Morgan Allen of Elk City was a Toledo visitor Monday.

James Kent of Waldport was a Toledo visitor this week.

W. G. Sharman was a Valleyward passenger Tuesday morning.

Newt Guilliams of Beaver Creek was a Toledo visitor Wednesday.

Dr. Burgess returned from a trip to Portland the first of the week.

Assessor and Mrs. Walter E. Ball returned home from a trip to Portland Tuesday.

Capt. Jacobson of Newport passed through Monday evening enroute home from the Valley.

Warren Hail of Siletz passed through to Newport Tuesday evening returning yesterday morning.

Al Waugh and family arrived Tuesday evening from Lewiston, Idaho, for a visit among relatives and old friends.

W. N. Thompson of Waldport was a county seat visitor Saturday and Sunday. He left Monday for a trip to the Valley.

The football game at Newport yesterday was won by the Toledo boys by a score of 5 to 10. We will give the particulars next week.

Miss Flora Stanton returned Saturday evening from Cle Elm, Washington, where she has been working as telegraph operator, for a week's visit. She will go to California for a visit.

Petty thieves have been operating in Toledo lately. Many have reported loss of chickens, canned fruits, etc. We hope the sneaks will soon be filled with lead so that we can publish their names.

Samuel Center returned Friday from a three months' visit at his old home in New Hampshire, where he went for the benefit of his health. We are glad to note that his health has been greatly improved.

Several young ladies from Toledo were Elk City visitors Saturday to witness the football game. They were, Lena Ball, Alma Waugh, Tillie Crosno, Aileen and Annie Hawkins, Esther Copeland, and Sophia Logan.

G. R. Schenck & Co. have torn down the two old buildings south of the City Meat Market and will erect an office building. The Lincoln County Land & Abstract Co., Miss Sara Crahen manager, will have offices in the building.

The crowd that witnessed the football game between the University of Oregon and Oregon Agricultural teams at Portland last Saturday was the largest that ever assembled on Multnomah field. The gate receipts were more than $8000.

Bert Sawdon returned Friday evening from Spokane, Washington, where he holds a position in the office a large asphaltum company. In order to avoid the cold winter he will remain here for a month or two. We are glad to learn that Bert has a high standing with the company and that he is in line for rapid promotion.

Fir & Spruce Will Saw.

The Fir & Spruce Lumber company will begin operating their sawmill at Toledo on or before the first of the year. A crew of men under J. G. Plank is now building a dyke along the bank of the slough to keep the water out of the yard and mill, and work of putting the mill in order to begin sawing will probably begin in a few days.

The extent of the operations of the company at present we are unable to learn, but that the mill will begin sawing there is no question.

This is indeed good news to our people, as it means that every working man in the community will find employment and many more will come from other places.

Elk City Items.

J. C. Dixon, the Elk City merchant, returned from a business trip at Portland the last of the week.

T. J. Smith went Valleyward the first of the week for a few day's visit.

Bill Simpson came down Big Elk Friday evening and remained over Sunday.

Mrs. C. P. Bevens shipped a large number of fine turkeys to Portland this morning.

Several parties are in this vicinity looking for homes in the coast hills. A. F. Strafer's place was sold to J. N. Brown from Eastern Oregon.

A. Snyder, of the Minneapolis firm who now hold the land grant land, was in looking over their belongings. He informs us they mean business, and are going to do business.

Saturday night club dances are well attended and Elk City must build a larger hall to accommodate the increasing population.

Trout fishing is in full swim now, 75 to 100 is just a fair catch, and the river is full of salmon. Supt. Parks at the Hatchery has put on extra help. New Salmon just fresh from the Ocean are at the racks in large numbers. Yesterday's take was about half Chinook.

The football game between Elk City and Toledo Saturday was a warm one well played by both sides and finished without a score. Several came up from Toledo in spite of a heavy dounpour of rain.

Elk City's Sawmill is idle for a few days. A broken saw sent Mr. Enos to Portland in search of a new one, but the boom is full of logs for business on his return.

Three of our enterprising youngsters went down to Rocky Bar to fish by a bonfire. They failed to return, and toward the small hours of the night fathers and mothers commenced to alarm the town for a search, when the lads made their appearance with a large wild cat. Jack was out after wood and was run into the camp by the cat, and reported a bear. Mort made the attack with an oar and was run into the river. Lester attacked from the rear with a club and with the assistance of Jack they captured the cat. It is a large cat and must have put up a good fight. As the boys don't like to be interviewed on this battle we cannot give the exact facts.

Mr. C. B. Graves has sold his timber to Sharp and Allen. It will be logged off as fast as possible. Mr. Graves proposes to put the land in pasture. It is only a matter of time when we will see grass in place of brush and fern on these coast hills.

WANTED—Men to cut cord wood on the George Lewis place. Must batch. Good house.

JOHN MARGSON, Winant, Or.

