

THE ROSE FESTIVAL, PORTLAND, JUNE 9-11

Four great pageants, which for beauty, length and the many unique attractive features, will be the greatest parades ever offered in the history of Portland's annual Rose Festival, are included in this year's events.

The opening day, June 9, will feature the parade of the "Human Rosebuds." More than 5,000 children will take part. This will be followed by the crowning of the queen at the Festival Center during the afternoon. Towards evening 3,000 children—boys and girls—will assemble at Multnomah Field for a concert, the largest children's concert ever held in the Pacific Northwest.

Wednesday, June 10, will feature the decorated automobile and vehicle parade in which more than 300 floats will be seen, the most wonderful spectacle of the kind ever attempted. The evening of the second day will bring together more than 4000 adult voices in a great community sing.

Friday, June 11, closing day of the Festival, will witness the monster fraternal, industrial and military parade, the grandest pageant of the kind ever offered. More than 10,000 people will be in line of march with some of the most unique floats ever seen in the West. The annual electric parade, which for its dazzling beauty has never been equalled in the United States, will be one of the big night features.

This year's program will offer some event every hour of the day from early on the morning of June 9, until the Festival closes at midnight of June 11. Band concerts will be hourly features and flying vocal squadrons will be heard in down town hotels and the Festival Center will offer novel entertainment features of some kind hourly.

The annual Rose show at the Armory, where more than 2,000,000 beautiful roses will be on display, will open June 9 and continue for the three days of fiesta. More than 500 school boys will participate in a roller skating marathon over the public streets.

The Pacific Northwest Association has awarded the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club the P. N. A. track and field championships and the Northwest try-out championships for 1915. These try-out events will be held during the Rose Festival under the auspices of the Multnomah Club and the Festival governors. Medals will be awarded the winners by the fiesta management. The winners of the Rose Festival events will have the privilege of entering the Far Western championships at San Francisco, a feature of the exposition.

OWED TO AN ACHING TOOTH

"Misery loveth companionship" Fell from a post sage's lips. He did not know, I ween forsooth, How misery loves an aching tooth. Two days, two nights—aye double these— And e'en at times upon my knees I've suffered, died and prayed and swore And cursed and fumed and raved and tore To think that old time poetry Hitched misery to such company. Foul things I've said—the lies I've told— Seem harboured in that molar's hold, Till Meserer is the tune With which my conscience holds commune. And torture racks my throbbing jaw, While jumping pains distort my maw. I've creosoted—would induce Some solace with "Terbacker Juice" I've e'en resorted to a "Jag," But Misery loves that danged old snag! —Hi Swan.

ANNUAL INSTITUTE TO BE HELD AT NEWPORT

The annual institute for the teachers of Lincoln county will be held at Newport, April 28, 29 and 30th. There is being a program prepared that will be pleasing as well as profitable to the teachers.

Newport is one of the best places in the state for such meetings, for that is where we all like to spend our spare time anyway, so we will combine work with pleasure and have one of the best institutes that has yet been known in this or any other county. There are about seventy-five teachers now teaching in the county, and a few more schools will start before that time so we should have a better attendance than ever before. While we expect every teacher to be present, we hope to have some of the parents, patrons and school boards with us all or a part of the time. R. P. Goin.

If Roseburg had a few more merchants of the caliber of A. J. Lilburn & Son more industries would be encouraged to locate in town, says the Roseburg Review. A few days ago a salesman for a large Eastern concern called on Mr. Lilburn with a line of brooms at very attractive prices. He was informed that Lilburn and Son carried only a small stock of brooms and that the grocery stores sold most of the brooms. "But," said the salesman, "you can afford to feature brooms at the price I offer them." "No," replied Mr. Lilburn, "I could not afford to feature your brooms at the price you offer them or less. Roseburg has a broom factory, and as long as they are making brooms I will handle them, even if the price is a little higher." After satisfying himself that there was no hope of selling to Mr. Lilburn, he informed him that, while he had brooms to sell and that it was his business to sell them, he could not but admire a merchant who had the pluck to back up his home enterprise, even at a loss to himself. If every merchant in Roseburg, said the salesman, would push Roseburg made brooms the same as Mr. Lilburn, the factory would be running to its capacity and even if the prices were higher than others the town would be gainer in the long run and there would be fewer idle men. The above item applies to Toledo or any other town.

THE users of "Right-Cut," the Real Tobacco Chew would buy it if it cost twice the money, and it would cost less to chew it even then.

"Right-Cut" is real tobacco—mellow sappy, age-ripened leaf, seasoned and sweetened just enough.

You get the real tobacco taste that men find so satisfying. Get a pouch from your dealer.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end. It is a ready chew, cut fine and short so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary tanned tobacco makes you spit too much. The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and licorice. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut."

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.
