watery eyes, buzzing noises in the ears, often slight deafness, difficult breathing, etc. The disease cannot be reached by external treatment, though such measures afford temporary relief in some instances. S. S. S. cures Catarrh by cleansing the blood of all impurities and poisons. Then as rich, pure blood circulates through the body, the inflamed, irritated membranes heal, the discharge ceases, headaches are relieved and every symptom disappears. Catarrh, being a disease in which the entire blood circulation is affected, can only be cured by a remedy that goes to the very bottom and removes every particle of the impurity from the blood, and this is just what S. S. S. does. Book on Catarrh and any medical advice free to all who write.

A Boy on Clergymen.

Bishop Potter, at an ecclesiastical dinner in New York, read a Cooperstown school boy's essay on Clergymen. The essay, which created much amusement, was as follows:

"There are 3 kinds of clergymen bishups rectors and curats. the bishups tell the recters to work and the curats have to do it. A curate is a thin married man but when he is a recter he gets fuller and can preach longer sermons and becums a good man."

White Peril in the East.

The "white peril" is as threatening to the East as the "yellow danger" is to the West. China and Japan should agree to stop the Europeans and the Americans from cornering the whole of the industrial and commercial markets in the far East.—The Taiyo, Tokio.

Illiteracy in the United States.

A study of the United States report on illiteracy reveals some interesting items. Iowa heads the list with only 23 illiterates to each thousand population, Louisiana at the other end of the list with 385 to each thousand. No State with compulsory education has more than 84 illiterates to the thousand. The eighteen States without compulsory education laws have from 111 to 385 illiterates to each thousand of population.

The General Demand of the Well-Informed of the World has always been for a simple, pleasant and efficient liquid laxative remedy of known value; a laxative which physicians could sanction for family use because its component parts are known to them to be wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, acceptable to the system and gentle, yet prompt, in action.

In supplying that demand with its excellent combination of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, the California Fig Syrup Co. proceeds along ethical lines and relies on the merits of the laxative for its remarkable success.

That is one of many reasons why Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is given the preference by the Well-Informed. To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only, and for sale by all leading druggists. Price fifty cents per bottle.
