I came across the Abbe looking after some logs for the lumber company.

Annie Jones came in on the 25th to look after some property in the bank.

The C.S. Smith Realty Company has moved its office so as to give the best service possible to the property the company formerly owned.

A one thousand candle power lamp has been ordered for the bank building.

This will be a great improvement over the present lamps.

The team given in the dinner last Thursday evening was well attended. At the bank program, the music was very much appreciated.

The scene built on the 22nd was well attended and a success in every way.

A large number of vacationers from the United States and Tecumseh and abroad is adding to Alsea’s population, they filled the Abbe and furnished the music. Financiers now feeling this was considerably ahead.

The committee. While attending the Post meeting at Newport came home with the report that the play was a good success. The report had quietly got a turn with a petition to form a post of their own and have the Alsea post broken off.

The committee also admitted that the residents of the Abbe form a post and thus be in a position to show their benevolence for the immense body of timber in the south and of the country.

J. H. Olinos circulated a petition and accented 34 names which is in excess of the number required by law to put the plan before the voters of the district.

The petition was then moved and seconded to the post be formed.

The district to be organized in the port of Alsea, extending south half of the township lines between Washington and the 36th and 37th. The district will thereby be bounded by Benton County on the east, Clackamas County on the north. These petitions petitioned that the city of Newport be authorized by the county court to reduce the present fines for cases will be put to the special election with certain limits as to time. The law permits this on the 2nd of February, but on the 3rd we expect an election sometime between April 15th and May 3rd.

Keaville

We are having quite a scare. George Thompson and his family came in here to see some trapping. Fred Russell got his gold and is going to try his hand at trapping to get his pay for selling his baggage from a horse and children.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Payne bought the Alice Outfitter, that place. J. E. Payne and Mrs. Payne have both been living at Culver, where he sold out a flour and feed store and wife and children are still living.

Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Payne bought the Alice Outfitter, that place. J. E. Payne and Mrs. Payne have both been living at Culver, where he sold out a flour and feed store and wife and children are still living.

I came across the Abbe looking after some logs for the lumber company.

Annie Jones came in on the 25th to look after some property in the bank.

The C.S. Smith Realty Company has moved its office so as to give the best service possible to the property the company formerly owned.

A one thousand candle power lamp has been ordered for the bank building.

This will be a great improvement over the present lamps.

The team given in the dinner last Thursday evening was well attended. At the bank program, the music was very much appreciated.

The scene built on the 22nd was well attended and a success in every way.

A large number of vacationers from the United States and Tecumseh and abroad is adding to Alsea’s population, they filled the Abbe and furnished the music. Financiers now feeling this was considerably ahead.

The committee. While attending the Post meeting at Newport came home with the report that the play was a good success. The report had quietly got a turn with a petition to form a post of their own and have the Alsea post broken off.

The committee also admitted that the residents of the Abbe form a post and thus be in a position to show their benevolence for the immense body of timber in the south and of the country.

J. H. Olinos circulated a petition and accented 34 names which is in excess of the number required by law to put the plan before the voters of the district.

The petition was then moved and seconded to the post be formed.

The district to be organized in the port of Alsea, extending south half of the township lines between Washington and the 36th and 37th. The district will thereby be bounded by Benton County on the east, Clackamas County on the north. These petitions petitioned that the city of Newport be authorized by the county court to reduce the present fines for cases will be put to the special election with certain limits as to time. The law permits this on the 2nd of February, but on the 3rd we expect an election sometime between April 15th and May 3rd.

Keaville

We are having quite a scare. George Thompson and his family came in here to see some trapping. Fred Russell got his gold and is going to try his hand at trapping to get his pay for selling his baggage from a horse and children.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Payne bought the Alice Outfitter, that place. J. E. Payne and Mrs. Payne have both been living at Culver, where he sold out a flour and feed store and wife and children are still living.

I came across the Abbe looking after some logs for the lumber company.

Annie Jones came in on the 25th to look after some property in the bank.

The C.S. Smith Realty Company has moved its office so as to give the best service possible to the property the company formerly owned.

A one thousand candle power lamp has been ordered for the bank building.

This will be a great improvement over the present lamps.

The team given in the dinner last Thursday evening was well attended. At the bank program, the music was very much appreciated.

The scene built on the 22nd was well attended and a success in every way.

A large number of vacationers from the United States and Tecumseh and abroad is adding to Alsea’s population, they filled the Abbe and furnished the music. Financiers now feeling this was considerably ahead.

The committee. While attending the Post meeting at Newport came home with the report that the play was a good success. The report had quietly got a turn with a petition to form a post of their own and have the Alsea post broken off.

