Chitwood Chips.

Mrs. R. R. Wood and daughter, Nora, and son, Leland, returned home from Corvallis last Monday. Miss Nora has been in Corvallis under the doctor's care for several weeks on account of an injury caused by a fall several years since. She came home apparently well. A few days ago Leland fell and dislocated his arm at the elbow. His mother and brother, Charley, set the joint and it seemed alright for a while, but soon began to swell and become stiff, so Mrs. Wood took him to a doctor in Corvallis who said the joint was all right but was badly bruised. He is now getting along nicely. Some weeks ago Charley Woods accidentally cut his leg on the knee cap and it is giving considerable trouble. It seems that the Wood family is having more than its share of affliction, but "the wheel of fate is sure to turn."

H. M. Chitwood, the new real estate man of Toledo, was visiting relatives at Chitwood last Monday.

J. E. Wilson killed a large wild cat the other day. It had been killing some of his fine lambs, so Joe layed for him and got him in a trap. When he went to skin the brute he found it was as fat as a hog, so he saved about a pint of the oil.

Mrs. J. E. Wilson is hatching out a lot of fine White Leghorn chicks of pedigree stock. She also has a fine lot of pure blood Langshans.

E. A. Wildman and R. R. Wilson went to Toledo on a land contest case Tuesday.

W. N. Cook is planting potatoes. He says he intends raising all they can eat this year, anyway. He was down to Elk City Sunday, and Mrs. Cook went to visit Mrs. Jacobson.

Mrs. Jacobson is in deep grief over the misconduct of her son, who was taken to Portland by a United States officer last week.

Rev. Demmorenas of the Lutheran church came in on Monday's train, bringing his wife's mother with him. He has a homestead over on Siletz.

John Q. Adams is receiving a large number of letters in answer to his ad in the Journal. Guess he has a buyer.

Wm. Curtis of Tidewater was over visiting and on business combined last week. He bought a pony of J. E. Wilson and returned home happy.

S. G. Irvin, county fruit inspector, was up to Chitwood a few days ago and attended a lively fruit growers' meeting held at Pepin's Hall, Hon. Dave Ramsdall of Elk City, presiding. Johnny McCluskey of Toledo was also in attendance.

List your property with Davis and Corgan. Ofstedahl Bldg. Toledo, Oregon.
