COUNTY NEWS News of each Community Gathered each week by Our Rustling Associate Editors

Waldport

A few Summer visitors are still with us enjoying the fishing.

Dr. C. E. Linton has purchased the old Waldport Lumber company's store building and is moving it to his own property.

As expected Waldport will have a liquor election. Henry Bobbell has circulated a petition asking that this question be submitted to the voters. We believe this is the proper way to settle such things, but do not feel like making any prediction as to the result.

C. N. Thompson, Jr., is here looking after his father's estate.

We congratulate the Abe Lincoln school on the showing it made at the County Fair. They did not have to work very hard to beat us this time, but we can assure the Linville editor that we are still on the job.

Mrs. James Tyler has moved her stock of goods to the Simmons building. This change was made necessary by the recent burning of the Tyler property.

The Waldport Grange has sent out a club order for one hundred and fifty barrels of Olympic flour. This results in a considerable saving.

A beauty doctor visited us last week. Even Ira Bray's boat turned pink during her stay.

Winant

Mrs. Dora Huntsucker and family are occupying a cottage at Oysterville during fishing season.

Mrs. Mike Shermer and daughter, Gretchen, were entertained at the home of Peter Shermer Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Tim Dowling spent Sunday at Newport.

Mrs. George Lewis and son, Joseph, spent Sunday with Mrs. C. A. Hath.

Mrs. Dr. McIntyre returned home on the excursion from a trip to Portland, accompanied by friends.

George Emerson came down from Toledo Saturday night, returning Monday morning.

Miss Addie Lewis is taking lessons in embroidery this week.

Miss Gladys King visited at the home of Joseph Blower Sunday.

Jay Van Schoick came down from home yesterday.

Miss Cora Boone and Miss Addie Lewis were Yaquina visitors Tuesday.

George Lewis is busy fishing now days.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Boone were Toledo visitors Friday.

Everyone here has the fishing habit.

Rocky Detollo and Eugene Emerson were Toledo visitors today on business.

C. A. Hath had his launch repainted.

Haran

Miss Nora Queen, who has been teaching in the Spout Creek district, has finished her school and returned to her home.

Mrs. Fred Davis of Corvallis has been over visiting her father, W. W. January.

Mr. P. H. Martin returned from Portland Wednesday. Miss Dorothy is attending the Jefferson high school there.

Chas. Lillard has been buying sheep for Brown of Corvallis. Grant & Sons, I. R. Payne and P. H. Martin sold to him.

Chas. Mulkey moved Mr. Morton and family out to the railroad last week, they having gotten tired of homesteading.

Mrs. John Mitchler and Mrs. Chas. Cator have gone out to Corvallis for a visit.

H. W. Jacobs has returned from Philomath, where he went for a load of seed grain.

Elk City and Big Elk

The Elk City Solo Club is still thriving, Mr. Holem presiding.

Mr. Merrill and Mr. Watson of Portland were down last Tuesday looking after some property.

Jack Hand, a resident of Newport, was up Big Elk looking at the Scarth place, with the intention of renting.

Mrs. A. C. Ebert, who has been spending a few weeks on their farm here, has returned to Eugene, where she joins her husband.

Dave Ramsdell, our road supervisor has completed the road work, and it certainly is a credit to the community.

E. L. Richardson made a lively hike over the hills to Toledo last Wednesday on business.

It is reported that the State contemplates putting a rack in the Yaquina river which Superintendent Pollock will oversee.

Frank Updike is still hauling lumber for his barn, which he intends to erect soon.

Paris Parks and family and Mr. and Mrs. Graves and son, Willie, returned from their fishing and hunting trip and report an excellent time.

A. B. Slocum has completed a roof over his hay stack, which has been moistened considerably by the Oregon mist.

Two little bundles of sunshine arrived on Big Elk, one being a daughter to Mrs. King at the Ramsdell home, and a son to Mr. and Mrs. Young at their home, known as the Parker place.

School opened Monday with a good attendance in School District No. 31, Miss Nellie V. King of Oysterville, teacher.

