The parents who were in attendance report a very pleasant afternoon.

The people of Upper North Beaver are preparing to celebrate the Fourth of July with a picnic and barbecue.

Olalla

These are happy days to the ranchers around here. The our city friends think they would not care to live out here in the mountains, yet we may be sure that our "fresh air and scenery" will be fully appreciated by them during the warm months. Our delightful climate makes up for a multitude of drawbacks. It is fine sport for our city cousins to come about haying time and see them act the part of "Maud Muller" in the hay field, and, by the way, help the old folks along.

Miss Carrie Day arrived the 25th from Portland and will make an extended visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Day.

Mrs. Seth Row expects to meet a niece from near Eugene July 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Alden Dickinson have moved to their homestead, and have a pretty place with their cottage near a babbling brook. Mr.

Cummins from Toledo is helping Mr. Dickinson get his homestead fixed up comfortable.

New families are coming into these mountains and are fitting up deserted places, and will make things more lively and fill our schoolhouses—no doubt.

S. A. Seits of Denzer, this county, was in Toledo Saturday.

W. E. Kisor of Newport has been a Toledo visitor this week.

A. T. Peterson was a Portland visitor the first of the week.

County Clerk Ira Wade was a visitor to the Valley this week.

A. W. Morgan went to Portland Sunday returning home Tuesday.

E. H. Vader, the Norton's merchant, was a Corvallis visitor Saturday.

William Towner returned Wednesday evening from a visit to Coos county.

Fine bay team 3000 lbs., good and true, 10 and 12 years old. A snap at $300. See North at Toledo.

Mrs. John Larson and children arrived from Portland Tuesday evening for a visit with her mother Mrs. J. G. Johnson.

R. J. Davis of Siletz had business in the county seat Tuesday. He visited Elk City Wednesday returning to Siletz yesterday.

John Peterson went to Albany Tuesday to take the examination preparatory to accepting the position as station agent at Summit.

Jim J. Derby of Siletz made final proof on his homestead before County Clerk Ira Wade Monday. Jesse Reeder and Clayton Pond were his witnesses.

Fred and Jesse Taylor arrived Friday evening from Winlock, Washington, and will remain in this county, making their home with their father on the homestead at Siletz.

L. J. Richards returned this week from an extended visit in the East. He will go over to his homestead on Siletz. Mr. Richards expresses himself glad to get back to Lincoln county.

Manager R. E. Gaar of the Lincoln County Telephone Company, has moved the central office into the Schenk building, in the room recently vacated by H. M. Chitwood's real estate office.

After waiting, working and fighting for seven long years, S. A. Pruett received his patent to his homestead on the Siletz last Tuesday evening. This is indeed good for Mr. Pruett, who was entitled to his land a long time ago, it is also encouraging news to many homesteaders on the Siletz, as it shows the government is finally waking up and taking action on these claims.

Mrs. K. Rayburn arrived last Saturday evening from Corvallis for a visit with her son, George Bethers, and family.

The Misses Ball returned home Tuesday from a visit to their old home at Kernville.

John Finley returned Wednesday afternoon from Waldport where he had been working for L. Southworth for the past two months.

Elk City 16; Siletz 8.

Elk City and Siletz baseball teams had another round on the Toledo grounds last Sunday. Elk City carried off the game by the magnificent score of 16 to 8. It began to rain before the game started and the speed and number of the raindrops increased as the game progressed. The boys did well considering the wet ball and the mud.
