Waldport.

Eugene Williams of Newport spent one day last week visiting Waldport friends.

Mrs. O. V. Hurt, who has been sick several weeks, was well enough to travel as far as Yaquina last Tuesday.

Manager Hill of the lumber company returned on the 6th from a business trip to Portland.

Wm. Wann, who has been manager of the lumber company's store for over two years, has severed his connection with the company and will engage in business for himself.

Fred Robnett of Canal Creek got another big bear last week, this time in a trap. Fred will have them all caught if he keeps this pace up.

"Fifty cent butter by Christmas" is the slogan of the creamery men, but just now there is none to be had in Waldport at any price. The Damascus Creamery will be in operation in a few days.

Virgil Howell, who has been running a store on the Yachats reports a good business all summer. He also carries a complete line of drugs and patent medicines.

Orlan Crabtree of Albany is giving his family an outing at the beach. He is visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Smith but may permanently locate here if he can secure steady employment.

Pete Jorgensen is building a house just south of the Judge Goin property and is making rapid progress with it. There is quite a lot of lumber in evidence around Waldport.

C. G. Conn, maker of band instruments, has supplied the Waldport band boys with a lot of post cards showing a picture of the band. This is a good way to advertise.

J. R. Hays was down from the Yachats Sunday. He reports good progress in that district. There has been a steady travel through that country this summer and plenty of inquiry for ranches.

Mrs. Mary Gault returned Sunday from an extended visit in Newport and Toledo. She will probably remain in Waldport most of the winter.

Logan Dennick, who has not visited Waldport for a number of years, came down on the Condor last week and has been renewing old acquaintances.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Doty have a son at their home. Mrs. Doty and the baby are getting along all right, but Willard's recovery is doubtful. Frank L. Buker, grandfather of the little one, celebrated the event by stopping work for two whole days.

Miss Ona Glines, who graduated from the ninth grade last year, has gone to Portland to complete her studies. She will attend the high school.

Marion Ruble left Monday for California points and may go as far as Mexico. Mr. Ruble has been south every winter for the last three years but never fails to return to Waldport in the Spring.

Erwin Hosford and his sister, Gladys, have located in Waldport for the Winter and will attend school. Fifty-seven are now enrolled and in attendance.

The Waldport Commercial Club now has one hundred members and several new names on the list. Looks like we have a few live ones at any rate.

M. A. Beem has received a consignment of saw mill machinery on the last trip of the Condor. Mr. Beem will operate this mill, which is a portable one, on the Alsea river above Tidewater.

Frank Day made another real estate deal last week. He says "leave me alone, boys," but we have to put his name in occasionally on account of his activity in the real estate market.

There is a card posted in the Lutgens postoffice to the effect that the present postmaster has resigned and unless the patrons of the office nominate a successor within fifteen days the postoffice at that point will be discontinued. We trust an appointment will be made, but as the office pays less than one hundred dollars per year there may be no candidate for the place.

Bay View

Hazel Kirkland returned home Sunday from Portland.

Kernville

C. S. Parmele made a flying trip to Toledo.

Jesse Farrin is showing his American Wonder potatoes. Wish you could see them. He informs us that he raised 36 1/2 sacks of these fine potatoes on 18x50 feet of ground. The average weight is 1 1/2 pounds each. He has named his farm "Alder Brook."

John Johnson is leaving our part of the country. He will try the Valley a while. He is sick and thinks the Valley will be a better place for him at least this winter.

Mrs. Mable Stone is on the sick list this week.

Jakie Johnson and wife have gone to the Agency for a short visit. On his return he will start building his fine new house.

Nels Anderson and wife are living near the sawmill. He is fireman at the mill.

Mr. Johnson, father of C. F. Hall, brought in a load of supplies for C. F., and is looking around with the intention of moving in and being one among us. He says he

To the Honorable County Court of Lincoln County, Oregon—Gentlemen:

I herewith submit my semi-annual report for the six months ending September 30th, 1909, giving the amounts of money collected by me on the tax rolls of Lincoln County for the different years, as mileage and for sheriff's deeds turned over to the County Treasurer as follows:

To Tax Redemptions 1907 Roll	$ 90
" " " 1908 "	4 50

" " " 1909 "	$14717 68
Sheriff's Mileage and Deeds	24 30
Total	$14741 98

Respectfully submitted,
J. H. ROSS, Sheriff.

Dated Toledo, Oregon, October 1st, 1909.

wants to live where the grass stays green and there is plenty of feed for stock and that is what he finds in Lincoln County. He is from Tenn. but has been farming in the Valley for two years.

Mr. and Mrs. Stemple gave their eight year old daughter, Genevieve, a birthday party. They had a good dinner and all report a good time in general.

J. P. Bones has his house almost completed. Mr. McClintock and son Walter are helping him.

Mr. Wilbur Strayge and wife have gone to Oregon City where he will care for his mother who is a widow.

The Parmele boys are hauling lumber to Salmon River for Mr. Price's house, the man who bought the Barton farm.

If John Dickens hadn't a wagon that was strong enough to stand up under his hogs why didn't he borrow the wagon that brought in the 3 ton boiler for the sawmill, and take the hogs to the fair, for I am just sure his hogs and Jess Farrin's potatoes would have taken the prize.

Elk City

Pick apples and dig potatoes. Willie Simpson is building a cottage on the farm.

Salmon trout are very willing these days. Even strangers catch from three to five dozen.

Ben Graves has found his whistle. Ches Morrison seems to know about it.

Mrs. Mabel Simpson has charge of the Elk City school.

Contracts will soon be let for a new school building here. The district has purchased the Carter property on the high ground. This will make a slightly building place.

Elk City saw mill runs at full capacity and finds market for all the lumber they can cut.

The Storrs school district, below us have a new school building. Miss Clara Tassell, a former resident of Elk City, is teaching their school.

Col. Parker is offering his place for sale. This would be a fine thing for this vicinity as it contains several hundred acres of land that is idle and keeping the Valley back, while the Colonel is trying to make improvements. The brush is growing on once improved land faster than he cuts it. Lincoln county is no place for idle land.

Mr. Bell, who purchased the Morrison estate at Pioneer, is commencing to remove some of the old land marks. Mr. Bell appears to be a man of the day and will soon make a new town of Pioneer.

A. B. Clark has come to the conclusion that Elk City and a dairy ranch is good enough for him. We are glad to have Mr. and Mrs. Clark with us again.

Apple crop in this vicinity is not large but the fruit is of fine quality this season.

C. L. Knapp and family have moved to Sodaville. Mr. Knapp will teach the Sodaville school.