The committee also admitted that the residents of the Abbe form a post and thus be in a position to show their benevolence for the immense body of timber in the south and of the country.

J. H. Olinos circulated a petition and accented 34 names which is in excess of the number required by law to put the plan before the voters of the district.

The petition was then moved and seconded to the post be formed.

The district to be organized in the port of Alsea, extending south half of the township lines between Washington and the 36th and 37th. The district will thereby be bounded by Benton County on the east, Clackamas County on the north. These petitions petitioned that the city of Newport be authorized by the county court to reduce the present fines for cases will be put to the special election with certain limits as to time. The law permits this on the 2nd of February, but on the 3rd we expect an election sometime between April 15th and May 3rd.

Keaville

We are having quite a scare. George Thompson and his family came in here to see some trapping. Fred Russell got his gold and is going to try his hand at trapping to get his pay for selling his baggage from a horse and children.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Payne bought the Alice Outfitter, that place. J. E. Payne and Mrs. Payne have both been living at Culver, where he sold out a flour and feed store and wife and children are still living.

I came across the Abbe looking after some logs for the lumber company.

Annie Jones came in on the 25th to look after some property in the bank.

The C.S. Smith Realty Company has moved its office so as to give the best service possible to the property the company formerly owned.

A one thousand candle power lamp has been ordered for the bank building.

This will be a great improvement over the present lamps.

The team given in the dinner last Thursday evening was well attended. At the bank program, the music was very much appreciated.

The scene built on the 22nd was well attended and a success in every way.

A large number of vacationers from the United States and Tecumseh and abroad is adding to Alsea’s population, they filled the Abbe and furnished the music. Financiers now feeling this was considerably ahead.

The committee. While attending the Post meeting at Newport came home with the report that the play was a good success. The report had quietly got a turn with a petition to form a post of their own and have the Alsea post broken off.

The committee also admitted that the residents of the Abbe form a post and thus be in a position to show their benevolence for the immense body of timber in the south and of the country.

J. H. Olinos circulated a petition and accented 34 names which is in excess of the number required by law to put the plan before the voters of the district.

The petition was then moved and seconded to the post be formed.

The district to be organized in the port of Alsea, extending south half of the township lines between Washington and the 36th and 37th. The district will thereby be bounded by Benton County on the east, Clackamas County on the north. These petitions petitioned that the city of Newport be authorized by the county court to reduce the present fines for cases will be put to the special election with certain limits as to time. The law permits this on the 2nd of February, but on the 3rd we expect an election sometime between April 15th and May 3rd.

Keaville

We are having quite a scare. George Thompson and his family came in here to see some trapping. Fred Russell got his gold and is going to try his hand at trapping to get his pay for selling his baggage from a horse and children.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Payne bought the Alice Outfitter, that place. J. E. Payne and Mrs. Payne have both been living at Culver, where he sold out a flour and feed store and wife and children are still living.

I came across the Abbe looking after some logs for the lumber company.

Annie Jones came in on the 25th to look after some property in the bank.

The C.S. Smith Realty Company has moved its office so as to give the best service possible to the property the company formerly owned.

A one thousand candle power lamp has been ordered for the bank building.

This will be a great improvement over the present lamps.

The team given in the dinner last Thursday evening was well attended. At the bank program, the music was very much appreciated.

The scene built on the 22nd was well attended and a success in every way.

A large number of vacationers from the United States and Tecumseh and abroad is adding to Alsea’s population, they filled the Abbe and furnished the music. Financiers now feeling this was considerably ahead.

The committee. While attending the Post meeting at Newport came home with the report that the play was a good success. The report had quietly got a turn with a petition to form a post of their own and have the Alsea post broken off.

The committee also admitted that the residents of the Abbe form a post and thus be in a position to show their benevolence for the immense body of timber in the south and of the country.

J. H. Olinos circulated a petition and accented 34 names which is in excess of the number required by law to put the plan before the voters of the district.

The petition was then moved and seconded to the post be formed.

The district to be organized in the port of Alsea, extending south half of the township lines between Washington and the 36th and 37th. The district will thereby be bounded by Benton County on the east, Clackamas County on the north. These petitions petitioned that the city of Newport be authorized by the county court to reduce the present fines for cases will be put to the special election with certain limits as to time. The law permits this on the 2nd of February, but on the 3rd we expect an election sometime between April 15th and May 3rd.

Keaville

We are having quite a scare. George Thompson and his family came in here to see some trapping. Fred Russell got his gold and is going to try his hand at trapping to get his pay for selling his baggage from a horse and children.