Frank Huntsucker had a little experience Saturday evening with Mr. Olson's colt. Frank is quite a broncho buster and would have made good if his saddle had stayed on, but when the saddle left the colt of course Frank went with it. He made a safe landing, however, and didn't plow up more than an acre of Mr. Olson's meadow. He is going to make a few repairs to the saddle and next Sunday expects to teach the colt a lesson. We will all be on hand to see the fun.
