AN APPEAL TO THE PEOPLE OF LINCOLN COUNTY
(By the County Agent)

Owing to the great value of the drug made from the leaves of the Fox Glove for treatment of soldiers suffering from shell shock, the Government is anxious to obtain the maximum amount of this product and has appealed to the people of Oregon for cooperation in harvesting and placing the leaves of this plant on the market.

This plant is known by many common names. The two mostly used are Foxglove and Digitalis. Other names used are Fairy Gloves, Fairy Cap, Fairy Fingers, Fairy Thimbles, Folks' Gloves, Dog's Fingers, Lady's Fingers, Lady's Thimble, Lion's Mouth, Popdock, Scotch Mercury, Cottagers, Rabbit's Flower, and Throatwort. Its botanical name is Digitalis purpurea L.

The Foxglove plant thrives exceptionally well in Oregon and is found abundantly in many parts of Lincoln county. It would be a most patriotic response of the county's people who are not otherwise actively engaged in production or industry, to set to work gathering as much of this plant as possible. Women and children especially, have made as high as 3, 4, and 5 dollars a day in places where the leaves have been gathered. A cent or a cent and a quarter a pound for the green leaves is usually paid the pickers, by the driers. School children who are not busy after school hours, could collect hundreds of pounds and earn very attractive wages.

The leaves are the portions of the plant used, and are dried before shipped to market. The drying process is rather a particular one hence the pickers will do best by selling to the driers, of which there are already at least two in the county. More may be established in the near future. Announcements will undoubtedly be made in the near future, by the driers, as to the details of picking, delivery and price.

WHAT OUR ENGINEERS ARE DOING IN FRANCE

(Special to the Leader)—

Washington, D. C., April 15, Secretary Baker, has just reviewed with commendation the great work that has been done by the United States Engineering Army at the entrance port in France for our expeditionary forces. In the last six months these troops have transformed what was then an insignificant shipping point with facilities for only a half dozen vessels into a harbor that rivals the greatest American port.

Forty millions of dollars worth of machinery and materials were placed in the hands of the American Engineers. They dredged the shallow channel and made a deep waterway. The dredgings filled in the marshes. These were covered with miles of piers and warehouses. Now sixty steamers can load and discharge their cargoes simultaneously. The eastern end of General Pershing's bridge of ships is built.

The largest railroad yard in all France has made the war zone tributary to this port. Miles of switches and hundreds of train crews are busy handling the food and supplies for the boys at the front. Shops and round-houses are ready to keep the rolling stock in good repair.

Many battalions of Engineers were required to build this distributing center in so short a time. Carpenters, bridge builders, pile drivers, dredgers, dock helpers, structural steel workers, riggers, surveyors, machinists, concrete workers, railroad operators, trackmen, cooks, and general utility men all helped to complete this military task.

This new harbor was planned and the improvements were all made by Engineering soldiers. The Engineers are the pioneers of the army. They make the way possible for the advance of the Infantry and Artillery. They are the skilled workmen of the army. The First Replacement Regiment of Engineers, stationed at Washington Barracks, D. C., trains men for the different organizations of the United States Engineers.

The personnel of units in the Engineering Army is similar to that of an industrial organization. Each man in the army applies his technical knowledge to solving military problems. A soldier can follow his chosen profession in the army as well as in the industrial world.

RESOLUTION

RESOLVED: That whereas large sums of money are being expended by candidates for office in printing, advertising and in many other ways, which would serve a more patriotic and much needed purpose if invested in Liberty Bonds, Thrift Stamps or donated to the Red Cross, and the same appears to be in direct violation of the provisions of the Corrupt Practice Act, which was designed to protect the purity of the ballot and honesty of election.

RESOLVED: That in the judgment of the members of the Toledo Grange, No. 426, P. of H., that no candidate for office violating the Corrupt Act by the expenditure of large sums of money to advance his candidacy, is worthy of public trust or confidence, and it is the duty of the proper officers of the law to collect the evidence of such violation and see that the provisions of such act are strictly enforced.
