ON TOP OF THE HILL BUT THE BOTTOM FOR PRICES

BANDS MAY BLARE, whistles toot, crowds cheer and city officials immortalize—still here is the real home coming—when Yank doughboy greets mother and dad in the shadow of the old home—just the three looking into each other's eyes—seeing, knowing and understanding. They are coming home fast now—boys who are better "men." And a better home in a better world is waiting for them because—all have learned through a bigger, broader sacrifice.

CHILEAN AMBASSADOR CLIMBED TO POST

DR. FARRAND IS NEW HEAD OF RED CROSS

STALKING PROFITERS RITTER'S JOB

Sticking to the bush, even in diplomatic ranks is not without its reward. Thirty years ago Senator don Beltran Mathieu of Chile, South America, was secretary to the ambassador to America. He is now the ambassador.

Dr. Livingston Farrand, former president of Colorado university, is the new chairman of the central committee and executive head of the American Red Cross. The war council retired March 1. Dr. Farrand earned his place by wonderful work in France.

Getting prices down is this man's job. It is W. M. Ritter, chairman of the price conference committee, whose task it is to recommend to the government what prices shall be paid for principal commodities during the adjustment period.

DISABLED YANKS BREAK INTO THE MOVIES.

Our Yanks are going into the movies. At least, it now seems that a large number of our returned wounded and partly disabled warriors will find employment in this field. Uncle Sam is making a sincere effort to place all his heroes where they may prosper in the peace they helped earn. As operators of moving picture machines, the partly disabled find they can fit in very nicely. Here is a scene from the American Red Cross at New York, where disabled soldiers are schooled in operations of the movie machines.

He presented the British king with a sword and badge of field marshal of the Japanese army, as a gift from his emperor.
