Peculiar After Effects of Grip This Year
Leaves Kidneys in Weakened Condition

Doctors in all parts of the country have been kept busy with the epidemic of grip which has visited so many homes. The symptoms of grip this year are often very distressing and leave the system in a run down condition, particularly the kidneys which seem to suffer most, as almost every victim complains of lame back and urinary troubles which should not be neglected, as these danger signals often lead to dangerous kidney troubles. Druggists report a large sale on Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root which so many people say soon heals and strengthens the kidneys after an attack of grip. Swamp-Root is a great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, and being an herbal compound, has a gentle healing effect on the kidneys, which is almost immediately noticed in most cases by those who try it. Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., offer to send a sample size bottle of Swamp-Root, on receipt of ten cents, to every sufferer who requests it. A trial will convince any one who may be in need of it. Regular size bottles 50 cts. and $1.00. For sale at all druggists. Be sure to mention this paper.

Don't Wait Till You're All Bunged Up. Use S. S. S. Now.
If you will go into any first class store and get a bottle of S. S. S. you are on the way to getting rid of Catarrh. But don't let anyone work off that old trick of something "Just as good."
S. S. S. is taken into the blood just as naturally as the most nourishing food. It spreads its influence over every organ in the body, comes through all the veins and arteries, enables all mucous surfaces to exchange inflammatory acids and other irritating substances for arterial elements that effectually cleanse the system and thus put an end to all catarrhal pollution. S. S. S. cleans out the stomach of mucous accumulations, enables only pure, blood-making materials to enter the intestines, combines with those food elements to enter the circulation, and in less than an hour is at work throughout the body in the process of purification.
The medicinal components of S. S. S. are relatively just as essential to well-

MONKEYS EASY PREY
JUNGLE LEOPARDS HAVE NO TROUBLE GETTING A DINNER.

More Clicking of Animal's Teeth Frighten Simians Until in Their Excitement They Fall From the Trees.

How the leopards of the low country jungle of Ceylon capture monkeys is told by L. S. Woolf in a letter to the London Times.

"Native Singhaese, who knew the jungle well," he writes, "always assured me that no form of food, except perhaps the dog, is so acceptable to the leopard as the large gray Wanderoo monkey. I have several times found the remains of monkeys that had obviously furnished the leopard's meal in the caves which serve the leopards for a lair—and the inside of a dead leopard has shown further proof.

"The Singhaese had often told me that leopards do not attempt to climb trees in search of their prey.

"Whenever monkeys see a leopard slinking under the trees they become excited and all chatter. As soon as the leopard hears this he lies down under a bush and begins to click his teeth.

"This noise seems to fill the monkey with terror and excitement. They huddle together in the tree top above the leopard's head, jumping up and down on the branches, shrieking and chattering. Below the leopard waits motionless, clicking its teeth, until suddenly one of the monkeys misses its footing and comes to the ground with a thud—and then the leopard is on it in a bound.

"I had always received this information with some doubt until I one day saw, at any rate, the first acts of the tragedy. I was traveling in thick jungle and my bullock carts having gone on in the early afternoon, I was following later in the evening down the same sandy track. I noticed that a large leopard had been following behind the bulls and that he had suddenly turned aside down a small game track.

"At the same moment I became aware of a tremendous chattering of monkeys in the distance. I had a Singhaese with me and we crept through the thick jungle toward the noise.

"After crawling about 150 yards I saw about fifteen to twenty monkeys jumping up and down excitedly on the top of a small tree. They seemed to be looking down at something on the other side of a large bush which was in front of me and when they saw us they kept on turning their heads first at us and then to something else, leaping up and down and shrieking perpetually—and as it appeared to me—gesticulating and beckoning to us with their long, thin gray arms.

"The same thought came to the Singhaese, for he whispered to me: 'They are beckoning you to shoot.' I lay still for a moment thinking which side of the bush it was best to crawl around, and then I distinctly heard the click, click, click of the leopard's teeth behind it. I chose the wrong side, for as I came around all I saw was the leopard disappear in a great curving bound into the thick jungle beyond."

Identify Men by Veins.
Professor Tamassia of the University of Padua, advocates the adoption of an identification system the basis of which is the photographing of the veins of the hands. He says the merest novice can detect variations, while long training is necessary to distinguish differences in finger prints.

His Dying Words.
"I've been caught napping at last," said the moth that the man discovered in his heavy ulster.

Dreamless Rabbit.
Those who want a dreamless sleep after the late tidbits will surely appreciate this rule and will enjoy the dish in the bargain.

Put in the blazer of a chaffing dish one tablespoonful of butter; when hot add one cupful of milk, a cupful of fresh breadcrumbs, two cups of grated fresh cheese, add a teaspoonful of dry mustard and a pinch of paprika and salt. Stir constantly and when well blended add two well-beaten eggs. Cook one minute and serve at once on hot crackers. This is delicious made with Edam cheese, using one cup of grated cheese, one and one-half cups of milk and one and one-half cups of breadcrumbs. It also makes a good luncheon dish.

Got the Owl, Anyway.
While William E. Whiting of Ellsworth, Me., was on his way down street one evening he heard a peculiar commotion, and upon investigating it he found a dove in the clutches of an owl. He hurried to his home and secured his shotgun and upon returning, found that the dove had escaped, but the owl was still there and was shot.

"All is Well That Ends Well"

Along with dyspepsia comes nervousness, sleeplessness and general ill health. Why? Because a disordered stomach does not permit the food to be assimilated and carried to the blood. On the other hand, the blood is charged with poisons which come from this disordered digestion. In turn, the nerves are not fed on good, red blood and we see those symptoms of nervous breakdown. It is not hard work that does it, but poor stomach work. With poor thin blood the body is not protected against the attack of germs of grip—bronchitis—consumption. Fortify the body now with
