The expert's report on the condition of the books, etc., kept by our county officials, shows the county's accounts to have been kept in splendid shape. We are publishing the full report on another page of this issue so there is no need of us going into details about the findings of Mr. Wilson as the report is self explanatory.

Oregon found a brick in its Christmas stocking when the reclamation apportionment was announced, giving this state but $925,000 to carry on uncompleted irrigation projects out of the appropriation of $20,000,000, despite the large contribution of Oregon to the reclamation fund. The Oregon Development League and Portland Commercial Club have taken joint action to secure a reapportionment, so that this state may secure its just share to continue reclamation work.
