Newport

The committee appointed to make arrangements for the entertainment of the newspaper and railroad men that come in by special train Thursday evening consisted of the following gentlemen: Thomas Leese, George Blanchard, S. G. Irvin, J. T. Plant, M. Wygant and R. A. Bensell. The newspapermen were guests of the railroad officials, brought in to see the condition of the track and to spend a day at Newport. A splendid banquet was given the party at The Abbey. In addition to the twenty editors and railroad officials some thirty of the citizens of Newport and Toledo were invited to the banquet which was an elegant and sumptuous affair. The large dining room was brilliantly lighted and the tables were decorated with evergreens and beautiful flowers, the rose predominating. Hon. R. A. Bensell acted as master of ceremonies as well as toast master. Mr. Bensell is an expert as a presiding officer. After supper two hours were spent in short, humorous talks by the editors and John M. Scott, general passenger agent of the S. P. company. Each speaker had something good to say of Newport and its beautiful surroundings. The most interesting address, however, was given by Addison Bennett, staff correspondent of the Oregonian. This speech should have special mention. Mr. Bennett being a man of extensive observations could speak with authority. In comparing the state of Washington with that of Oregon he said the former had ten times the wealth and population that the latter had because of the enterprise of the citizens of Washington, and the splendid system she had of advertising. Forty years ago Washington was hardly known while Oregon was considered one of the best states of the Union. Mr. Scott was pleased to announce that the track on the Corvallis & Eastern was in splendid condition and there was no danger whatever in trains passing over it. He said a sleeping and observation car would be put on the road between here and Portland for the months of July and August. This service will commence next Sunday, the 19th. The train will leave Portland Sunday morning at 1:30 and will reach Yaquina at 10 a. m. Sunday; returning, the car will leave Yaquina at 6 p. m. Sunday and reach Portland at 7:30 Monday morning. The car will receive passengers after 10 o'clock Saturday night and will leave Portland at 1:30 Sunday morning. The Newport people have tried to secure this service for many years, but now, through the help of the S. P. they will succeed. This arrangement will give a splendid service for those who wish to come to Newport. Mr. Scott said a third more people would come to Newport this year than last and the automobile travel will be doubled. Last year more than 60,000 people visited Newport during the season. The round trip from Portland will remain the same as heretofore, $6.25. The ticket is good for six months. This is the cheapest rate of any coast road. The party had a good time and went away feeling well pleased with their entertainment and thought Newport was a royal host and that she would be the greatest seaside resort on the Pacific coast.

The fishing schooner Daisy came in Saturday with 30,000 pounds of halibut. The most of this catch will have to be put in cold storage because the home market is not large enough to consume it. It is not so hard to catch the fish as it is to find a market for them.

The government fishing schooner Albatross is now at the Newport halibut beds. The largest amount of these fish are being taken to Seattle and other markets.

After partaking of a sumptuous banquet at Toledo prepared for them by the brothers there, some seventy-five Elk came to Newport, arriving about midnight Saturday. The introduction into the city being the setting off of 5,000 firecrackers. This noise awoke the sleeping denizens of Newport. At first it was thought a Japanese warship had turned loose on the city, but when we saw the tall, white stovepipe hats and the long, white ulster coats we knew what was up. It was the "Best People on Earth" entering the city. The white coats and hats were emblematic of innocence and purity. There was a general hustling and bustling about the Abbey to provide places for their accommodation. Those that could not be provided for at the Abbey were sent to nearby rooming houses. Soon all had places to stop and the next day was put in strolling on the beach and bathing in the natatorium and viewing the city. They spoke of having had a good time and felt very grateful for the splendid entertainment they had both at Toledo and Newport.

Saturday and Sunday over seven hundred people came to Newport. The day was fine and less wind with some mist in the morning, which obscured the sun and made it most pleasant for the people.

Prof. Joseph Emery and his wife are on a visit at Newport, the guests of the Abbey. They are visiting their son, W. G. Emery, who is a resident of Newport. Prof. Emery was formerly one of the teachers in the O.A.C. for 18 years. He spoke of the wonderful growth of that institution. Last year the enrollment was 2,300 students and the valuation of the property is one million and a half dollars and it employs one hundred and forty teachers. Prof. Emery will return to Henleyville, California, where he is pastor of the First Methodist church.