Mr. Stradelman and son in law, Mr. Stiff, are building a new two story house on their place, known as the Smith place.

Mr. Lillard, who is buying sheep for Brown at Corvallis, went through our burg last week, buying sheep from the different ranchers.

Anton C. Young made a business trip to Portland, visiting also with relatives at Vancouver and Orchards.

Mrs. Winskill has been missing some of her choice poultry and she would appreciate an invitation to their Sunday dinner. Please take notice.

O. G. Dalaba, former candidate for mayor of Elk City, has moved to Corvallis. Now, what's the matter with Bill Enos. Get busy. Here's to Bill.

Frank Updike our popular dairyman of Big Elk has gone to Corvallis where he will have an operation performed on his hand.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hodges went to Toledo Friday, where they expect to close up a deal on a 30,000 acre timber deal.

School commenced Monday, Miss Slagel of Silverton teaching.

Willis Carter went to Toledo Wednesday, where he made final proof on his homestead.

Pearl Pepin and Pete Oulds were over from their farms on Long Prairie Saturday.

Brown's bridge crew has been here for the past week.

J. K. Shields departed for the Round Up City Monday.

Albert Beers returned from the Valley Saturday.

Clifford Hunt of Eddyville was in this vicinity Monday shearing sheep for Fred Wagner.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Pepin stopped off here on their way home from Washington.

E. G. Jones is able to be around again after trying to cut his foot off with an ax.

Kernville.

The fishermen are doing quite well this Fall. They are building new cabins and fixing things up fine.

J. Smith and wife of Newport spent a few days camping in our parts.

The cheese factories are doing well. They have cheese at the canneries ready for the boat when she can get in. She was just outside the bar the other day but the water was too rough.

J. P. Bones was in our midst again. He bought three horses of A. Resch, giving him $623 for them.

Allie Read, an old resident here, is among us looking for a home. Welcome back, Mr. Read.

Z. M. Derrick and family, M. Castle and Fred Chambers of Toledo are spending their vacation in our neighborhood, surveying towns and finding corners on lines of our ranches. So now we will know if we are in the street, on the county road, on our own land or on someone else's land. They surveyed one road from the Parmele sawmill to Schooner creek.

Charlie Litchfield of Yaquina passed through to his ranch at the Lake.

Miss Milbra Stephens of Newport is visiting her sisters, brothers and friends.

George Cutler had a town laid off between here and Taft. He thinks he will call it Roosevelt.

When Lee Bones returned home last Sunday he found someone in his front room. They had on his slippers but would not talk, but he let them remain. He said he wanted someone to loan is apron to. Don't get discouraged Lee.

Riveride V

The sun is shining at Riverside and the mountain sides present a scene of strange, rare beauty. The autumnal leaves show every tint that "paints the rose or decks the lily fair." The shadows come and go upon the scene as smiles come and go upon the face of a sleeping babe. The gentle breezes bring down the fading leaves which rustle about our feet. The apple trees are bending with their burden of fine fruit. If the frost does not come soon it looks as if we would be under the necessity of moving our fences.

The fish won't bite, nor will the hens lay.

Our ranchers seem to be waiting for rain and mud to get in their Winter's wood.

The school is progressing nicely at Riverside.

Supervisor R. R. Miller of Toledo spent a hour and a half at the Riverside school Monday.

The Calkins family, including T. J. Goin, spent Sunday at W. H. Daniel's. If you have never had a dinner at Mr. Daniels you have missed a great deal.

After reading your correspondences from various parts of the county one is led to believe that the Lincolnites are little else than preambulators and visitors. This is certainly very interesting to your readers.

I suppose every community has its Teddies. We have ours. The duties of all Teddies is to look after road meetings and elect a road supervisor, and, incidentally, to look after the school and regulate the community generally.

Vernon Folmsbee has been on the sick list for a week or two, while the rest of the family have had coughs.

Vance Daniel returned from Philomath to visit with his parents for a few days.

Cupid is out with his bow and arrow. Look out, Sam!

Siletz

Mrs. Walter Hall and Mr. and Mrs. K. C. Egbert are contemplating a trip East this Fall.

