Registration reopens Sept. 20.
Closes for election Oct. 20.
Presidential election Nov. 3.

The apple fair to be held at Albany November 10, 11 and 12 promises to be the biggest affair of the kind ever held in that city. Growers from all over the country are preparing exhibits.

When the Siletz railroad is built every acre of agricultural land in that valley will be put under cultivation. At present there is not more than one-tenth of this fertile land bringing in any returns to its owner. Thousands of men will be at work in the timber, sawmills running and the Siletz country will then be the liveliest spot in this whole northwest country.

On the first page of this paper will be found a reproduction of the ballot to be voted next Tuesday. All Republicans and many Democrats will do the right thing by marking their ballot as this one is market next Tuesday. Put your cross where you see the heavy crosses in this ballot and you will vote for the continuation of prosperity.

Lincoln County Exhibit is Attracting Attention.

Eight apples measuring 40 inches; beets and mangolds weighing over twenty pounds each; rye 11 feet high; potatoes weighing 1 1/4 pounds; squash 65 pounds; barley, millet and oats, to say nothing of coal samples from a vein three feet wide near Yaquina, are some of the exhibits from the Lincoln County Fair held last week in Toledo on display at the store of Sig Sichel, on Third street opposite the Chamber of Commerce. These exhibits were acquired by Colonel Frank J. Parker who visited the fair last week, and he telegraphed William McMurray, of the Southern Pacific, with the idea that the "Land of Nod" was wide awake. He received the reply to send the products of Lincoln County along, which was accordingly done. A stand was built in the window and since the curtain was withdrawn big crowds have assembled day and night around the display.

A very handsome and well gotten up booklet issued by the Southern Pacific, devoted exclusively to Lincoln county, is issued free to all applicants, and to show the interest in Lincoln county Mr. Sichel says that nearly one thousand have been distributed. The exhibit is well worth seeing, and shows that the articles in the Oregonian and elsewhere have borne fruit and that a new era is dawning in Lincoln county. With a railroad running from east to west clear to the Pacific ocean, land to be acquired for a mere nominal sum, soil productive beyond belief, no irrigation required no insect pests to annoy the fruit-raiser, no malaria and a climate where health reigns supreme, green fields the year around, where berries and small fruits do well, the country has been backward. In the mean time adjoining counties, with no railroads are rich, yet have not one-half the advantages of Lincoln county, which tends to prove the truth of that old adage that "success depends more upon the people than upon the country."

This may be explained to a great degree by the fact that for the last quarter of a century the lands have been tied up by the railroad land grant, but that being now a thing of the past, there is both railroad and government land to be had for a nominal sum and the mere settlement and compliance with the United States land laws. With the tide flowing 20 miles inland, and a harbor that ships can enter and go out with 1,500,000 feet of lumber, any representative and industrious citizen can in a few short years acquire a good home that will double and treble in value in a few short years. Irrigation, with all the trouble and expense attached is unknown in Lincoln county. The people are generous and hospital to a fault, and welcome newcomers enthusiastically. The exhibit as above described will tell the tale stronger than words.—Oregonian.

Special Correspondence

"The Fruit Grower" of St. Joseph, Missouri, has just issued a Homeseekers' Edition, which contains an extended report from all the fruit growing districts of the West, and no one state receives as much attention as Oregon. There is page after page of illustration and text, and every part of the state is given prominence. In fact Oregon probably gets more attention than any other two states. This is true because the state is better organized, doing better advertising, has more good pictures and has learned how to present its resources and attractions better than any other state in the Union.

No more beautiful publication has been issued in Oregon than the one just from the press which gives most graphically the resources and attractions of Lincoln county. It is issued jointly by the commercial bodies of Newport, Toledo, Elk City and Waldport, and its central illustration is a bathing scene at Newport—the beach there is unexcelled on the Pacific Coast.

The great draw bridge across the Willamette river, built jointly by the Great Northern and Northern Pacific Railways and having the largest draw span of any bridge in the world, is a success. Work trains testing the bridge have passed to and fro for several days.

Producers of fine fruits throughout the Northwest, and particularly those of Oregon, fully appreciate the help they are receiving from Portland merchants, who give up their show windows for a display of these products. Exhibits from Mosier and Lincoln county, Oregon, and Lewiston, Idaho have attracted much attention the past week.