A banquet was given the druggists at The Abbey Tuesday evening at 8:30. About two hundred and fifty of the pill makers were present and partook of the sumptuous repast. Dr. M. M. Davis made the address of welcome and the irrepressible Fred Dawson gave the response. It was altogether fitting that Dr. Davis should give the address of welcome because he was the first president of the society. A. W. Allen, secretary of the association acted as toastmaster. Dr. Withycombe was present and delivered a short address. The Doctor has a good many friends in Newport and Lincoln county. The session of five days will be held in the Opera House. A good time is anticipated by all present. It is the 25th anniversary—the Silver Anniversary—of the society.

Toledo 8; Newport 5

Toledo easily won the game from Newport last Sunday by the score of eight to five. At the beginning of the seventh inning the score stood eight to nothing in our favor but a few errors on Toledo, coupled with several lousy hits by Newport, brought in four runs in this inning, then in the ninth they annexed one more which ended their scoring. Toledo made her runs, four in the second inning one in the third two in the fourth and one in the sixth. Toledo played air tight ball until the fatal seventh. The lineup follows:

Newport	Toledo
Miller	Carson
Gray	1b Groth
Gurnee	ss Goodell
Bain	3b Bissett
Baker	rf Reed
Coffield	2b Casey
Kirkland	cf Davis
G. Gurnee	lf Center
Meloney	p Hauser

Warnock & Hughes this week discovered a large tarantula in a bunch of bananas. Allen Hughes found the "beast" when it bit him on the finger, inflicting a very slight scratch hardly noticeable, yet making the finger numb for several hours. The huge "bug" is now happily domiciled in a glass jar.

The judge of a Texas county was also cashier of the town bank. One day a stranger presented a check for payment and his evidence of identification was not satisfactory. "Why, Judge," said the man, "I've known you to sentence men to prison for life on no better evidence than this!" "That may be true," replied the Judge, "but when it comes to handing out cold cash we have to be mighty careful."

Mrs. C. H. Gardner gave a party to a number of the young folks at her home in this city last Friday evening. Those present were, Misses Verne and Mollie Ross, Misses Gertrude and Nellie Baird, Miss Alma Waugh and Miss Jennie Booth, Messrs. E. J. Clark, Joel Booth, Peter Beyers and R. E. Collins, Judge and Mrs. Gardner. The evening was spent in games, whist taking up the principal part of the evening. Refreshments were served at twelve o'clock, after which Miss Waugh played several selections on the piano and Miss Verne Ross sang.

Two carloads of Elk of the Albany lodge arrived in Toledo last Saturday evening on the local passenger train. Their advent into the city was marked by the firing of several barrels of fire crackers. At the depot they formed in line, and headed by their band, marched through the streets to the Oddfellow Hall, where the local members of the order had prepared a royal feast. At eleven o'clock they went to Newport and spent Sunday. They were out for a good time, and they seemingly had it.

Miss Jean Bell and Miss Lillie Miller of Pioneer are among the Lincoln county representatives at the University of Oregon Summer School. Both are taking courses in social ethics under Dr. A. A. Berle of Tufts College, Massachusetts, the famous professor of Allied Christianity, who teaches the relation between religion and modern life and modern scholarship. Both, also, are studying courses in history. Miss Bell fills in this course with a study of the theory and practice of gymnasium work, and a course in English, while Miss Miller adds several teachers' courses in education and school administration, and is also taking work in English Literature.

Sawmill Under New Management

The local sawmill last Monday morning went under new management. Lewis Montgomery bought the shares of the company belonging to G. W. Huffmand, and he is now the principal stockholder of the company. Mr. Huffman has retired. C. T. Sailing, formerly with the electric light company, has been appointed as general manager of the mill company, and there has been a few minor changes made in the management of the yard and mill, the same superintendents, who have more definite duties to perform. D. B. Stuart takes Mr. Sailing's place as manager of the electric light and telephone company.
