NUMBER 31

NEWPORT

A teachers reception was given at the High School building on the evening of September 15th for the purpose of getting the parents, patrons and teachers together so as to become acquainted with each other and to study and formulate plans to make the school more successful. Elmer Patrick, a member of the board of trustees, called the house to order and stated the object of the meeting. A short program was rendered. Instrumental solo by Miss McElroy, who is a favorite at Newport. Address, B. L. Black, subject, Parents-Teachers Associations. This organization is doing much good at Newport. It helps to bring teacher and parent in a closer relation and it also helps to encourage and stimulate a school spirit in the community. A teacher may have ever so much enthusiasm in her work and unless she has the sympathy and co-operation of the parents her efforts will be neutralized more or less. Mr. Black emphasized the importance of these meetings.

Address by Prof. Artman, principal of the school. Mr. Artman said the teacher did not need any sympathy. She had a great work to perform—the destiny of the nation was in her hands. What she needed was equipment and the rest would follow. The teachers already have the school spirit and a deep interest in the welfare of the pupils. If the teacher hasn't this spirit she should take up some other calling or profession. Mr. Irvin spoke on the splendid equipment of the school and the great cost of keeping it up. The domestic science department, mechanical hall and recitation rooms were all well furnished with everything needed to aid the pupils in his work. Mr. Irvin spoke of the new and fine system of keeping the accounts of the school so that anyone wanting to know how the money is spent can examine the books and find out in a little while. The trustees without any compensation are giving much of their time and take great interest in helping to build up and make this the best school in the county. Solo by Mrs. L. C. Smith, Miss McElroy presiding at the piano. A nice luncheon was served and everyone was happy. Mr. Irvin said each one would have six doughnuts apiece and he thought that would be ample. The coffee and sauce were also fine. The evening was profitable and pleasant and considered well spent by all present. The school is well organized and as the winter approaches more pupils will enter and good work done.

The weather still continues fine and a good many are coming to Newport by rail and auto. A good deal of complaint is made about the new grade around Pioneer Mountain. Several cars have gone over the grade and people are afraid to come that way. This does the county a great deal of damage and should be corrected. It may be the reckless driving may cause it but this don't correct the harm already done. The road should be made safe.

On Sunday evening's train, Renalds Putnam, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Putnam was taken to Portland for an operation for appendicitis. He was operated on Monday evening at the St. Vincent Hospital. The pus had already formed and the appendix had sloughed and the boy is in a critical condition. A few days will determine the case.

The salmon are coming into the bay and trolling is getting to be very good, and especially on Alsea Bay.

Politics are starting up and we may expect lively times until after the fall election. Oregon will, no doubt, go Republican by 30,000 majority. If the Republicans are united as they appear to be now, Hughes will be elected without a doubt. No Republican can vote for Wilson without endorsing the Democratic platform and then he would not be a Republican but a Democrat.

The country is greatly agitated and we need a strong man at the helm.

LITTLE ELK

Twenty three more days until. Farmers are busy with their fall work in this vicinity.

Warren Lemon of Portland is visiting his father, Claud Lemon this week.

Kenneth Loudon went to Hubbard, Ore., last Friday where he will attend school this winter.

Oscar Matthews is building Wheeler Clines new house—Oscar says he is some carpenter.

Twenty three more days until. Mr. Salisbury is moving back to Portland so that his daughter, Helen may have better school advantages. Mr. S. bought 200 acres of road land here two years ago.

Mr. Magee took Mrs. Magee to Portland to the Nature Hospital. Mrs. Magee's friends hope for her speedy recovery and return home.

Mrs. Irene Hodges of Corvallis is visiting on Little Elk this week.

Twenty three more days until. M. O. Evans of O. A. C. was in this vicinity last week in the interests of a county agriculturalist. Mr. Evans is a very earnest worker.

Mrs. Treese of Portland is visiting friends here this week.

S. T. Loudon is taking a bunch of people from Eddyville to Rose Lodge to Pomona gavage and the Salmon River fair. They expect to be gone about eight or nine days.

Twenty three more days until. Until what?—Why the Eddyville Fair. Every one is talking about it. We are not only talking but all are working to make this fair the best event of the season. There will be cash and ribbon prizes on all agricultural exhibits. There will be judges from the O. A. C. and everything will be managed in the best possible way. One of the many good features in the forenoon will be the better babies contest. There will be a good doctor and a trained nurse in attendance. A good warm room for the babies. The management has the medals and the diplomas, so mothers bring your babies and enter them in this contest.

Then comes the dinner and oh what a feast it will be—it will be worth coming miles to get in on the feast. And then after dinner Buffalo Lemon and his calf boys will entertain and there will be entertainment for young and old—you will see and hear things long to be remembered and then in the evening will be the masquerade ball—there will be cash prizes given for the best sustained character, one prize for gentleman and one for lady.

Now the management only makes one request and that is all exhibits be in on Tuesday, the 10th, as it will be impossible to take in exhibits on the morning of the fair.

So fill your basket with things to eat and bring wives, children, sweethearts and all—there will be hot coffee served free.

See large posters and don't forget the date, Oct. 11, 1916. That is the big day—where?—at Eddyville.
