Waldport

The Ahwaneda came in Wednesday evening.

An entertainment given Friday evening, the 3d, at the church netted over $25 which is to be applied toward painting the building.

Eighty to a hundred salmon have been the rule among the fishermen the last few nights.

The establishment of a fruit cannery is again being discussed and we believe in the near future we will have such an institution.

Waldport wets have succeeded in getting the liquor question again on the ballot. It is up to the women this time. We are wondering what will be the result.

Waldport's city election is to be held the 2d of December. Thus far there are no candidates in the field.

Elk City and Big Elk

Elk City's most popular young lady, Miss Sophia Holem, returned from a six weeks' visit at her old home in Banks, Oregon. A dance was given Friday night at Van Orden's Hall in her honor.

Everybody at Elk City attended the Fair, for a little while anyway. Ches Morrison stayed longer than he wanted to.

We notice a large display of Blue Jay corn plasters in J. C. Dixon's store.

Mr. Bristlen has nearly finished rock the Bear Creek grade. He is rejoicing as well as the patrons of the road. He should be highly complimented for the quality of work he is doing. That portion of the road that is finished is very comfortable to ride over. Only those who have driven over the road in Winter time can realize the value of the improvement to this community.

We notice a huge sign over the entrance to the A. C. Young place which christens it the "Big Elk Dairy Ranch—W. F. G. Thacher."

There was rather a small crowd at Mr. Cunningham's sale, but always a lot of cattle buyers. Mrs. Rieron was the heaviest buyer, Mrs. Winkill and ex-Sheriff Ross being close seconds.

L. V. Calkins commenced stocking the Big Elk Dairy Ranch at Mr. Cunningham's sale, when he bought two fine dairy cows.

D. B. Ramsdal and son, Arthur, are assisting George Hodges build them a launch.

A gathering of Big Elk dairymen was held in Elk City Saturday for the purpose of organizing a co-operative creamery. No decision was gained but another conference will be held today.

Newport

Died—At Albany, October 1st 1913, while undergoing an operation for strangulated hernia, Mrs. Marion Knudsen, aged 78 years. She was born in Arandal, Norway and came to America about thirty-five years ago. She lived on North Beaver, this county, about twenty-five years. While living on the farm her husband died, leaving an only son, Carl, and his family, who now live at Newport, to mourn their loss. Mrs. Knudsen was known for her cheerful disposition and her desire to help the needy and distressed. She had no enemies, but a host of friends. She will be missed. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Chas. T. Hurd at the Presbyterian church. The interment took place in Eureka Cemetery. The floral offerings were large and beautiful. A large number of friends and neighbors attended the services as last tribute of respect to their departed friend. Requiescat in peace.

Died—At Newport, October 6th, 1913, of valvular heart disease, Clause Anthony, aged 74 years, 4 months and 24 days. His death was sudden. On Monday morning while walking from his bed room to the parlor he sank down and expired immediately. His wife and two sons were present when he passed away. Mr. Anthony had been suffering from heart disease for many years and for the past fifteen years he had been coming to Newport for his health. The low altitude and mild climate seemed to benefit him and no doubt prolonged his life. He was born in Germany and came to America in 1858, and to Albany in 1892, where he lived till about three weeks before he died. He is survived by his wife and nine children, three girls and six boys, who live near Albany, except one daughter who lives in Minnesota. Mr. Anthony was a very successful farmer and a good citizen. His remains were taken to Albany for burial.

A Correction—The shark spoken of last week had 276 teeth instead of 176 as published.

Several automobiles have come in lately and they complain bitterly about the condition of the road in district No. 8, especially of the narrow grade near Dave Williams place and on the Pioneer Mountain. They say this section of the road ought to be fixed before another season opens. I am sure if the croakers, cranks and pessimists who left Toledo to go to Eastern Oregon would stay away the people of that road district would vote a tax sufficient to make a good road through that section and thus encourage the large travel that is coming that way and which is increasing all the time.

The Mirene and Ahwaneda have gone to Portland for another cargo of freight.

The plan is to improve our water ways and roads just as fast as possible, and if the cynics and kickers will stay away the people will succeed. One kicker will stand off four or five progressive people. Kill the kickers!

Eddyville

Cline Bros. had the misfortune to lose their prize winning billy goat. This goat has the honor of eight first prizes and seven sweepstakes which he had won in Oregon, Washington and California. He was purchased by W. J. Cline in 1911 at the big Angora goat show at Dallas.

W. F. Wakefield made a trip to Blodgett valley after cedar posts for the Yaquina Bay Mutual Telephone company. These posts are to be used to stub the telephone poles to. Mr. Cummins and crew are busy at work on the line and no doubt we will have first class telephone service this winter.

Mrs. A. B. Hunt is up and around after a long sick spell.

