In Government and Municipal Bonds

Every man and woman is interested in investments. Interested because getting ahead in the world is a desire born of a natural instinct for progress. It is evolution asserting itself.

But, getting ahead financially is a hard problem for most people; hard because money matters are out of their line.

To occupy a place in the world of finance that would make our name synonymous with safe investment securities has been our constant thought and purpose. What could be more worthy than to give people unfamiliar with making investments, an institution upon which they could rely absolutely for securities that are safe and profitable?

Between the government, state or municipality issuing the bonds and the ultimate investor, we strive to give the greatest measure of service. First, we cooperate with issuing agencies in preparing their bond issues so they will be readily marketable, and, second, we assist investors in purchasing the particular bond best suiting their requirements and circumstances.