A box social will be given in the Government schoolhouse Friday evening. The proceeds to paint the cheese factory.

Everyone is busy threshing these days.

Miss Hazel King has gone to Newport on a visit.

Many of the children of Siletz have whooping cough.

Our school opened Monday with the same teachers as last term, Misses Bessie Knauf and Elsie Radandt.

Commissioner John Kentta is building an extensive addition to his house.

Hall Bros., bridge hauling contractors, assure us of having a bridge before Winter sets in, and it certainly looks "sure" if this good weather stays with us.

Salmon and trout fishing is a profitable pastime on the Siletz now.

Miss Claudia McDonald, the Government stenographer, is enjoying a short vacation.

Mrs. Ralph Hamar is expecting a visit from her father, Mr. Nortons, also a sister from Portland.

Upper Farm school will open Monday with Robert DePoe as instructor.

Yaquina

Mrs. O. Winningsted and her son, Chester, left Yaquina September 19th for Oakland, California. Chester expects to enter school there.

M. M. Hackley left Seattle September 18th and arrived in Yaquina Monday night with his new boat the "Fremont." He intends to use the boat for halibut fishing. It is forty-eight feet long and was originally built for a yacht.

The Choral Club met at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. W. C. Hoefflein Thursday evening of last week. An enjoyable time was spent with music and cards. Refreshments were served during the latter part of the evening.

Dr. Carter was called to Yaquina recently to attend little John Litchfield, who sustained rather painful bruises about the face, as the result of a collision met with while sliding down hill.

School opened in Yaquina September 16th. Twenty-one pupils were in attendance. Miss Cora Phillips of Salem has been engaged to teach this term.

P. T. Alexander, wife and cousin passed through West Yaquina on their way to Florence, a journey of seventy miles. They expect to travel on foot, using one horse to carry their baggage. Mr. Alexander is engaged in the life saving service there.

Many outsiders, as well as residents of Yaquina, have admired Claude Toner's new launch, the "O. A. C." It is built of Port Orford cedar. The engine has not been installed yet but it is understood that the "O. A. C." will take its place with the fastest boats on the Bay. The launch was built by its owner, and he may well be proud of his work.

Mrs. L. E. Casteel left Yaquina Monday morning on her way to Portland, where she expects to purchase stock for the Fall season

J. M. Reeder had a very narrow escape while attempting to cross the Siletz bar in the Orabelle. The water was very rough and in crossing a rope became entangled in the wheel. The waves broke the port lights and stopped the engine. George Chambers, who was at the wheel, escaped being washed overboard by grasping the railing. An anchor was cast, but the boat drifted on the sand. After an hour or more of strenuous labor the men succeeded in getting the boat back to deeper water. Here they hoisted the sail and returned to the harbor.

Supt. R. P. Goin visited the Yaquina and West Yaquina schools Tuesday.

Mrs. J. B. Hayse and children have returned to Portland, after a two month's vacation spent in Yaquina. Mrs. Hayse has made many friends during her visit and her departure was much regretted.

Miss Genevieve Ryan closed a successful term of school at Mill Four last Friday. She left for Portland Monday morning.

Miss Irene Branch left Yaquina Monday morning, going to Salem, where she will attend Krapp's Normal School.

John Eckert, one of Yaquina's pioneers, left Thursday morning for Portland, where he will enter the Old People's Home. Judge Gardner accompanied him.

Chitwood

Mrs. Beulah Barkalow, who has been visiting for the past month with her father, J. E. Wilson, left Monday for Cottage Grove. She will visit friends there for a while before returning to her home in Los Angeles.

Archie Wilson left Monday for Eugene.

Mrs. F. R. Weaver is staying a few days with Mrs. J. E. Davis.

J. Q. Adams went to Toledo Saturday, returning Tuesday.

A. T. Peterson and Robert Mann came up from Toledo Tuesday. Mr. Peterson was weighing his chittim which he bought here this Summer.

J. E. Wilson went to Nortons Thursday to prepare for shipment two tons of moss which he had stored there.
