MILTON'S HOME GOES

Historic Residence of Great Poet Is Doomed.

Bartholomew Close, Most Interesting Section of Old London, is to Be Demolished—Benjamin Franklin Once Lived There.

London.—Bit by bit each year what little is left of old London disappears. Before long a whole neighborhood known as Bartholomew Close—nearly the most interesting relic of Old London, for it includes houses where Milton and Benjamin Franklin lived—will have to go.

The Smithfield meat market adjoins Bartholomew Close and traffic has grown so heavy around the market of late years that it has been found necessary to construct some new roads there. The best part of the old district covers the space wanted for the new roads, so sentiment must bow before expediency and the Close will be seen no more.

A close is literally the precincts of an abbey or a cathedral and this old district is so called because it partly is and once wholly was the precincts of the Priory Church of St. Bartholomew. At the present time what is known as the Close is just a network of rambling little streets and squares with quaint little courts branching out here and there; the church itself only occupies one corner of the place.

Milton lived for some time in this spot when he was in retirement about 1660. He took up his abode at a small tavern known as the "Little Wonder." The house is in a good state of preservation and is occupied at present by a plumber.

The house where Benjamin Franklin lived is no longer in existence. As the old verger of St. Bartholomew said, "It's been completely metamorphosed into something quite different." Comparatively recently a lady chapel was added to St. Bartholomew's and to make room for it a famous old fringe factory—had to be pulled down; part of the walls of the factory are still to be seen. In this building was Palmer's printing office where Franklin was employed as a journeyman printer while at the same time he was acting as America's ambassador.

Although Londoners will be glad to see the Bartholomew Close go on account of the slums it contains, still they will be sorry to see it demolished on account of its great antiquity and venerable associations.

Calf Born Tailless. Leechburg, Pa.—D. W. Croyle, a farmer of Tarr Town, is endeavoring to devise some way of furnishing a calf which has just been born with means for fighting flies in the summer time. The baby cow is normal in all respects, except that it has not even a hint of a tail.

Fowls of the Air. "When I order poultry from you again," said the man who quarrels with his grocer, "I don't want you to send me any of those aeroplane chickens." "What kind do you mean?" "The sort that are all wings and machinery and no meat."—Good Housekeeping.

Taking a Chance. "What I want," said the young man, "is to get married and have a peaceful, quiet home." "Well," said the widower of a couple, "sometimes it works that way, and then again sometimes it's like joinin' a debatin' society."—Tit-Bits.

Might Spoil the Match. Suttor—"I would like to see the photo of the lady with the $500,000 dowry." Matrimonial Agent—"We don't show photos with the large dowries."—Flegende Blaetter.

New Idea in Finance. "I have found a man with eight children who has apparently grown wealthier with each addition to his family," said a lawyer who is endeavoring to build up a practice on the east side. "He is a small shopkeeper, and by diligent investigation I have found that with the arrival of every infant he has filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy, shedding all his debts and starting life nearly as unincumbered as the child."—New York Sun.

Olive Oil for Leather. Leather furniture, especially when placed near the register, is liable to dry and crack. An excellent method of keeping it from looking old and showing cracks is to go over the leather with a soft rag dipped in olive oil and then going over the whole surface again with a dry rag. It is not necessary to go over the leather more than once in three or four months, just enough to keep it soft.

Not an experiment, but a proved fact Hamilton Wizard Oil has cured numberless cases of painful hills for which we recommend it. We have testimonials as proof.

Spread Wisdom. "Tell all you know and you won't have any knowledge left for yourself" is the slogan of an exceedingly small mind, which, if it could but get wise, would realize it knows nothing worth telling—men learn in the same measure that they teach or explain and make things clear to themselves.

Worthy Suggestion. Whatever may your faith—and every man, even so-called infidels, have a belief of some kind—I wish to make one suggestion: Keep it sweet! Rest assured that if your belief makes you crabbed and pugnacious, or critical, or morose, they it is bad. No matter what your creed is it ought to bring forth the one flower that makes any creed worth while, and that is amiability.

Finding Pearls With Roentgen Rays. According to a report from our census in Birmingham, England, a suggestion was recently made that Roentgen rays be used to ascertain whether an oyster contains pearls. In this way, it will be unnecessary to open the oyster's shell and destroy the oyster, unless it contains pearls. If the Roentgen rays show that there are no pearls present the oyster will be put back into the water where it may continue to grow.

Helium in Mount Vesuvius. Helium, the "sun metal," thus named because it was found in the sun by spectroscopic observation, before it was known to exist on the earth, appears to exist in perceptible quantities in a number of minerals exuded from Vesuvius, and also in the air about Naples.

India's Cultivation of Sugar Cane. India has a larger area under cane than any other country, and yet is one of the heaviest importers of sugar. There was a time when India manufactured practically all the sugar it required, which was used in the form of molasses, but a taste for refined sugar sprang up, since which time it was found more convenient to import than to manufacture.

Facts About Motherhood

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at the time of child-birth, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when the strain is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

It isn't as though the experience came upon them unawares. They have ample time in which to prepare, but they, for the most part, trust to chance and pay the penalty.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy, and strong.

Any woman who would like special advice in regard to this matter is cordially invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. Her letter will be held in strict confidence.