Miss Mary Ewing went to Newport Tuesday evening returning Wednesday morning.

Renus Arnold and Arthur Nye returned Monday evening from their trip to Portland. Chauncey Hawkins and George McCluskey staying over until Tuesday.

Last Saturday Sheriff Ross arrested S. C. Chace for selling liquor to an Indian. In the afternoon he was arraigned in Squire M. N. Anderson's court, and plead not guilty, but later changed the plea to guilty. The Court fined him $50 and costs.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Gray and little daughter, Florence, passed through last Friday evening to their home at Newport, on their return from an extended visit in New York and other Eastern states. They have been away since early Summer, and report a most enjoyable trip.

Last Sunday afternoon F. M. Stanton's team became frightened at the corner of Graham and Fourth streets and started to run. Mr. Stanton succeeded in turning the team off the planking near the City Hall, just before descending the steepest part of the hill, and forced them to run through the mud which checked their speed somewhat.

When they struck the planking on Hill street they were still going at such speed Mr. Stanton knew that to attempt to turn them then would mean a smash up as the horses would be unable to keep their feet, so he kept them straight down the hill to the depot grounds where he succeeded in stopping them. Mr. Stanton, who is over 70 years of age, could give many a younger man pointers on how to handle a team, even in a runaway.

A brother publisher acknowledges receipt of the following letter. In which the writer gives his reasons for stopping his paper.

'Dear Sir—I hereby offer mi resignashun as a subscriber tew your papur, it being a pamphlet of such knonsense as not two benefit mi fambly by taking it. What you ned in your sheet is branes & sum 1 tew russel up knews and write up eddytorials on live topieks. No mensnun has been maid in yure sheet about me a butchering a polan china Pig waying 300 pounds or ov the Gaps in the chicken out this way. Yew ignore the fact that i bot a bran nu bob sled and traded mi blind mule and say nothing about High simkin's jersey calf brakin his 2 front legs fallin down a well. 2 important sheveres has been utterly ignored by yur shete and a two colum obichuary notice which i writ on the deth of grandpa hennery was left entirely out ov yur shete to say nuthin of the Alfabettical pome beginin 'A is for Andy, also for ark,' writ by mi darter. This is the reson yur papur is so onpopular hear, if yt don't want any edytorrials from this plase and aint agoin ter put any knews in yer sheete. We don't want sed sheete.

P. S.—If yur a mind to print the obichuary in yure papur next, I might sign again for youre papur.

A Scoreless Game.

The football game at Elk City last Saturday was by far the most interesting game of the season, as either side was unable to score. While Elk City was short on junior players and played four of the first team in their lineup, Toledo boys' superior playing more than equaled the advantage in weight which the Elk City boys had. Several times Toledo came near scoring while Elk City never became at all dangerous, excepting once toward the end of the latter half. In the second half, Toledo, by putting up a strong interference managed to break through Elk City's line for a touchdown. After the shouting had subsided the umpire decided that the ball had been carried over the side line, so the boys had to bring the ball back and try it all over again. It is thought by many that the umpire became confused and got the man with the ball and his infereence mixed as they were dressed alike and the infereence crossed over and ran on the out side. Any how it was a very good game and no one was killed, although Elper Horning was hurt and had to be taken out of the game, Woods was laid up for a few minutes but was able to finish the game. We can give no player especial praise as all played for all they were worth and did their parts well.

Following is the lineup.

TOLEDO		ELK CITY
Hoelein	c	Randall
McJunkin	rg	Hodges
Robb C	lg	Gillespie
Day	rt	Oulds
Robb A	lt	Ramsdell
Horning-Plank	re	Enos
Hawkins	le	Wood R
Gildersleeve	q	Rochester
Horning B	lh	Graves
Ofstedahl	rh	Wood C
Sturdevant	fb	Pepin
Paul Reeves and Fay Plank subs. for Toledo.

A. H. Weber referee, C. L. Knapp umpire, J. W. Willson timekeeper, C. K. Crosno and Bert Sawdon linemen.

Waldport Items.

The Brass Quartet at the church last Sunday sounded fine and seemed to be appreciated.

Rev. Guyn is preaching some mighty good sermons, and we think by the large attendance that the people are getting interested.

Mr. Austin Hoover moved his family to Waldport on Monday in order to send his children to school. In the spring he will build on a tract of land he has bought of Mr. J. H. Glines.

We had a two night moving picture/show last week. Waldport is surely "going some" when we can have two shows and two dances in one week.

The new boiler for the planer and box factory is in place, and the Condor on her next trip will bring a new boiler for the sawmill. The pilerdriver crew is still busy enlarging the log boom, and the Mill Company also has a crew working on skid roads and chutes for logs and shingle bolts. This looks like business and plenty of work in the future.

At the Thanksgiving dance at Newport last night Miss Sophia Logan and Will Hoelein, both of Toledo, won the prizes as the best waltzers.
