A Story of Two Cubs

Home they brought her warrior dead—no not quite that, but when the tale of the capture of two ferocious cub bears by the intrepid Riley Smith, Redding's own Riley—there is only one, has been told in song and story the timber locators name will be as well known to the reading public as his successful business methods are known to his competitors.

Four days ago Riley, accompanied by four prominent business men of Toledo, Oregon, journeyed into far Western Shasta and Easter Trinity and after the business of the trip was completed our townsman, desiring to show those webfooters how to catch a bar, scented a tree, in which mother bruin and two cubs were finishing their winter residence.

At the sight of Riley the bear scraped rocks on the hillside in an effort to get away from the man behind the Gatling; all bars know Riley and ma succeeded. Not so the children. Riley and one of his friends shinned the tree and the argument with those two varmints is best told by an ocular demonstration which Riley will subject his hands to.

Riley's hair stood on end, leastwise it would have done so had not that priceless toupee stuck so close, but what cared Riley, he landed the youngsters and what is more to the point brought them as far as Kiessling's road house, where he made a sale to the enterprising Ed.

This bear story is one that is not in the usual category of bear, snake or fish stories and the good-natured Hoo-Hoo will run a Marathon if what is here related is not as true as the gospel of John, and the scribe will hold the stakes.—Redding Courier-Press.

Well, now! When first our eagle eye caught the above article we must confess that we were greatly shocked to learn of the action of our boys when away from home. We know people will act strange sometimes when in a strange place but as these men are known for their prowess and nerve when after game, we were startled to think any of them would take a back seat for anybody in capturing game. The four prominent business men spoken of in the article were R. A. Arnold, R. N. Warnock, Warren Hall and Claus Christiansen. We immediately rang up Warren—he is the truthful one of that bunch—and learned the truth of the kidnapping story and here it is:

It was the invincible Bob Warnock, not Riley Smith, that found, crawled into the den, captured, and packed these self same bear to civilization. Riley Smith, "Redding's own Riley—the only one" was discovered, after the excitement of capturing the poor, little, helpless baby bear had died away, to be running around in a circle, yelling at the top of his voice, "Which way shall I run, Warnock." And to further show Riley's excitement or fear, he was carrying the pack containing the provisions for the outfit, which he dropped when running away from danger, and it took the boys several hours' search to find it again.

Bob sold the cubs to a rancher a few miles out of Redding.

OBJECT TO STRONG MEDICINES.

Many people object to taking the strong medicines usually prescribed by physicians for rheumatism. There is no need of internal treatment in any case of muscular or chronic rheumatism, and more than nine out of every ten cases of the disease are of one or the other of these varieties. When there is no fever and little (if any) swelling, you may know that it is only necessary to apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely to get quick relief. Try it. For sale by TOLEDO DRUG CO.

Strong Healthy Women

If a woman is strong and healthy in a womanly way, motherhood means to her but little suffering. The trouble lies in the fact that the many women suffer from weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organism and are unfitted for motherhood. This can be remedied.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Cures the weaknesses and disorders of women. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs concerned in motherhood, making them healthy, strong, vigorous, virile and elastic.

"Favorite Prescription" banishes the indispositions of the period of expectancy and makes baby's advent easy and almost painless. It quickens and vitalizes the feminine organs, and insures a healthy and robust baby. Thousands of women have testified to its marvelous merits.
It Makes Weak Women Strong. It Makes Sick Women Well.
Honest druggists do not offer substitutes, and urge them upon you as "just as good." Accept no secret nostrum in place of this non-secret remedy. It contains not a drop of alcohol and not a grain of habit-forming or injurious drugs. Is a pure glyceric extract of healing, native American roots.

BEST TREATMENT FOR COLDS

"Most ordinary colds will yield to the simplest treatment," says the Chicago Tribune, "moderate laxatives, hot foot baths, a free perspiration and an avoidance of exposure to cold and wet after treatment." While this treatment is simple, it requires considerable trouble, and the one adopting it must remain in doors for a day or two or a fresh cold is almost sure to be contracted, and in many instances pneumonia follows. Is it not better to pin your faith to an old reliable preparation like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, that is famous for its cures of colds and can always be depended upon? For sale by TOLEDO DRUG CO.
