Messrs. Havens, Moore and Kent came up from Florence last week looking at the coast country and taking a few snap shots at the scenery.

Miss Ida Hurley and Miss Ena Stout, who are teaching at Tidewater, were Waldport visitors Saturday.

L. T. Sandell of Yachats returned Saturday from a visit to Seattle.

Mrs. Lloyd Barkhurst and daughter, Ruth, arrived Saturday. They will make Waldport their future home.

The vote at Yachats at the primary election was very light because of dissatisfaction as to the location of a polling place. Get out with the votes, boys, or have no kick at the results.

James Bales has been a man of leisure the past three weeks. He ran a splinter into his thumb which has developed into blood poison, but we are glad to say it is getting better.

Captain Daugherty went to Newport Monday. The Condor will follow when the bar permits.

The band gave a short serenade to the business section of town Sunday morning. It is good to see the boys out again.

Virgil Howell of Yachats has rented the Sam Hayes place at Tidewater for a period of four years.

J. C. Barclay has a contract to carry the mail from Alsea to Tidewater and return twice a week. This route was discontinued several years ago and the residents along the route are very glad to again get mail service.

The Simpson creek school gave an entertainment last Friday. A good many visitors were present and all enjoyed the program. It being the last day of the term. Mr. James Goin, the teacher, left the same evening. He has a school near Canoe Landing on Siletz.

Kernville.

Hurrah for Kernville! It now has two sawmills, one large canery, one good cheese factory. One sawmill is situated near the mouth of Drift river. It has five engines and two large boilers. One mill is eight miles above. The old settlers are glad to see the mills come for just a short time ago the nearest mill was the Government mill at Siletz Agency. They can still see dotted here and there old shake houses and barns that were erected, being the best that could be done. The nice frame houses are fast taking the place of the shake ones.

Ross Knudson and a friend passed through one day this week. They stayed over night at the Kernville Hotel.

The game warden was interviewing among our people last week. No trace has been found of Marion Vanderpool.

Please, Mr. Taft correspondent, you might claim the G. S. Parmele & Sons' sawmill as one of your enterprises, but we can't see how you can claim Labor & Lesley's sawmill, for Kernville comes in between.

Now when the wide a wake men of Kernville, Taft and Otis get together they talk of cheese; how it can be made to be the most saleable. All is animation. It does one's eyes good to see the big cheese piling up.

The Ladies S. I. Club was entertained by Miss Edna Toberer. They decided to have a Fourth of July celebration. The Club will meet with Mrs. Niels Andersen May 12.

ODDFELLOWS DEDICATE HALL.

Toledo Lodge, No. 108, I. O. O. F., dedicated their fine new hall on the evening of April 26th, this being the 93d anniversary of the organization of the lodge; a day that is observed by Oddfellows and Rebeccas everywhere.

A. B. Bowersox, Grand Master of Oregon, was present and with the assistance of the Toledo team, consisting of R. H. Howell, Prof. A. H. Weber, Superintendent R. P. Goin, C. K. Croso, Sherm Bateman, Carl Gildersleeve and Roy Swearingen, rendered the dedication ceremonies perfectly. At the close of these services three of the Toledo Rebeccas, in full uniform, exemplified the three links over the altar, with beautiful effect. Rosebrooks Orchestra was present at its best and enlivened the audience with grand music. After the dedication there was a series of speeches by members from Hassall Lodge of Portland, Chemekita, Salem; Corvallis, Philomath, Kings Valley, Elk City and Newport.

The audience of three hundred consisted of a full delegation from Corvallis, Philomath and Kings Valley, while Elk City, Yaquina and Newport Lodges of both Oddfellows and Rebeccas came in a body. The exercises closed with a grand lunch given by the Toledo Rebeccas, consisting of crabs, clams, clam tea, chicken sandwiches, cakes, coffee and ice cream, enough to feed twice the number present.

All enjoyed renewing acquaintances and otherwise enjoyed themselves in the way that makes the world better and life worth living.

RECALL DECISIONS.

The following regarding the recall petitions which were presented to County Clerk Howell and the decisions of the Attorney General, may be of interest to our readers as there seems to be some criticisms regarding our official's acts:

Clerk's Office,
Lincoln County.

Toledo, Or., Dec. 5, 1912.
Hon. A. M. Crawford,
Salem, Oregon.

Dear Sir:—Petitions are being circulated in this county for the recall of the County Judge and one Commissioner and since it is the opinion of some of the legal lights of the state that the necessary Legislative acts have not been passed to make it effective, as County Clerk and officer to who these petitions will be presented for filing, I would like to know what my duties are. Very respectfully,

R. H. Howell, County Clerk.

In reply Attorney General Crawford instructed Mr. Howell, giving a lengthy argument, concluding with the following:

Holding the opinion as I do, that the recall is not self executing, while I hesitate to advise you as to your duty, the District Attorney, being your legal advisor, I can say that my advice would be that your duty is to refuse to file the petitions, and if the petitioners believe they have a legal right to have them filed, they can bring legal proceedings in Court to compel the filing of the same. Yours very truly,
A. M. Crawford,
Attorney General.

On April 29th Mr. Howell received the following, taken from the decision relative to the recall of Judge Cameron of Multnomah county:

Salem, Or., April 29, 1912.
Mr. R. H. Howell,
County Clerk.

Dear Sir:—December 8th, 1911, we sent you an opinion relative to the recall. At that time I was not aware of the decision of the Circuit Court in Multnomah county and since that date have been informed that the Circuit Court of Multnomah almost universally held that the recall was not operative. Therefore it reverses the opinion of this office and in accordance with the decree of the Circuit Court in the matter, we are obliged to change our position, and we herewith hand you copy of opinion to the Secretary of State in the matter of the recall of District Attorney Cameron of Multnomah county, which please file and place with the former opinion.

I still have doubts in regard to the Circuit Court being correct, but of course must conform to the decision of the Courts.

Very respectfully yours,
A. M. Crawford,
Attorney General.

Dr. Burgess has moved his office into the Ofstedahl building. The Doctor now has a suite of five rooms fitted up. The first is the waiting room, then the consultation room, the stock room, operating room and a hospital ward. These rooms have been fitted up in grand style. The operating room is especially well lighted with the walls and fittings in white. The hospital ward will serve as a rest room for patients when needed. The Doctor has certainly fitted these rooms up nicely for the accommodation of his patients, and he now has the finest physician's office in Lincoln county.
