Everett Miller received two full blood Rhode Island Red roosters by express last evening. The birds net Everett back just $20, but they are worth it.

B. O. Snuffer came down from Portland the first of the week, where he has been employed the past year and a half at the shipyards. He may remain here for the winter.

Chif Croson and Carl Gilderleeve returned Sunday from a hunting trip in the south end of the county. They brought back two fine bucks, and report the deer very plentiful.

COOPERATIVE WAREHOUSE ASSOCIATION FORMED (Farm Bureau News)

Fostered by the granges of Lincoln County, there has been formed with headquarters at Toledo, an association that is sure to be of special interest and value to the farmers of Lincoln County. The object of the association as set forth in the by-laws, is to enable local farmers cooperatively to buy and sell such produce as may be needed on their respective farms in such a way as to make the greatest saving to all concerned.

It has been noted in the past that where orders for mill feed, seed, or hay wanted in small lots by a number of farmers could be grouped, a particular saving could be made, not only in the purchase, but also in the saving on freight rates. In like manner, it is thought by those assisting in the matter of organization that an appreciable saving can be made in the sale of such produce as may be grown in the future available for outward shipment in car load lots. With the building of better roads, the improvement of our harbors and the extension to our railroads, in time there will be large quantities of potatoes and various other truck crops that will be available for cooperative marketing.

In order that the association have sufficient capital to operate properly the association is incorporated for $2,500, and already more than sixty per cent of this stock has been sold. Shares in the association are available to any farmer in the county at the price of ten dollars per share. Six per cent interest on each share is guaranteed by the association.

The headquarters of the association will be at Toledo, and a meeting, at which time organization was completed and officers for the association for the coming year elected, convened in Toledo on Wednesday, the tenth of October. The association will begin business at once.

The Toledo Grange has secured the use of the old cannery building near the creamery for storage purposes for the association. It is not planned at the present to carry any appreciable stock on hand or to enter the retail field, consequently any farmer desiring to secure feed or seed thru the organization should file his orders in writing and on the basis of these orders, the car shipments will be secured. Until such time as definite headquarters are arranged, current prices may be had and orders left with the association's temporary manager, Mr. E. C. Moffit, Toledo. Phone, 1535.

The following officers and board of directors were elected: President, Chris Larson, Siletz; Vice-Pres., E. B. Shumway, Toledo; Secretary, J. L. Thomas, Toledo; Treasurer, V. D. Graves, Toledo; Temporary Manager, E. C. Moffit, Toledo.

Directors: 1-Year term: E. B. Shumway, Toledo; Fred Romtvedt, Toledo; Wm. Beck, Toledo. 2-Year term: J. L. Thomas, Toledo; V. D. Graves, Toledo; A. C. Crawford, Siletz.

The Secretary is authorized to receive and receipt for all subscriptions.

GRIFFITH INTRODUCES SUFFRAGE BASEBALL

There is no "off-season" for Clark Griffith, owner and manager of the Washington, D. C. American League ball team. Griffith teaches women and girls to play the great game. Here he is supervising a game between women teams from government departments. Griffith—the old fox—says women can play ball as well as men—if they'd give the same time.

KING RIDES A FLAT CAR TO SEE AMERICA

Belgian royalty, King Albert, Prince Leopold and Queen Elisabeth have been given rousing receptions at every point in their visit and tour of America and they have taken to every "stunt" arranged for them in a way that America likes. In California a flatcar observation car was hitched onto the special train. The king and prince are here shown in their "roughing it" clothes, the king wearing that cap at a rakish Yank angle.

SEARCH FOR "IDEAL BABY'S" KIDNAPERS

The "ideal baby," Billy Dansey of Hammonton, N. J., for whom a $1400 reward was offered after he disappeared from his home is believed to have been kidnaped. Little Billy was given the title in a government baby test. One theory points to a rejected sailor, who it is said swore revenge at the time of Billy's mother's marriage. Others think the publicity given the child's perfect physical development resulted in the kidnaping. Several such instances have been recorded. When last seen Billy was playing about his home. Later his little footprints were found leading to a nearby road. Two strange men were seen in that territory previously and later, in a deserted house near surrounding swamps, fresh ends of bread were found. A woman claims to have heard a baby's fretful cry come from there. The mother is prostrated.

BOSTON MISS KIDNAPS BELGIAN PRINCE

Miss Anna Hamlin of Boston kidnaped the prince of Belgium, when the latter visited in Boston. She took "His Royal Highness" in her motor car and hiked off to show him the sights. She took him to see the Harvard stadium and other points of interest that any "boy" would like. Miss Hamlin is the daughter of Charles S. Hamlin, president of the Federal Reserve Bank.

STROLLS WITH DEER ON FIFTH AVENUE

The 163rd regiment had a young deer for mascot while over there. It is now the pet of Miss Pauline Hall of New York. She has made a great pet of it—taking it for daily walks on Fifth-av, New York City, much to the amusement of the great city crowds.

ARMY HORSE DOES NAVY ACT FOR 19 DAYS

Yank, U. S. army horse, proved he was a some submarine. In loading him on an army transport at New York, Sept. 11, he slipped from the gangplank and was thought drowned. Nineteen days later, workmen found him under the pier, with water at his high tide making it almost impossible for him to breathe. The horse while hungry and thirsty seemed none the worse.

EVEN GREAT COATS ARE SHORT IN WAIST

Winter coat days are here again and fur still retains its place of importance. The great collar on the dark green coat of boliva, shown at the top suffices without fur. But the wine-maroon velour in the center calls upon the yellow fox for its collar and with a muff to match.
