

Bad Breath

"For months I had great trouble with my stomach and used all kinds of medicines. My tongue has been actually as green as grass, my breath having a bad odor. Two weeks ago a friend recommended Cascarets and after using them I can willingly and cheerfully say that they have entirely cured me. I therefore let you know that I shall recommend them to any one suffering from such troubles."—Chas. H. Halpern, 114 E. 7th St., New York, N. Y.

Confidence Game.

Man With the Bulging Brow—What are you scowling about?

Man With the Bulbous Nose—I'd like to punch your head for you. You told me I ought to read "Referees of a Bachelor." I got it at the public library and put in an hour or two trying to read it and there ain't the first blamed word in the book, from first to last, about prize fighting!

Standing Up for Him.

"Miriam, isn't that young Ferguson coming to our house pretty often now?"

"I suppose he is, mamma."

"Do you know anything about him? What is he worth, for instance?"

"Well, he's worth any dozen of the ordinary young men of my acquaintance."

"Yes, but—"

"And he's worth $100 a week to the firm he works for—even if he does get only $25 now."—Chicago Tribune.

Extensive beds of lobsters are to be planted soon in the waters of the British Columbia, and it is expected that in four or five years the lobster-taking industry will be established on a large scale.

When lovely woman writes a story

Covering 700 pages,
She fills it full of love and glory
And sends it thundering down the ages.
—Chicago Tribune.

Of the races of the world 800,000,000 are white, 700,000,000 yellow, 215,000,000 black, 35,000,000 brown, or Malayan, and 15,000,000 red, or North and South American Indians.

He Was Proud of Her.

The Grocer—I hear your wife supports the family by taking in washing, Uncle Rastus. Is it true?

Uncle Rastus—Yessah; dat's wot it am, sah.

The Grocer—Well, don't you feel just a little bit ashamed of it?

Uncle Rastus—'Shamed? No sah; dere's nuffin' degradin' erbout washin', sah. Ah's proud ob de old woman, 'deed Ah is.

Leaked Out.

"Belinda, what is to be the subject of your graduating essay?"

"It's going to be something entirely new. Nobody has ever written one like it before?"

"What is the title of it?"

"I'll tell you if you won't mention it to a living soul. It's 'Beyond Lake Michigan Lies St. Joe.'"—Chicago Tribune.

The Ultimate Consumer.

"Now here," said the man in authority at the public library, "is a rare old book that cost us $250, and we were glad to get it even at that."

"Shade of John Gutenberg!" exclaimed the frequent visitor. "Does anybody ever want to look at it?"

"No."

"Then what satisfaction is there in having it on hand?"

"O, well, perhaps a hundred years from now some antiquarian will find it here and will be half tickled to death to look it over."—Chicago Tribune.

A Most Important Crop.

"How do you desire to be uplifted?" is the question a writer in the New York Sun puts into the mouth of the commissioner at the farmer's door.

"Wal," replies Farmer Hayrick, "ye might start in by growing a better class of city boarders."—Youth's Companion.

Germany used two and one-quarter million tons of potatoes yearly in the manufacture of alcohol, and only 350,000 tons of grain for the same purpose.

ROYAL TWINS ARE INTERESTING

YOUNGER HESSE TWINS.

Hesse twins, born May 1, 1901, are the children of Prince Frederick Charles of Hesse and his wife, who is the youngest sister of the German emperor. The elder boys, also Hesse twins, were born Nov. 6, 1896, and their names are Philip and Wolfgang. There

Frederick Victor, the Hohenzollern twins, were born Aug. 30, 1891, and are the sons of Prince William of Hohenzollern and Princess Marie Therese of Bourbon-Sicily. The boys are not the same height, but otherwise are much alike.

Dogs to Match.

The late Dowager Empress of China was the most powerful personage of the day, yet between the lines of a recent imperial edict a delightfully feminine bias is easily discoverable.

Her majesty, who was the supreme authority on the standard qualifications of the little Pekinese spaniel, which is exclusively reserved for imperial use, gave an order thus:

"For the color, let it be like that of a lion, a sable-gold, to be carried in the sleeves of a golden robe, or the color of a red or of a black bear, or white, or striped like a dragon, so that there may be a dog appropriate to every costume."

"He's a Brick."

The phrase "he's a brick," originated from an Eastern ruler, who, while visiting a neighboring principality, asked his host to show him the fortifications. Waving his hand toward his troops, which were drawn up in soldierly array, the Prince said to his guest, "These are my fortifications; every man is a brick."

Some men are so full of conceit that they constitute a parade when walking by themselves.

There are few women who don't pass around apologies for their refreshments.
