Newport

On Sunday, June 21 at 11:30 the steamer Bandon, Capt. Schilling, crossed the bar, tide 5 ft. 6 inches. The shallowest place on the bar was 16 1/2 feet. The vessel drew 13 1/2 feet. She crossed without any trouble. Capt. Stuart of the life saving launch Undaunted piloted the Bandon over the bar. She was bound for San Francisco with a cargo of 550,000 feet of lumber. She was piloted from Toledo to Newport by Capt. Carner with the Olile S. She came part of the way after night arriving at Newport at 9:30. The lumber business of Lincoln county is so important that everyone is anxious to see it established on a solid basis. The fine waterway is now as it was in past, receiving attention of Congress. The opening the way by the people and the government to market the products of this great lumber industry means thousands of dollars to the citizens of this section of the county.

J. H. Fitzgerald, manager of the Portland & West Coast Navigation company, has been at Newport a week looking after the interest of his company. The survey is being made and the road located as per agreement in the franchise. The survey has been made along the Water Front and the survey and plat must be made within six months from the date of the franchise, and filed. This will be done. The first ground must be broken the track laid on the Newport end of the road within 18 months from the time the agreement was made. $8,000 is the forfeit if these conditions are not complied with. Mr. Fitzgerald is very anxious that the agreement on the part of his company should be fulfilled in every particular. The road is to be completed and cars running to Newport within four years from the date of the agreement as stated in the franchise. This, Mr. Fitzgerald assures the people will be done. The line of railroad as laid out across the Coast Range of mountains to Newport is one of scenic beauty from one end to the other. The road passes through one of the finest timber belts in the world. On every 40 acres of land a fine spring of water rushes down the mountain side to mingle its waters with the broad Pacific. The roaring, lashing and dashing of the waves of the great ocean on the rock bound shore throwing its spray a hundred feet in the air is a scene impossible to describe, when the sun shines on these breakers in the reflected light of the seven colors of the rainbow. This road when completed will be the most traveled by tourists of any railroad in the West. When mills are built and dairy ranches are established and the resources of the county developed Lincoln county will be one of the richest counties in the state.

"Uncle Josh" a melodrama in four acts, a play full of feeling and interest from the beginning to the end, was put on at the moving show Tuesday evening and will be played two nights in succession. It is given by the Rhododendron Rebekah Lodge, No. 137. The play was intensely interesting from the start and was considered by some critics as being the best play ever put on the stage at Newport. The players all belong to Newport and all are amateurs. Cast of characters: Count DeCourville, noble in name but ignoble in character, C. H. Bradshaw. Uncle Josh, from Vermont, G. A. Arson. A Young New Yorker, Ben Tozer. One of New York's "400" Harrison Bradshaw. Slippery Joe, a bunko stealer, Walter Cramer. A Swell Irish Dive Keeper, Jesse Frey. A Detective, W. L. Hucksabay. Erastus, Mrs. Reynolds's servant, C. A. Averill. Mrs. Reynolds, Josh's sister, a widow, Mrs. M. D. Brown. Lettie, her daughter, in love with Gerald, Mrs. H. F. Jenkins. Minerva Clacket, who is getting desperate, Mrs. Jesse Frey. Time—the present day. Place—New York. The orchestra, Director J. P. Fernwick, played some fine pieces of music. Violin, J. W. Pickens. Violin, Miss Irene Branch. Violin, Miss Josephine Branch. Cornet, Ray Colver. Clarinet, Harold Wygant. Trombone, Lloyd Colver. Trap drums, Paul Black. Piano, Mrs. Thompson. The house was crowded and the receipts were $46. This same play will be given at Toledo Friday evening.

Tallman Athletics vs. Toledo Sunday

Next Sunday the Toledo team will take on the Tallman Athletics, who have a reputation as being a fast bunch of ball players. Game called at 2:30. Admission 10 and 25 cents.

All About Mary

When Mary starts to board a car, just see how brazen bad men are; why don't they turn their head, I beg, why should they look at Mary's—hat? Those high step-cars are a disgrace; they are entirely out of place; the distance truly should be half, then Mary wouldn't show her—animosity. When Mary starts to dance a bit men folks nearly have a fit; if more clothes her form did drape, Mary wouldn't show her—disposition. Mary steps across the gutter—oh, the mean things men do utter; Mary's anger 'gins to rankle—why should they talk about her—elbow? When Mary wears that short slit skirt the men all try with her to flirt, and wonder if that naughty breeze doesn't chill her to the—shoulder.—Ex.
