COUNTY NEWS News of each Community Gathered each week by Our Rustling Associate Editors

Waldport.

Russ Kent and family are expected to return from Coos bay this week.

The Waldport Band has some new recruits and these rainy evenings are being spent to good advantage.

Although our school is already crowded there are a number of new pupils soon to be enrolled.

There is plenty of hardwood on the beach at present owing to the high water on the upper river. Ash and maple trees have been washed down.

C. J. Smith captured a big cedar log Monday and will use it in the construction of a boat house to replace the one the freshet carried out to sea.

School was closed Thursday and Friday of last week on account of Thanksgiving. Some of the pupils who live out of town had to travel in a bad storm in order to eat turkey at home.

Charles Stouder went up the river last week and brought down a boat load of apples to be made into cider.

Both roads leading south from Waldport are now blockaded. Several big trees have fallen across the Coon Hollow road and Supervisor Hays is having trouble to find help, as nobody wants to get out in the storm to do road work.

H. L. Sterling was down from Tidewater last Monday. He says the water was not as high as previously reported.

J. T. Mustoe came down from Canal Creek Sunday. He made the trip on foot and reports the roads in very bad condition. A number of culvert have been washed out.

A play is being prepared by the school children and will be presented about Christmas. This kind of entertainment is always well patronized.

Berry Bray came up from Ten Mile creek Saturday. He reports a very wet trip and says it is no fun going around the cape during a storm.

Dr. Linton was called to the Yachats Saturday to attend Mrs. Howell, and as he could not secure a riding horse the trip had to be made on foot.

Trappers have not had much success in this vicinity so far this season. A few mink skins are being sent out. On Big Creek where trapping has been good heretofore practically nothing has been caught.

The primary physiology class in the Waldport school is very interesting. Your correspondent visited the school last week when this class was reciting and learned several things. On being asked "What is in your head?" one pupil promptly answered "Lungs." Another was asked what effect cigarettes had on the system and the answer was "They carry food to all parts of the body."

The Waldport Journal for November contains a very nicely written account of a trip to Arizona by Charles Stouder. Personal experiences of this kind are always eagerly read by those who have stayed at home and in some instances it may result in a saving of money for there is little use in looking over a country which has not proved attractive to one of your neighbors who has spent money in finding out just what you might want to know.

Kernville

The high water took 100,000 feet of logs, the boom and bridge belonging to G. S. Parmele & Sons to the ocean. Estimated loss, $1,000.

Bert Moreson had to move out of his house to higher ground during the high water.

Mr. Kobelski lost some cattle by drowning.

Mr. Hemstreet's launch was sunk and damaged so it could not be used until he could get repairs.

The mail carrier from Siletz to Kernville got capsized and lost his mail sack. He swam out and walked over a mountain striking the river again six miles below. After waiting about an hour he saw the mail sack floating down. He picked it up and came on down, but the mail was well soaked.

A telephone meeting was called but there was only two present so nothing was done. I guess the settlers think we do not need a phone.

Mrs. Mabel Stone has been sick for two weeks and is not much improved in health yet.

J. W. Bones informs us he is out of hay and wants to sell some cows.

Tip Holand and family came down the river from Siletz in a scow during the high water.

William Dick bought the government team and now he intends to plow and plant lots of oats.

Fine dried fish for sale at Jesse Stone and Dick Anderson's.

Don't think the cheese factory has fallen through with, for it has not. All get ready to send milk as soon as possible in the Spring. Neils Andersen will call at your door for the milk and deliver it at the cheese factory. He will run his launch for twenty miles up the Siletz to the mouth of the Bay to gather the milk.

Mrs. Esther Stephens is visiting Mrs. Walter Bones this week.

Mrs. Fred Butterfield was very sick last week, but is some better at this writing.

Jakie Johnson's house is almost enclosed and ready for the windows.

Edgar Parmele was laid up with a lame back from lifting too hard on some logs they were trying to keep from going out to the ocean.

G. S. Parmele's two sisters came from Illinois to visit him. He had not seen them for twenty years. The meeting was a happy one.

The merchants have received the bills for goods that were loaded on the Oshkosh for this place but no boat comes. One half of the people are out of flour. Parmele boys brought in a load but it is only a drop in the bucket.

Mrs. Fielding's mother and brother came to see her. They were brought down the river during the high water. They had to wait two days before they could find room in the Siletz river for the boat, there was so much drift running down.

Jesse Farrin informs us he will move into the city of Ocean View Park. He will occupy the dwelling house built by L. C. Parmele until he gets his house built—a store or something.

Ona

H. H. Cook has his sawmill on Elkhorn running now. He will certainly have plenty of water power if the rain continues as it has for the past month.

Walter Dodge and John Hanlon took a load of potatoes to Yaquina last Wednesday.

Miss Gertrude Phelps came down from Newport to spend Thanksgiving with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Phelps.

Miss May Weber and brother, Herman, returned to Portland Monday.

Miss Hester Hill spent Thanksgiving with her parents.

A number of our young people attended the dance at Mr. Shirmer's on Pool Slough Friday night.

Lloyd Commons returned home from Yaquina Saturday.

Otis.

The past storm was the worst of the season.

Bert Oviatt and family have gone to Sheridan to spend a few days with Bert's parents.

Ebby Jackson killed a large black bear last week which dressed over 300 pounds. He also killed a large wild cat today.

Knott C. Egbert passed through our part this week going home from Grand Ronde, where he had been on business with the Indians. He also fixed some papers for some of them here.

Mrs. Fred Butterfield has been very sick but is getting better. We hope to see her up and around soon.

A. M. Roysse has gone to Willamina after a load of supplies and a new stove for our school house.

Dickens & Oviatt have their salmon smoked and have gone home. They are going to smoke steelheads this winter as a business. There is good money in smoking salmon. Dickens is onto the job alright, we have tried some of his fish.

Some land buyers are here but they seem to want to set the price on our land, and put it pretty cheap.

William Dick and son Fred have come home from the Agency, where they have been spending a week or so.

Several of the Grand Ronders are here visiting with old friends on Salmon river.

Archie Thompson left 60 geese on the ranch and Fred Butterfield, who is now on the ranch wants to get rid of them as they have eaten up everything on the ranch except one cow and the children. They are good ones, being a cross between a blue crane and a bald eagle. They are good layers and Fred says if someone don't move them in two weeks they will lay all over the ranch. They are for sale cheap. A good shot gun and a bottle of poisoned wheat thrown in. Anyone wanting a bargain must call early in the morning for after Fred monkeys with them a while he has fits.

Mrs. Henry Curl and family visited with Will Dickens Sunday.

Mrs. Dickens was a caller at Mrs. Butterfield's this week.

Our school is doing fine. Prof. Lowe is learning the kids fast. The weather is so bad some of our small children can not go steady. Hope weather will break away.

The school meeting will be for the purpose of levying a special tax and attend to some other business concerning their school, but the Institute will be for all, teachers, pupils, parents, and friends of the public school. We hope to see every teacher, who can attend, present. The morning session will be for the teachers and the school meeting part in the afternoon. There will be a basket dinner at the noon hour. The program will be made out later. Remember the date—December 11. R. P. GORS, Superintendent of Schools.

Last Game of the Season.

Thanksgiving day the Toledo High School team played their last game for the season with Newport on the Newport grounds. The score was 0 to 0. The Toledo boys did not play their usual snappy game. They fumbled often and showed but little enthusiasm, but in spite of this Newport failed to score.

Toledo made a good record this year, having beaten Siletz and Newport and not having lost a game played with a Lincoln county team, although they were outweighed by far in each game.
