THE GOLDEN RULE.

Chinese Statesman Says All Are Welcome to Preach It in China.
The Chinese ambassador to this country, Wu Ting Fang, surprised his hearers the other night when, in speaking before a meeting in New York to further Presbyterian missions in China, he said:

"The Golden Rule is the best rule we can preserve. It was stated negatively 25 centuries ago by Confucius and still holds good. If we observe it we can do no wrong and justice will prevail. I hold to this view: If any one—Presbyterian, Episcopalian, Methodist, Unitarian or Roman Catholic, or Jew, or Buddhist, or Confucian, or Mohammed-dan—holds a church or mission or does good work for the benefit of mankind, especially for my countrymen, I think I ought to give to him my humble support. There may be adverse criticism, but I don't care. I'll do what I consider right. I am in this country to act for my people and I welcome assistance, not only from my government and your government, but from my people and your people."

"In this mission school you are carrying out a tenet of Confucius, that all people should be educated and benefited, without regard to race, creed or color. In China we tolerate all religions, although our national creed is Confucianism.
"The Chinese do not object to your missionaries, because they urge Chinese to embrace Christianity, and Christianity teaches them to become better. The trouble is that now and then persons who become converts commit some offense, are arrested and then tell the missionaries they have been arrested on account of their religion. The missionaries believe them, take their part and undertake their defense.
"This is the twentieth century, an age of service in all countries. I am glad to see so many movements like this mission. I am glad, too, to see that my countrymen are receiving better treatment in all parts of this country."

FLASHES OF FUN

"He's a sociologist, isn't he?" "I should say he is. He can entertain a whole room full of company."—Detroit Free Press.
"That prince didn't pay his hotel bill." "Must be a bogus prince." "That doesn't necessarily follow."—Louisville Courier-Journal.
Robbins—I didn't think you had any idea of marrying the widow. Newlywed—I hadn't; it was an idea of hers.
—Saturday Sunset.
Mrs. Jawback—Do you know I came very near not marrying you? Mr. Jaw-back—Sure—but who told you about it?
—Cleveland Leader.
"I live in a state where there are absolutely no divorces." "Indeed! What State is that?" "The state of single blessedness."—The Tatler.
"A young man has telegraphed me that he has just wedded my daughter."
"I hope he's a good, practical man."
"I guess he is. He wired me collect."— Louisville Courier-Journal.
Celestine—And has Mr. Pryor's church such a small congregation? Hilda—Yes, indeed. Every time he says "Dearly beloved" you feel as if you had received a proposal.—The Bohemian.
Tom—Belle is a strange girl. She doesn't know the names of some of her best friends. Maud—That's nothing.
Why, I don't even know what my own will be a year from now.—Boston Transcript.
Employer—Why were you discharged from your last place? Applicant—For good behavior. Employer—What do you mean by that? Applicant—They took three months off my sentence.— Cleveland Leader.
Miss Knox—What was it you said about Miss Giddy? Mr. Goodley—I said her age surprised me greatly. She doesn't look thirty, does she? Miss Knox—No, not now. I suppose she did, though, at one time.—Stray Stories.
Lady—I've been expecting a packet of medicine by post for a week and I haven't received it yet. Postoffice Clerk —Yes, madam. Kindly fill in this form and state the nature of your complaint. Lady—Well, if you must know, it's biliousness.—London Punch.
Goodart—You didn't actually tell him that I didn't think him much of a poet?
Wiseman—Sure. Goodart—Oh! I wouldn't have had you do that for the world.—Wiseman—Nonsense. That doesn't hurt him. It only makes him pity you.—Catholic Standard and Times.
"We find the prisoner not guilty by reason of insanity." "But the plea was not that of insanity," remarked the court. "That's just the point we made," rejoined the foreman. "We decided that any man who didn't have sense enough to know that an insanity plea was the proper caper must be crazy."—Philladel-phia Ledger.