Eddyville was at the Fair with a full lineup. Mrs. W. J. Cline walked off with first prize and sweepstakes in the bread baking contest, winning a barrel of flour, the bread being baked with the Drifted Snow flour from Ed W. Mauch, the Eddyville merchant.

Mother McGee is very poorly with very little hopes of recovery.

C. G. Damon is busy harvesting his spud crop.

G. Downie, the Eddyville blacksmith, has started a Belgian hare plant. Marion Hunt also has started a cat farm.

Renus Arnold and Clarence Ostedahl spent a cold night on the Little Elk mountain with a crippled auto.

There is something doing at Eddyville every minute.

Farmers are busy sowing their Fall grain.

S. T. Loudon is hauling lumber for his son, Virgil, who is going to build a bungalow.

Nashville

The quite, persistent, continuous misty night began falling at about midnight and has developed into a steady downpour, and, while it does little or no harm, is quite inconvenient to those who have outside work.

The Nashville Citizens' Club is busily engaged in developing a berry patch in a co-operative manner. Success to their undertaking, because there will be no work attached to their co-operation, as it is only "wind work" we do.

Lester West bought a farm here last week, and he and his family are visiting in Linn and Marion counties. He is an electric engineer on the U. S. corps in Alaska.

The farmers are crowded with their farm work.

James Hiland has rented the John Berreth farm and pasture land, and J. L. Brown rented the berry patches and house and barn.

H. L. Johnson sent his wood saw out this way last week, finishing at J. L. Brown's Sunday a. m.

J. A. Bewley goes out to Corvallis with his family soon to stay over winter.

A. J. Bewley will have charge of the farm.

The O.A.C. management has a topographer here and a soil expert plating the Yerex place.

The Gillets are doing a fine business now. They have added several lines of goods and their trade is rapidly increasing and their many patrons are well pleased with their attentive methods of business.

Lenoa Hughes is employed at the Gillett store this week.

Kernville

Elder C. F. Parmele of Raswell, N. M. and wife are here visiting his brother G. S. Parmele. They had not met for over twenty years.

Mrytle Parmele went to Cottage Grove to teach in the Royal school. She had been there just a week when she was called home by the death of her brother, Clarence.

Three of the Gorten children will attend the Royal school, and one in the Laurelwood school.

The road from Drift River to Schooner creek is in fine shape. It is graded and graded across the tideland.

Rock Creek

G. H. Horsfall has finished his work on the road at Siletz and is with us again.

The Wigle bridge, under the supervision of W. J. Southwell, has undergone a complete change. With the new needle beams, sway braces and the general overhauling the bridge is now ready for heavy duty.

Royal Plank drove his team to Dallas again this week. He reports the roads being in very bad condition.

Mr. Gunn, the purchaser of the Poutta place, has moved his family in and settled down to farming. Here is hoping success to you, Mr. Gunn, for if there is anything we need more in this locality than a good neighbor it is "more of em."

W. J. Southwell and wife made a business trip to Toledo this week. They drove down by way of Siletz

C. S. Parmele Passes Away

Clarence Parmele died at the home of his parents on Drift River on September 28th, at 4 a. m. Clarence had lived in this vicinity for seventeen years. He was 31 years, 2 months and 28 days old. He drove from his home on Devils Lake Saturday morning feeling as well as ever. When he reached Taft, the place of the Sabbath school and meeting, he unhitched his team, led them to the barn, tied one horse and started to tie the other when he was suddenly taken with such a pain he very nearly died there. He was taken into Wm Dodson's house where all was done that loving hands could do. In the evening they moved him to his parents' home. He grew worse all the time until the end came. Two doctors and a nurse was called but did not get there. His sister, Myrtle, was in Cottage Grove and arrived just in time to see him laid away. He leaves a wife, three sons, father, mother, two brothers and one sister, besides other relatives and friends to mourn their loss. Mr. Parmele was a kind, dutiful son, a loving brother, a kind husband and father. He had won by his kind and genial ways many friends as was proven by the large attendance at his funeral held in Dodson & Cook's hall, September 30th. He was laid away by lantern light to await the return of the Life Giver. Clarence was a Christian from his youth and had nothing to fear. The funeral was conducted by his uncle, Elder C. F. Parmele.

Ted McElwain returned Sunday from a visit to Portland.

Warren Hall of Siletz returned Sunday from a visit at the State Fair.

Toledo's Junior football team will play Newport's Juniors at Newport tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Lytey King returned the first of the week from Coos county, where they have been the past Summer.

O. R. Hollingsworth returned Tuesday evening from a trip to Portland and Newberg. He bagged several pheasants while away.

John Adams was over from Siletz Saturday morning. He brought his sons, John and Russell to the train, on their way to the Indian School at Chemawa. The boys will keep posted through the Leader during the coming year.
