News of each Community Gathered each week by Our Rustling Associate Editors

Waldport.

Mrs. Laura Thompson returned to her home last week after spending the summer in Waldport.

Owing to the severe storms last week it was impossible to get the mail through to Tidewater every day.

George Rowin, postmaster at Bay View, was a Waldport visitor last Wednesday.

Mrs. James Tyler has returned to Waldport. Mr. Tyler has been here for some time making repairs to their resident property.

O. V. Hurt came down from Yaquina last Saturday. Mr. Hurt is arranging to lay off some lots at the mouth of the Yachats.

The Waldport postoffice is doing a good business in the registry department, notwithstanding the increase in the fee to ten cents.

Mrs. Carrol Barclay of Tidewater was visiting her parents in Waldport last week.

Dr. Linton has bought the Everson boat house. This will protect one-third of the Doctor's fleet from the winter storms.

Our road supervisor was called upon last week to open the road leading from Waldport to the beach. This he would not do because his map furnished by the commissioners does not show it to be a county road. As this is the only practical route south a petition should be circulated at once asking for a road to be opened there. The south end surely needs a few roads.

Will H. Wann returned home Monday from a month's stay in Portland. He was accompanied by his brother, Fred, who will visit Waldport a week or ten days. Fred got in too late this year to enjoy the hunting, but says he will do better next time.

Prof. Brown was compelled to be away from school three days last week on account of the sickness of his wife. James Goin, brother of our school superintendent, had charge during this time.

Harold W. Strong, a prominent attorney from Portland, has been experting the books of the Waldport Lumber Company. The cause of this is unknown but it is supposed that a sale of the property is contemplated.

Last week's commercial club program was as follows: Duet, "The Road to Yesterday" by Mr. and Mrs. Leslie H. Evens; A View of the Coming Comet, by Miss Williamson; The Chinese Language, by Wm. F. Keady; Club Paper, by Leslie Evens.

The Commercial Club at its last meeting passed a resolution asking for the establishment of a hatchery on the Alsea river. As there has been no money spent for such purposes on this river for a number of years there ought to be a considerable sum available for that purpose at this time as the amount produced from licenses on the river are to be applied in this district.

Ducks and geese have been quite plentiful this season on the Bay. Their favorite resting place is in the bend in front of Bay View. Oren McWillis has the record for geese this year as far as we have learned. He got fourteen of the big white ones last week. Several hunters have done well in securing ducks.

Kernville

Joseph Sijota's two year old girl swallowed a hat pin four inches long. They took her to Newport and had the pin removed.

Mrs. Charles Larson is on the sick list.

Mrs. Fred Butterfield and children are visiting Mrs. Archie Stephens.

We understand the teacher had some trouble in the school in district No. 54 and has had to give up the school. He has now moved up Schooner creek to teach that school.

Parmele boys are hauling lumber to Salmon river.

Jakie Johnson has the frame of his house up and the rustic on it. It is a large house and shows off fine.

Harold Anderson and young Felix of Siletz are visitors at Mose Gilmans.

Elder Nettleton while here baptized two in the beautiful, clear waters of Drift creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Jakie Johnson entertained a number of their friends the evening of the 6th. All report a pleasant time in spite of having to go home through the rain and dark. Mr. Johnson has a fine phonograph and nearly one hundred records of a very nice selection.

Three men from Oklahoma are here looking up a location. They are looking at Phinley Bones' farm with a thought of buying. They think we have some more rain here than in their native state.

J. W. Bones' nephew is here from Salem on a visit. His name is McStoneford.

Chitwood

Well, here we are just in the midst of harvest of potatoes, apples, beans and pumpkin pies. And, by the way, we are having some old-fashioned juicy weather. But we never knew it to rain but that it stopped, but once, and that is now, of course.

There was quite a crowd of people at the Gates and Rogers sale. Most things sold for a good, round price. Some sold for more than they were selling for before the sale. If anything was not receiving bids high enough to suit Mr. Rodgers would draw the puckering string on that class of goods and take up something else. All farm implements, also groceries and provisions went off rapidly at good prices.

Miss Edna Geer and Mrs. Dwinel are digging Mr. Weaver's potatoes on the shares and are doing well at it, as the potatoes are fine large ones almost as large as pumpkins. Joe Wilson bought Mr. Weaver's share. Mr. Weaver has a good job for the winter. He has moved out to the old Alexander place in Kings Valley. A friend of his in the East has purchased the place, 1000 acres in all, and is going to set out a large prune orchard. Mr. Weaver gets $60 per month for overseeing the job. He is to return in March.

The Chitwood school is prospering nicely under the tutorship of Miss Lillie Miller. The Simpson Creek school is also doing fine under the instructions of Prof. Wildman.

Maybe you think Aunt Jene Robertson isn't happy. Why? Because her sister whom she has not seen for many years has come to see her and spend the winter. She is from Minnesota.

Yes, and Grace, the Chitwood telephone girl, has a bright smile on her face. Now don't ask why, for I won't tell.

Government Contest Cases.

Several government contest cases are being heard here this week. These cases are brought by the general land office and the forestry service against homestead entries within the former Siletz reservation. They are:

United States vs. Edwin A. Haynes, entryman, and George L. Neff, transferee. Special Agent W. K. West appeared for the government, and J. H. Ballinger of Seattle for the entryman.

United States vs. M. A. Ward; West attorney for the government and W. H. Holmes of Salem for entryman.

At the home of her parents near this city, Sunday, November 7th, 1909, Ruth Dahl, three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Dahl.

The baby had been sick nearly a month, and everything had been done by her parents to save her life, but to no avail. The little body was laid to rest in the Toledo cemetery Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Dahl, who has been sick for many months, with the care and grief caused by the illness and death of her baby, is now in a very feeble condition.

The sympathy of the entire community is extended to the family in this hour of bereavement.

Death is a hard master. He would take from us of our brightest and best but he cannot even mar memory. It will serve as a balm to our wounded hearts.
