The Sunday excursion was light on account of the very inclement weather. About 25 persons came from the Valley and about as many more got on the train at Elk City, Toledo and at other points along the route.

A gentleman living at Newport said about one hundred years ago they had the same kind of winter and spring. He said it rained all summer and the bays and sloughs were covered with ducks and geese. He thought the same kind of weather would be repeated this summer.

The Commercial Club held a very interesting meeting at their room, Wednesday evening. A large amount of business was transacted. A number of very interesting reports were handed in by Special Committees, among them a report of the Beaver Creek road.

The people in that community have exhibited as much or more public spirit in the matter of building roads than any other section of the county. The road they are building now runs from Ona to the north side of Beaver Creek to the beach at the mouth of the creek, a distance of four miles. It will cost $1,000 per mile to build the road. The road is now brushed out the whole distance and the next thing is to blow out the stumps. This will require about 1500 or 2000 pounds of powder. Mr. M. L. Commons and Bud Webber—the road supervisor, were by invitation of the Club, present and explained in detail what the community had done towards building the road. Mr. Commons was the spokesman. He complimented the County Court for what it had done to aid in building the road and the people for what they had done to help in the work. Giving one month's labor gratuitously for that purpose which is equivalent to $1,000 and completes one mile of road. The people of that neighborhood are anxious to get to the market and a shipping point. This road gives them a water grade and an easy way to get out. Mr. Commons asked that the Newport people buy the powder for blasting out of the stumps. A committee of five was appointed to look into the matter at once and report. It is thought that 30 percent of the Newport road fund could be applied for that purpose.

The good roads proposition is the most important question before the people. The County Court, under the direction of the road master—Mr. A. J. Porter, has planned a large amount of road work for this year. The proposed road from Elk City to Mill Creek is four miles in length with a water grade. Mr. Porter says it will be a very easy road to build. This is important as it gives the people a wagon road to the County Seat. The trestle work connecting the South Beach wagon road with the dock to be built on deep water at the east side of the big sand spit where boats can land is important. This distance is a little less than half a mile long.

A force of men are now working on the road that cuts out Pioneer Mountain. This road leaves the Corvallis road at the mouth of Simpson Creek three miles west of Chitwood; and follows up the creek over a low pass to Olalla Creek and down that creek to its intersection with the Newport road near the Jay Dunn place. The work on Bald Mountain Road is progressing right along although it is a heavy piece of work. This road will be 9000 feet long with 1300 feet of solid rock. In the South part of the county important road work is going on. This the public high way from the Valley to the famed Yachats country. The improvements that are now being made are between the head waters of the Yachats and Five Rivers. The distance will be four miles with a four per cent grade. Siletz has already done a large amount of road work and will do more.

Elk City 13; Toledo 7

Elk City, Oregon, Special—These were the figures on the score board, when the last man was out in the ninth inning. Elk City started out to win and played ball for eight innings, holding Toledo to two tallies and the Elk City boys chasing 13 over the platter.

In the first half of the ninth, Toledo opened fire with their 42 centimeter seige guns, and Elk City took for their trenches, letting Toledo send five men around to the score keeper before they came out and said enough.

Jimmie Ross and Nels Anderson weren't the biggest men on the grounds, but they possessed a right smart amount of pep. McMillan, Toledo's pitcher could sure pull grass when he tried to get his glomers on the ball. Some of the fans thought he was gathering kale for his silo.

Line up comes next:—

Elk City	Toledo
Bristlin ss	B. Gaither
Simpson 3rd	T. Gaither
S. Graves 2nd	Ross
H. Norton 1st	Anderson

ONA

Monday morning a large crew of men with five good teams, responded to the call of Deputy Road Supervisor, W. C. Weber for volunteer work to complete the first mile of road on the new Beaver Creek road leading to the beach.

The weather was very unpleasant and showery all day but that did not have a depressing effect on the boys who came out to push the work. They all worked with a royal good will as men do when they have a purpose to accomplish.

Tuesday morning the weather prevented the crowd getting together until almost eleven when four of the "braves" went out and blasted stumps until noon, after lunch they were joined by five more men and together they put in some good work.

Wednesday gave promise of nice weather and the men came out in force. R. W. Ohmart has been in charge of the crew which has been slashing out the entire right-of-way to the beach. One more day will finish this part of the work. This crew is on the job with the volunteer workers this week and are working just as hard with their donation work as if they were being paid for their labors. When you find men who go to and from their work whistling, who "gurr up" their teams to hurry to the next piece of work that must be done, you will know just the kind of men we have in Ona who are contributing their time when they are very busy on their ranches. We do not want to "toot our own horn" but we want everyone to know how we "dig in" to "make good" when we are given any encouragement. We know the County has many miles of road to keep up and while the County Court has been very generous with us, they cannot afford to give us all the money we need on roads in this community so we are doing our share.

If all communities in the County would organize and help themselves just a little the road work would not be the "mill stone" it is, on the neck of our County Court, who are, we are fully convinced, honest and fair minded men, and we want them to know we appreciate the help
