Peculiar Rose in English Garden.
Mr. William Twiddle of Stanhope, England, has growing in his garden a novelty in the shape of a hellebore moss rose. Gardeners declare that they have never before seen or heard of a moss rose of that color. The bush, which stands four feet high, contains about a dozen buds, besides two or three roses in full bloom.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Cures all humors, catarrh and rheumatism, relieves that tired feeling, restores the appetite, cures paleness, nervousness, builds up the whole system. Get it today in usual liquid form or chocolate tablets called Sarsatabs.

Good Artificial Marble.
They are now making artificial marble with much success in Sicily. The manufactory is in the shadow of Mount Etna and there common blocks of sandstone are put in a tank containing volcanic asphalt and coal tar and boiled for 24 hours. The stones are then taken out and polished and it is said that it takes an expert to tell them from black marble.

Lots of Fun.
The sweet little sister of a large family was asked if she didn't have a lot of fun with the big brothers who were at once her slaves and tyrants, her adoring and adored. "Yes'm," came the surprising response, accompanied by a seraphic smile, "we have lots of fun always. Sometimes," the wide eyes waxing fascinatingly reminiscent and dreamy, "sometimes they fight me, an' sometimes I fight them!"

Humor in Signs.
A New York shop exhibits a card warning everybody against unscrupulous persons "who infringe our title to deceive the public." The shopman does not quite say what he means, any more than the proprietor of an eating house, on the door of which may be read the following announcement, conveying fearful intelligence to the gallant tars who frequent port: "Sailors' vitals cooked here."

The Cost of a Soul.
A recent query sent out as to the cost of saving a soul in Chicago brought some interesting answers. It was found that the Mormons figured on spending $1,500 for every person converted, whereas the Volunteers of America set the cost as low as $5. These were the highest and lowest prices named.

Helping Her Out.
"Have you a young chicken? I am rather green at cooking."
"Such being the case, madam, don't you think you'd better have an old, experienced fowl?"—Courier Journal.

Our War.
The war we wage must be waged against misconduct, against wrongdoing wherever it is found; and we must stand heartily for the rights of every decent man, whether he be a man of great wealth or a man who earns a livelihood as a wage worker or a tiller of the soil.—Theodore Roosevelt.

LITTLE THINGS WORTH KNOWING.

The surface of the earth is said to be 196,971,984 square miles.
In German cities food prices are now about as high as in the United States.

Lavender and rose perfumes are credited with the virtue of being microbe killers.
Traveling cranes are now equipped with scales, so that the load may be weighed in transit.

Lucknow boasts of the largest room in the world without columns. It is built of a kind of concrete.

In the forty years, 1868 to 1908, Japan's yearly foreign trade increased from $13,000,000 to $407,000,000.

There are about 3,000 weddings every twenty-four hours, taking the entire world into consideration.

A metal seat, hinged and suspended by chains from a window casing, has been patented by an Ohio man for window cleaners as well as for use as a shelf on which food may be placed to cool.

FASHION HINTS

For the college girl a Norfolk suit is just the thing. Homespun seems to fit the style better than most materials, and this one of brown had a collar of lighter brown velvet. It was belted in a very businesslike way with brown leather.

A PHASE OF SPRING.

The Wandering Orchestra a Feature Which Pleases Nearly Everyone.
The season of the year has come when the wandering orchestra goes around, cornet, clarinet and barytone, and last but not least the big bass horn, says the New York Sun. Cornet may shriek and clarinet creak and then barytone softens things some, but for grand effects, vast thunder in tone, all depends on the big bass horn.

Hear its rumble and rebound, its swelling surge of sound, its deep and mighty oomph—ah! Let the cornet squeak and the clarinet bleat and the barytone mildly ponder—lost, all lost, submerged and swallowed up in the bass horn's mighty thunder.

Spring is the season when the wandering band comes, when the weather mellows and people open their windows, and generally it seeks the interior courts of flats and apartment houses, where its audience flatters itself with the fancy that this is a private concert given to it alone and is willing to pay accordingly.

But the band has its vicissitudes. Sometimes it is cut off abruptly in the middle of the first number by an obdurate janitor who comes in and says "Skiddoo!" Sometimes somebody looks out of a window and says softly, "Sh-h! You mustn't play here. Somebody sick." Then as the news works around to all the players the music peters out with a wail; but commonly the band is welcome, and now the cornet screams, and now, now hear the big horn boom, with avalanche-like reverberations within those enclosing walls.

Loud as it is ever, yet for some reason or other it always sounds loudest now in the spring. This may be because people have missed it through the winter, and now it comes as something new, but the more likely reason is that the bass horn man stores up thunder in the winter, which he turns loose in greatest volume in the vernal season, when he first brings the horn into play.

Be that as it may, there is no sound that so appeals to people as that of the big bass horn, in whose deep and billowing and all pervading roar Niagars and Vesuvius are combined.

Adjustment.
Divorce is increasing, insanity is increasing, parental authority is declared to be prostrate, the boy is not what he was! Surely we must be heading for the bow-wow, and progressing fast. Not at all. We are merely getting adjusted to the greatest changes in the conditions of human existence that any one generation of men has seen in centuries. And possibly it is true that high prices on food are helping our adjustment by driving some city dwellers back into the country.—Harper's Weekly.

Seasickness Nothing New.
One of the most curious errors as to seasickness is that it is a suffering which the sturdier ancients did not know. Really there is plenty of allusion to the trouble in the ancient classics. Above all there was that bout of seasickness which, according to Seneca, cost Cicero his life. It was so bad that rather than endure it any longer he put back to land, risking certain death at the hands of Mark Antony's agents if they caught him, as they did. The word "nausea" is Greek, meaning literally "shippliness."

He Made a Hit.
Binkly—"My gracious, old man, you are all banged up." Crankleigh—"You have hit it." Binkly—"What did you do—dispute the right of way with an automobile?" Crankleigh—"No. Took a drop too much." Binkly—"Why, I didn't know you drank." Crankleigh—"I don't. The drop I took was from an aeroplane 20 feet from the ground."

Pneumatic Pigs.
Pigs are troubled by rheumatism more than by any other disease. Its work is so insidious oftentimes and its attacks so various in form that it is not recognized, but it may be set down as a rule that if the pig be afflicted by some mysterious malady, particularly one that incapacitates it in some manner, it is rheumatism.—Country Life in America.

Constipation

"For over nine years I suffered with chronic constipation and during this time I had to take an injection of warm water once every 24 hours before I could have an action on my bowels. Happily I tried Cascarets, and today I am a well man. During the nine years before I used Cascarets I suffered untold misery with internal piles. Thanks to you, I am free from all that this morning. You can use this in behalf of suffering humanity." B. F. Fisher, Roanoke, Ill.
