The Fir & Spruce Lumber Company is building a large addition to their mill at this place. The addition is 40x96 feet and will house two planers, a moulding machine and a band re-saw. Another large engine will be installed to furnish power to operate this machinery. When this re-saw is ready for operation the capacity of the mill will be greately increased as the circular saws will then only cut the logs into timbers and the re-saw will rip them

Fire was discovered in the Hooker Building, on Hill Street in which is located the postoffice and the real estate office of Stanton & Crosno, at about ten o'clock Wednesday evening. An alarm was turned in but the fire was extinguished before the hose eart arrived. The fire was confined to the partition which divides the building and orginated in the flue which is built in the
