

When You Take Cold

One way is to pay no attention to it; at least not until it develops into pneumonia, or bronchitis, or pleurisy. Another way is to ask your doctor about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. If he says, "The best thing for colds," then take it. Do as he says, anyway.

When the bowels are constipated, poisonous substances are absorbed into the blood instead of being daily removed from the body as nature intended. Knowing this danger, doctors always inquire about the condition of the bowels. Ayer's Pills.

He Must Slip Some Time.

Mrs. Crawford—You must love your husband dearly if you save all the letters he sends you while you're in the country.

Mrs. Crabshaw—I'm keeping them for comparison, my dear. I'm sure to catch him in a lie.—Judge.

SOUR STOMACH

"I used Cascarets and feel like a new man. I have been a sufferer from dyspepsia and sour stomach for the last two years. I have been taking medicine and other drugs, but could find no relief only for a short time. I will recommend Cascarets to my friends as the only thing for indigestion and sour stomach and to keep the bowels in good condition. They are very nice to eat."

The Codex Sinaiticus.
The most ancient of the New Testament manuscripts is the one known as the "Codex Sinaiticus," published at the expense of Alexander II. of Russia since the Crimean war. This codex covers nearly the whole of the Old and New Testaments and was discovered in the Convent of St. Catherine on Mount Sinai by the celebrated Tischendorf. It is generally ascribed to the fourth century.—New York American.

Nothing There Stationary.
Drummer—Is there a stationery store at Crow Bend?
Stage Driver—I couldn't say, part that you'd find anything stationary at Crow Bend, because they have a twister in them parts 'most every day what starts things movin', but she's lively, and I'm shore you'd like the place.—Judge.

The Gay Life.
"Geel!" said the observing small boy, "when I grow up I'm going after a political job."
"What for?" asked the man.
"So's I can go to the ball games every afternoon," he replied.—Detroit Free Press.

Had a Fair Time.
Uncle—I hope you've been a good boy, Tommy.
Tommy—Well, no—I haven't.
Uncle—Dear, dear! I hope you haven't been very bad.
Tommy—N'no! Just comfortable!—London Opinion.

COUGHING BURST BLOOD VESSEL

Says Danger Avoided and Cures Coughs in 5 Hours.

A writer for the medical press states that coughing is responsible for the bursting of blood vessels quite frequently. A cough or cold means inflammation (fever) and congestion, and these in turn indicate that the body is full of poisons and waste matter. Simple relief, as found in patent cough medicines, and whiskey, often result in more harm than good, as they cause more congestion. A tonic-laxative cough syrup will work marvels and here follows a prescription which is becoming famous for its prompt relief and thorough cures. It rids the system of the cause, except it be consumption. Don't wait for consumption to grasp its victim, but begin this treatment which cures some in five hours. Mix in a bottle, one-half ounce fluid wild cherry bark, one ounce compound essence cardui and three ounces syrup white pine compound. Take twenty drops every half hour for four hours. Then one-half to one teaspoonful three or four times a day. Give children less according to age.

Horrible.
"That was an awful disaster. There was only one survivor—isn't that terrible?"
"Fearful. What a bore he'll be!"—Cleveland Leader.

TOLD THE TIME THREE THOUSAND YEARS AGO

ANCIENT CHINESE CLOCK.

The most interesting of all water clocks is undoubtedly the "copper jars dropping water," in Canton, China, where I saw it in 1897. Referring to the simple line sketch, which I make from memory, Figure 8, and reading four Chinese characters downward the translation is "Canton City." To the left and still downward—"Hon-woo-et-low," which is "Copper Jars dropping water." Educated Chinamen inform me that it is over 3,000 years old and had a weather vane. As they speak of it as "the clock of the street arch" this would look quite probable; since the little open building, or tower in which it stands is higher than surrounding buildings. It is therefore reasonably safe to state that the Chinese had a weather and time station 1,000 years before our era. It consists of four copper jars partially built in masonry forming a stair-like structure. Commencing at the top jar each one drops into the next downward till the water reaches the solid bottom jar. In this lowest one a float, "the bamboo stick," is placed and indicates the height of the water and thus in a rude way gives the time. It is said to be set morning and evening by dipping the water from Jar 4 to Jar 1, so it runs twelve hours of our time. What are the uses of Jars 2 and 3, since the water simply enters them and drips out again?—Popular Mechanics.

SOME MARRIED MEDITATIONS.

By Clarence L. Cullen.

The reward of marital virtue is suspicion.

It is one thing to win a matrimonial prize and entirely another one to cash the ticket.

Gradually the "How-dare-you-sir!" girl is being eliminated by certain indefinable forces in our civilization.

Why is it that the woman with the protruding forehead, simply draped with hair, will wear a hat that tilts 'way back on her head?

Of course everybody feels sorry for her and all like that, but nevertheless it's no wonder the watery-eyed cerise-nosed woman with hay fever takes to the mountains.

One of the delightful compensations for males is that the other girl infallibly carries in stock a fine little outfit of remedies for the article known as a broken heart.

The bread-and-butter young woman who thinks that the dissipated divvle of a man is just gra-and isn't the kind that sticks along with her job when she marries one of 'em.

The millennium will have arrived when the really-and-truly bathing girl looks even one-eighth as attractive as the bathing girl in the illustrated sections of the Sunday newspapers.

There's money in it for the literary feller who'll cook up a regular day-by-day series of letters for the use of the unfortunate married chaps who have to write every day to their vacationized wives.

Why is it that, after you spend a long time selecting a cute little watch for your wife, she wears it for just three days and then sticks it away in some hidden jewelry junk box for the remainder of time and eternity?

Another young woman who wonders why it is taking her such an unconscionably long time to snag a meal ticket in the shape of a husband is the one who bullies restaurant waiters, theater ushers, saleswomen in stores and so on, when eligible men folks happen to be with her.

A Similarity.

Youngly—Did you ever notice that the matrimonial progress is like that of making a call? You go to adore, and ring a belle and you give your name to a maid.

Cynicus—Yes, and then you're taken in.

When a good woman confesses her sins, her husband listens to please her; he knows he will not hear anything interesting.

Absent Minded.

"Wilkins is the most absent minded tuss I ever met."
"How so?"
"Why, the last time he got into the barber's chair he pinned the newspaper around his neck and began to read the towel."—Philadelphia Record.

Every Man Read This

This treatment is said to have acquired a wonderful reputation throughout the East, owing to its peculiar propensity to fortify the nerve force and generate health and a consequent personal magnetism, so essential to the happiness of every normal human being. It is claimed to be a blessing to those who are physically impaired, gloomy, despondent, nervous, and who have trembling of the limbs, dizziness, heart palpitation, cold hands and feet, insomnia, fear without cause, timidity in venturing and general inability to act rationally as others do. Also of vast benefit to writers, professional men, office workers and the victims of society's late hours and over-indulgence in wines, liquors, etc.

By preparing the treatment at home secretly, no one need know of another's trouble, while the ingredients are much used in filling various prescriptions, so that even the purchase of them separately need occasion no timidity.

If the reader decides to try it, get three ounces of ordinary syrup sarsaparilla compound, and one ounce compound fluid balsamwort; mix and let stand two hours; then get one ounce compound essence cardui and one ounce tincture cadomene compound (not cardamom), mix all together, shake well and take a teaspoonful after each meal and one at night.

This contains no opiates whatever, and may also be used by women who suffer with their nerves with absolute certainty of prompt and lasting benefits.

Raises the dough and complies with all pure food laws.
