Nashville

The Citizens' Club failed to make good last night. It was an "off night." The two previous evenings when Tinker and Withycombe of Corvallis addressed us, were grand events, but when the rain and small attendance curtailed our membership audience to a mere quorum things seemed insipid and stale, resulting in a short program and little of interest. Our next one is sure to take the other extreme and we shall have a lively tilt, a rousing program and a comforting and entertaining meeting.

Mr. Wagner of Alliance, Nebraska, is here seeking a home, and would be a valuable addition to our sturdy, industrious population.

C. F. Chamberlain of Portland is to locate here very soon,—another highly agreeable addition to our neighborhood.

Prof. Philip Brady is expecting to go to the Soap Lake country to try to get relief from the painful attacks of rheumatism, which has enthralled him with excruciating pains for some weeks.

The Sunday school is using its influence to secure soakers to preach for us next week. Rev. Roherbaugh of Albany promises to come and bring a speaker.

S. R. Davis gave the Eighth Grade examination to the class at this place.

D. F. Lister goes out to Corvallis on important business the first of the week.

The prospect for crops were never better in this locality, although late, are yet promising in the extreme, and what speaks loudest is many more acres are being sown than at any former time.

Gus Winkler, according to a statement by Dr. Withycombe, has an exceptionally valuable milch cow, although not a Jersey. The speaker gave the Citizens' Club to understand that the said cow is a "freak" rather than a blooded strain of milch cows. It matters little to the owner as to pedigree if she gives the quality and it is productive of above standard per cent butter fat.

The bridge gang s. James Browns' and John McGee's, with a full force of bridge carpenters, are doing a high class of work and making good time. The Miller gang went to Nortons Friday.

Few of our people could get to the picnic Saturday, it being too rainy.

Charley Hyde will run his launch out over the bar early tomorrow morning, going to Newport.

The owner of the horse that swam across the bay and followed Clarence Parmele home, came hunting it. He had brought it from Tillamook a short time ago. The horse knew the direction back to its old home and intended going.

Well, we will have a phone line up the beach from Newport, which will connect with our line at Joe Sijata's.

Mrs. Noble Felix passed through on her way to the Agency last week, where she was called and from there she goes to Portland as a witness in the Federal Court.

John Davenport returned to his work at S. J. Stewart's Monday, after a few days' rest at home.

C. C. Brown of Dayton came in Saturday taking a nice milk cow back with him.

Newport

John Schirmer and Bill Backus have mysteriously disappeared. It is thought by some that they have been drowned in the bay.

The gasoline boat Seadog, Capt. M. Swachsmith and Andrew Colver as mate, was out deep sea fishing Monday and brought in a catch of over 1800 pound of halibut and a few linn and rock cod. This same boat went out Friday in one of the worst storms of the season and brought in 1000 pounds of halibut, rock cod and gruners, all fine fish. The Ollie S., Capt. Carnes as master, is also engaged in deep sea fishing and she also brings in from 1000 to 1200 pounds of fish at each trip. The halibut beds are out some twenty-five miles off shore and no one knows the extent of the beds. A number of boats will engage in this kind of fishing this year. The halibut sells readily at ten cents per pound. Most of the fish are shipped to the Portland market while a fair market is maintained at home. The cold storage plant will soon be ready for use then the fish can be taken care of at home. This fish industry is getting to be more important every day.

The Ahwaneda came in Friday with over 90 tons of miscellaneous freight for Newport, Toledo and Waldport. She went to Waldport today, Tuesday, with a cargo of freight for that city, mostly household goods. This vessel makes quick trips and is doing a fine business. It takes a pretty heavy sea to stop Captain Morse.

The Fish, Capt. Dolby, has just returned from Coos bay. The little vessel has a new coat of paint, given her at Marsfield, and she looks fine. The boat service at Newport and the bay is getting better all the time. Nearly every farmer along the river has a gasoline boat of his own.

The gasoline launch Transit, Capt. Norton, which runs from Elk City to Newport is doing a fine business. This boat fills a long felt want. The river from Newport to Elk City, a distance of 22 miles, is navigable for vessels drawing five or six feet of water. This is one of the most beautiful rivers on the coast and it is one of the most pleasant trips that one could take.

The baseball team that attended the picnic at Eddyville Saturday report that they had a most excellent time in spite of the rain. A superb dinner was served by the good people of that community. The games and contests were all interesting and enjoyable. The baseball team of Newport came out victorious and won the prize after a hard fought contest. A good crowd was present and the meeting was a success and should be kept up.

The Mirene came in Sunday with a full cargo of freight for the Newport merchants. She will return to Portland in a day or two.

Thomas Pollock, superintendent of the Elk City fish hatchery, with his wife and mother in law, came down on the Transit and spent several hours on the beach.

These gentlemen will all ship cream. Mr. Kane speaks highly of P. H. Martin's herd of Jerseys, saying he hadn't seen a "better all-round bunch in Oregon" which made P. H. justly proud as he has spared nothing to make them so.

Mrs. Chas. Godley and son, Howard, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Grant.

Geo. E. Darting and Mr. Standley of Toledo came up last Saturday and visited at the home of R. E. Darting. Mr. Darting returned Monday but Mr. Standley remained to look for a homestead.

The Eddyville School Picnic

Yes, it rained, but we don't believe in letting a little shower spoil our plans.

The train pulled into Eddyville shortly after nine o'clock. We spread our umbrellas as we stepped onto the platform, or on a pile of lumber that lay near the track. The citizens of the little village and the surrounding country were there to welcome our little band—the Toledo and Newport Band.

Registering for the different contests was the first part of the program. After the band played a few pieces there was an address of welcome by C. C. McBride, and a response by Superintendent R. P. Goin. A literary program which closed with an address by Superintendent Goin.

The baseball game was played, the Toledo High School against a picked team from the school boys in the other parts of the county. The score was 11 to 6 in favor of the County boys.

That dinner! Chicken and gooseberry pie and so many other good things, one could not tell which to eat first. Yes, there was enough for all. We didn't eat the half of it.

The field meet, part of it consisted of pole vaulting, running broad jump, races, A. and B. classes, over 16 and under 16. The girls also had some short dashes and one relay race. The prizes, which consisted of ribbons, were awarded just as the train was coming around the bend. The Toledo school boys carried off the banner.
