No Chance for an Argument.

"If you had any life in you, Henry," she snapped.
"You'd go out there and fire the cook!"
"But I haven't, you see, Flo," he placidly yapped;
And he buried himself in a book.

Troubles of the Ancients.

Penelope was bewailing the protracted absence of Ulysses.
"I might as well be the wife of a commercial traveler," she said, "and be done with it!"
Scorning to avail herself of an easy divorce, she plunged deeper than ever into the pages of the Ladies' Home Journal for consolation.

House-hunter—Seems to me this house isn't very well built. The floor shakes when we walk.

Agent—Um—y-e-s; that's the new kind of spring floor for dancing, you know.

House-hunter—And these stairs creak terribly.

Agent—Y-e-s; we furnish this new patent burglar alarm staircase without extra charge.—Leitler's Weekly.

Mothers will find Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup the best remedy to use for their children during the teething period.

No Misrepresentation.

Boarder (at summer resort)—Didn't your booklet say there were no mosquitoes here?

Proprietor—It did, sir, and it told the exact truth. We had the booklet printed in February, and I am prepared to prove that there wasn't a blamed (slap) mosquito within 500 miles of here at that time.—Chicago Tribune.

Landlady—You say the chicken soup isn't good? Why, I told the cook how to make it. Perhaps she didn't catch the idea. Boarder—No; I think it was the chicken she didn't catch.

The Cough of Consumption

Your doctor will tell you that fresh air and good food are the real cures for consumption. But often the cough is very hard. Hence, we suggest that you ask your doctor about your taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It controls the tickling, quiets the cough.

Ayer's

We publish our formulae. We banish alcohol from our medicines. We urge you to consult your doctor.

One of Ayer's Pills at bedtime will cause an increased flow of bile, and produce a gentle laxative effect the day following. Formula on each box. Show it to your doctor. He will understand at a glance. Dose, one pill at bedtime.

SOMETHING FOR EVERYBODY

The Belgian navy is the smallest in the world.

The London police arrest over 108,000 people a year.

There is a florist at Pekin, Ill., whose name is John Bloompot.

A North sea trawler has caught a mackerel twenty-four inches in length, weighing four and one-half pounds.

Londoners live, on an average, to an age of 57 years. In most parts of England the standard is below this.

Columbia University boys have taken a step in the matter of reform that will meet with commendation. They have barred mustaches.

It is stated in a consular report that provincial Persia is practically uncivilized, and that even the greater nobles have no special bedrooms, while all sleep on mattresses on the ground. Beds are ornaments, purchased occasionally and placed in the drawing room.

To get rid of the fluttering effect of moving pictures, an inventor has applied the principle of the stereoscope, the picture being thrown on the screen by two lenses, in front of which shutters open and close alternately so rapidly that there is no break in the series.

A German inventor has brought out a new process for lacquering brass tubing by revolving it in a lathe and applying the lacquer while the tubing is heated electrically. Formerly the heating had to be done in ovens, with a separate operation for every coat of lacquer.

More than ten times the sum paid over to the Indians for about twenty-two thousand acres, according to the original estimate, has since been paid for a single square foot of New York soil! Probably there is no other sale on record where the advance in value has been so great.—Putnam's.

Arrangements will shortly be made by the Austrian government for the public sale of radium for medical and experimental purposes. The total quantity of radium which has been thus far recovered for scientific use throughout the world is estimated not to exceed a quarter of a pound.

As to dreams, there was a discussion at the club lunch, and one man remarked that no man dreamed of himself as braver than he is. When the dream came, the dreamer was always the under dog. He was in horrible danger, and never did anything picturesque to face it. There may be men who are brave in their sleep. But it would be interesting to find one man outside of the dozen sleeping cowards who is a hero in a dream.—London Chronicle.

As to the original inventor of the planing machine, there is perhaps scarcely a machine about which there has been more controversy than this, and there are many claimants to the honor. There are records, however, showing that Nicholas Forq, a French clockmaker, used a metal planer in 1751 for machining pump cylinders, apparently being under the impression that they could be made more accurately in this manner than by a revolving cutter.—Cassier's Magazine.

One of the most striking features of the India of to-day is the remarkable increase in crime, especially violent crime, directed both against the person and property. In many instances the crimes have been marked by a lust for blood which could only have been dictated by the utmost barbarity. For example, in one case in the Montgomery district no fewer than nine persons were done to death simply because a low caste woman who had married into the "proprietary body" insisted on claiming the position in the village that she considered her due. Five other cases are cited in which more than three persons were on each occasion done to death at one and the same time. Dacoities and burglaries increased at an alarming rate, notwithstanding the exertions of the police to cope with this state of affairs.—The Englishman.

The Repertoire General des Collections furnishes some interesting particulars of those whose pastime is collecting various objects.
