COUNTY NEWS News of each Community Gathered each week by Our Rustling Associate Editors

Waldport.

The moving picture shows at Even's hall have been discontinued for the season.

Fred Walters and family of Elmira are camping on Drift Creek.

The Elmore scene has discontinued operations as agreed upon some time ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Miller of Drift creek announce the arrival of an eight and one-half pound boy the eleventh.

Mrs. Eliza Umphreys is confined to her bed as the result of a bad fall last Saturday. Dr. Linton was called and reports that although no bones were broken the injury is quite serious.

The Waldport central office has adopted the same hours as prevail at Newport and Toledo.

Warren Daugherty went to Newport Tuesday to bring around the Condor as soon as the weather will permit.

M. C. Kallow returned last week from a trip to Tillamook and reports things progressing at that place.

There are eighteen pupils in the Waldport high school and prospects of several more very soon.

Abe Lincoln School.

Mr. and Mrs. John Olson seem glad to get back from their long visit in Michigan. John says Lincoln county looks good to him.

Quite a number of new people are settling in this neighborhood. Some are strangers and some have lived here before and have come back and bought ranches. Lincoln county looks good to them.

Deer must be quite plentiful this year, judging from the number of hounds that are running in the hills. If a rancher kills a deer unlawfully there is a game warden after him. But a lot of hoodlums can run deer with dogs all through the season, even to does and fawns, and there seems to be no way to stop it.

C. H. Miller and Ole Olson each have 40 tons of hay in the barn to feed to their dairy cows this winter.

The range cow is getting scarcer every year. There is too much difference between a cow that will bring a ten or twelve dollar calf in a year, and one that will bring six to eight dollars a month in butter fat.

Montgomery's Camp

Our settlement was increased last week by two families, that of Mr. Frank Parker and Mr. Lett and mother and small brother.

Miss Edith Reisinger is staying with Mrs. Merrell and assisting with the household duties as Mrs. Merrell is very ill.

R. P. Goin, county superintendent, visited the Stanton school last Thursday afternoon and gave a very interesting and instructive talk to the pupils. Mr. Goin certainly has some fine ideas concerning the school room and welfare of the pupils.

M. Emstrum was called as a witness in the case of Stanton vs. Montgomery on Tuesday of this week.

We understand the Walling place has been purchased by Mr. Walling's son in law, who owns property at or near Spokane.

Eddyville.

Rev. R. J. Devenport preached at Eddyville Sunday morning, going to Elk City in the evening.

Frank Casaday returned home from Chehalis, Washington, Saturday, where he had been working for several months.

W. F. Wakefield and E. H. Willoughby have purchased a fine, highly registered Holstein bull calf which they received a few days ago.

J. P. Stringer has traded his property here for a farm near Philomath with Mr. Edward Manch. They will commence taking the invoice of goods this week.

W. C. Reynolds accompanied by O. D. Casaday and W. F. Wakefield went to Toledo Monday to make final commutation proof to his homestead.

Owing to a severe attack of la-grippe Miss Hattie Bruce was compelled to discontinue teaching the Eddyville school. Miss Anna Baird of Toledo has been employed to take her place, she coming to Eddyville on the Sunday evening train.

The Eddyville Literary Society met Saturday evening. A program committee was appointed and it was arranged to give an entertainment Saturday evening, the 21st inst. The question, "Resolved, That Love is More Influential than Money," was chosen for debate. Everybody cordially invited.

Elk City

E. W. S. Pratt of Corvallis came over a week ago looking after his interests in this burg.

Parties who purchased the Parker tract are expected in soon. The farm is in charge of Mr. Updyke at present.

Fishermen from all parts have been quite numerous of late, and all are wearing a smile.

M. W. Simpson can land from 40 to 60 and get home in time for dinner.

Mr. Scoville has sold his place on the hill between Elk City and Chitwood. He will either rent or buy in this vicinity if possible.

Game Wardens have been quite numerous in this vicinity for the past ten days.

A few fish are coming in at the Yaquina hatchery, but not as numerous as Mr. Nacband would like.

P. J. Parks is making repairs on the store building occupied by C. L. Morrison.

C. R. Parks died on the 5th, after an illness of two months. Mr. Charles Rice Parks was born in West Virginia, November 28, 1820, and resided there till December 1877, when he moved to Kentucky; from Kentucky he moved to Arkansas in October, '81; from there he left for Oregon November, 1888, making the trip by wagon train following the line of the early pioneers. Mr. Parks was a member of the M. E. South church. He served in the War of the Rebellion on the Southern side. He had eight children by his first wife, five of whom are living, Mrs. Hestran Lewis living in Kentucky, Mrs. Nan Watkins of Oklahoma, Hurston, Leander and Harvey Parks all well known residents of Lincoln county. Mr. Parks lost his first wife in 1863, and married Miss Cosby Lewis February 13, 1864. No children by this marriage. He also leaves nineteen grand children and thirteen great grand children. Mr. and Mrs. Parks demonstrated what can be done in the Lincoln county hills. With a helping wife they cleared up a few acres for pasture and fruit and with cows and chickens had cleaned up a few dollars for old age, coming on a homestead at the age of 70 to do so.

