

Who's the Profiteer?

"Not I," says the packer. "Not I," says the manufacturer. "Not I," says the middleman. "Not I," says the retailer. "Surely not I," says the consumer with the flat pocketbook. "And positively not the farmer!" thunders

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

True enough, the farmer has profited by war prices. But to what extent? Well, he has been able to paint his house so it looks as well as the grocer's in town.

He has been able to buy an automobile as good as the plumber's. His family has been able to wear clothes as good as the other church folks. In other words, the farmer for the first time has had a fair living wage for his labor, with a little return on the capital he has invested in his farm and its equipment. The farmer is not a profiteer, and THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN will fight to prove his right to a fair profit for his labor and his products. A year's subscription to THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN (52 issues) is the biggest dollar's buy on the market. Get your money's worth—a hundred times over—by letting me order it for you today. Remember—

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR IS ALL IT COSTS!
