We have had a number of inquiries as to our Magazine Section. We had the December number all ready to mail when we received word from the Postoffice Department informing us that we could not mail the magazine section along with the regular paper so we still have the December number on our hands. We are sorry to disappoint our readers but it really cannot be helped.

As usual, we were not favored with the snow that fell in the Willamette and other sections of the state the first of this week. Our neighbors at Albany remembered us and shipped in a car loaded with "the beautiful," to remind us of our boyhood days back in frozen Nebraska and Missouri. We were not made homesick, but it did make us more thankful that we are now living in a place where snow is so very rare. Later—We take it all back. It snowed an inch last night.

The international tuberculosis exhibition which was first brought together at great expense during the recent congress of experts at Washington, has now been moved to the Museum of Natural History at New York for the benefit of the people of that city, Mayor McClellan and prominent charity workers taking part in the opening exercise. The city had been placarded with elaborate advertisements, the double red cross being used as a symbol of the fight. Millions of pamphlets had also been sent out. Some of the ads bear statements like this: Every three minutes some one dies of consumption in this country; war kills its thousands, tuberculosis its hundreds of thousands; there were more deaths from consumption last year than have occurred from yellow fever in 115 years. In the exhibition hall a large sign bearing the census figures to the effect that one person dies every two minutes and 36 seconds, will be equipped with a red electric light which will flash every two minutes and thirty-six seconds to indicate another death from the plague against which the fight is being waged.

The Portland Commercial Club has introduced a novel feature that should be adopted by every community in Oregon. It is the appointment of a Newcomers' Special Committee, and that committee held its first meeting Saturday, outlining a plan to be carried on throughout the entire year which will result in giving each and every newcomer the "glad hand."

The apples of the Pacific Northwest are the subject of an extended article in a recent issue of the Saturday Evening Post—this attractive presentation of the fruit industries to about five millions of people is a recognition much appreciated by Oregon and Washington.

Oregon Grape was the chief decoration in historic old Plymouth Church in Brooklyn, New York, on Christmas Day, and Oregon's state flower was deserving of a place of honor in the church made famous by one of the greatest of all Americans, Henry Ward Beecher.

1908 will go down in history as the greatest year Oregon ever enjoyed, and the numerous New Year and holiday editions of the newspapers of the state will carry the story of this progress to thousands of Eastern people.

During the blizzards reported from various sections of the country the hospital climate of Oregon is especially appreciated by dwellers in the "Beaver State."

You have more to do with making it a happy and prosperous New Year than anybody else. Let your first resolve be that during 1909 you will add one new citizen to the population of Oregon.