Fatal Bear Hunt.

A tragic event, which saddened the whole community, was the accidental shooting and death of Frederick Young, the 17 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Young of this city, while on a bear hunt with his father Saturday night. The young man and his father went out to the Ellsworth place, two miles beyond the Monterey House, that evening to get a bear, as these animals have been reported unusually numerous in that locality this fall. Arriving at the designated spot each climbed into a tree alongside the trail with the hope that a bear would pass along that way. The trees on which they were watching were some distance apart and after some little time had elapsed Fred clambered down to join his father for the purpose of going home, and approaching the tree in which his father was staying whistled repeatedly to warn him of his approach and as a signal that they would start home. The details of the accidental shooting will be found in the statement by Mr. Young printed below and which was given to Dr. F. M. Carter:

"We were watching for the bear about three quarters of a mile from the Ellsworth place about 10 o'clock p. m.; Fred was in a tree and I was in another, the trees being about 150 yards apart; Fred came down from the tree and started towards the tree I was in; when he got about half way he whistled and whistled again when about 60 feet away. This was the signal agreed upon between us for coming down and going home; I began climbing down, my right foot was on a limb above the left one, and my gun was in my left hand and I was hanging with my right hand; my right foot slipped and swung around; as I swung around the hammer of the gun must have struck a limb, exploding the cartridge, and the bullet struck the boy on the left side below the heart passing through the stomach and coming out at the left of the spine; the gun was a 30-30 Winchester.

"I went to my boy, took him up and kissed him, saying, 'Oh, my God, I've shot my darling boy; I wish the bullet had struck me instead of him.' Fred said, 'Oh, no, papa, my time has come; I'm going to heaven.' 'Freddie, my God, if it hadn't been for me you wouldn't have been shot.' Freddie said, 'You have always been a good papa to me; I'm going to die; bid all the family good-bye—mama and the children—Clarence and Emma.' I said 'Do you pray?' Freddie—'Yes papa I always pray twice a day.' I said 'do you think you could walk?' and he said 'I'll try.'

"We walked about 100 yards when Fred said, 'I can't go any farther.' I told him I must go and get a team and get him out of there. Fred said 'Don't leave me,' but later he said, 'You may go.' I took off both of my coats and wrapped them around him and ran all the way to the Monterey House—distance of nearly two miles; I directed Frank Pierson to hurry up with the wagon and Paul Chatterton telephoned for Dr. Minthorn; the Doctor met Freddie in the wagon on the trail on the other side of the Monterey House; Freddie lived two or three hours and died at the Monterey."

Dr. Minthorn saw, after a brief examination, that the wound was fatal, and did everything possible to quiet the pain and staunch the great flow of blood. He was placed on a bed and bandage put around the body. During the two or three hours that lapsed between the shooting and his death Fred retained consciousness and was able to speak intelligently to the doctor; realized and seemed to be at all times resigned to the end which was so near at hand.

The young man was a general favorite among his acquaintances both young and old, was of a quiet and studious temperament, and while he had strong convictions was not obtrusive. He had much musical talent and was a valued member of the Newport Band during the past Summer. He was agent here for the Portland Journal which work he carried on in addition to his school work.

The funeral occurred at St. Stephens Episcopal church, at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, Rev. F. O. Jones officiating. The attendance was very large, particularly among the school companions of the deceased, and the floral offerings were numerous and beautiful.—Newport Signal.

Don't trifle with a cold is good advice for prudent men and women. It may be vital in case of a child. There is nothing better than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs and colds in children. It is safe and sure. For sale by all dealers.

L. C. Smith, Newport, Or.

AVERTED AWFUL TRAGEDY.

Timely advice given Mrs. C. Willoughby of Marengo, Wis., (R. No. 1) prevented a dreadful tragedy and save two lives. Doctors had said her frightful cough was a "consumption" cough and could do little to help her. After many remedies failed, her aunt urged her to take Dr. King's New Discovery. "I have been using it for some time," she wrote "and the awful cough has almost gone. It also save my little boy when taken with a severe bronchial trouble." This matchless medicine has no equal for throat and lung troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Toledo Drug Co.
