A Composition

The State Seal of Oregon is round in shape. First, around the outside is a stripe on which is written, "Seal of the State of Oregon 1859." Inside of that is a row of stars not running quite around the circle. Next comes a figure, the shape of a shield; at the top of it is an eagle with outspread wings. In one claw he holds an olive branch in the other a bunch of arrows. Just below that (in the shield) is a river with boats on it; on one side a mountain with a deer standing on a cliff. On the bottom land, below this is an emigrant wagon. Right under all of this on a ribbon is written "The Union." Below this is a plow and a sheaf of wheat. Marjorie Ball, Grammar School
