NUMBER 4

SILETZ

"March came in like a lamb and is going out like a lion." These old adages have been learned by observation and experience and generally contain some elements of truth. The wise ones predict an early spring. The grass is growing, the vegetation is starting up and the forest is made vocal by the songs of birds and the coming of the swallow. These are the harbingers of an early spring.

The farmers during the good weather started their plows; more ground will be plowed this year and more grain and grass seed sowed than for many years in the past. Forty years ago when the soil was new, the Siletz valley would produce 75 and 80 bushels of oats and 200 or 400 bushels of potatoes per acre. But by long cultivation without the rotation of crops and the sowing of grain that had the seed of noxious weeds, the land has become foul and it will take several years to get it under proper cultivation again. The farmers have taken hold of the work in good earnest and soon this valley can be made to "bloom and blossom as the rose."

Joseph Bryant and his son, Earnest have leased the Abe Logan place of 80 acres near the steel bridge and will put nearly the whole field in grass, grain and roots to feed their stock of dairy cows and beef cattle, of which they have a fine herd.

Sam Brassfield has leased the William Metcalf place and sown it to grass and grain to feed his stock thru the winter.

If the people of Siletz have their way the cost of high living will be reduced by more production. We can reduce the high prices by more production and this requires more work and less pleasure, unless you find pleasure in your work. I think there is pleasure in building up a nice home, and it is a pleasure to have fine blooded stock, nice schools and churches and educated and refined families. The community is what you make it, good or bad, as you desire. Success is good management in the business of living and the care and prudence of conducting your own affairs. Industry and thrift are the foundations of our democracy of which the lazy shiftless man has no part.

Mr. and Mrs. Mahony have moved to Siletz and will probably make their home here. For the present they are living with Al Taylor.

Several new families will move to Siletz soon. Some 40 or 50 parcels of land have been advertised for sale by the government and so about a rate of them will be sold. This is the Indian land and bids will be opened May 5th, 1920.

Mr. and Mrs. William Scott have moved back to their farm on the Siletz river. They spent the winter at Newport. This was done for the benefit of Mrs. Scott's health and the advantage of school.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Kamley have moved to Siletz and for the present will occupy the Government school building on the Upper Farm. These people have come to make their home here and will, as soon as possible, buy some land. They came from Portland where they had grown weary of the expense of living in a city.

It is not good for a man to live alone. During the winter Lester Waugh lost twenty pounds while trying to live on his own cooking.

The Ricketts Glee Club gave a concert on the evening of March 10th, to a full house. This is the last of the Chautauqua entertainments for this year. The entertainments of the company were all good. The troupe did all they could to please and succeeded. The last performance was the best of all. The music, both instrumental and vocal, were of a high order and the humorous part, was hard to excel. This was a treat for the children, worth all it cost. The manager, Mr. Ricketts, thanked the people of Siletz for the splendid order and fine appreciation. We lacked about $14.00 coming out even—very good.

NASHVILLE

Mrs. James Hiland and Mrs. Gus Winkler were in Nashville Monday afternoon, attending to some business, and making calls.

Rod Nash came down from the ranch Saturday to spend the week end with Mrs. Nash and Mary Lou, who are making their home at Nashville during the school month.

Word has been received of the death in Portland of Mr. E. L. George, after a brief illness from pneumonia. Mr. George formerly owned the ranch at Nashville known as the Disbrow place and made his home here for a time.

Mr. Frank Smith who is working for his brother, Bert, at the mill spent Sunday with his family at Newport.

Mrs. W. H. Martin entertained informally Saturday evening with cards and dancing. Light refreshments and coffee were served at midnight. Miss Ruth Butterfield assisting the hostess. Among the guests named

C. Mittern was in Portland Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Roy Hamar is home again.

R. R. Lakin is visiting the Hamar's while getting back his health after a prolonged illness.

Wm. Fitzcharles and little daughter returned from the Valley Sunday.

Until the roads dry up Vic Durdall and wife are "at home" to their friends His Lizzy has mud fever.

Mersene Felton has returned to Nashville and is with Biglow-Doane Co.

SOUTH BEACH

Mr. Tamm of South Beach has purchased a launch and will run it on the bay.

Henry Omild went to Toledo Tuesday with Mr. Tamm as he made the trip to try his new boat.

Mrs. Hanchurst is again visiting at South Beach with her mother, Mrs. Julia Cox.

At least a part of the official board for the election in our new voting precinct are appointed. Chairman, John Moore; Judge, D. S. Conrad; Clerk, Mrs. Margaret F. Conrad, all of South Beach.

Mersene Felton went out to the Valley last Sunday where he expects to get work.

Mr. Plowman, after losing his last cow, had the misfortune to get his horse sanded until it also died.

D. S. Conrad's little launch, "Red Wing," looks quite nifty in its new coat of paint.

Burt Hill has moved his family to Pacific View, into the Hill Crest cottage.

Mr. Dozier is tearing up the government road where it runs thru his place, as he wants to cultivate the field this year.

WALDPOR

Fine weather, so common in this country it is hardly worth while to mention.

The City dads are making some substantial improvements on Mill and Rubin streets. Keep the good work going.

The good Schr. Roamer arrived yesterday with a cargo of merchandise and the balance of the machinery for the new shingle mill of the Waldport Shingle Company, as they have their building in readiness and the power installed, they will soon be turning out shingles, and as it is a double mill we anticipate a large output.

The Everson & Parsons shingle mill started operating a few days ago and is doing good business.

The Brooks & McMillin shingle mill has already delivered and shipped a cargo of shingles, something unusual for this season of the year, but the good Oregon weather has put the roads on a record basis.

J. D. Kent was the successful bidder on the new dock and is right on the job with his usual promptness, and Waldport will soon have double her present dock room on the front, something that has been very much needed, as with the sawmill running reasonably regular and the three shingle mills we can expect one of the largest shipping seasons in the history of our city.

The ladies gave a nice pleasant farewell party in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Quist, who are expecting to leave soon.

Lee Doty has purchased the farm of E. W. Cannoy on Drift Creek. Lee has a fine farm and we bespeak success for him but can ill afford to lose his services on the mill route.

J. C. Ludemann received a severely sprained hand and wrist from coming in contact with the fly wheel of a gas engine. It will lay his up for some time.

SILETZ HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Everyone welcomed the bright sunshine after the rain.

Some of the high school boys have been trapping moles for a pastime.

Clare Slocum of Corvallis visited the high school last Wednesday afternoon. She went to school here last year.

Ralph Chapman, a senior in the Corvallis high school, visited the school Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

The boys have been working on the school grounds to improve the appearance of the track. It is now a credit to the school.

A surprise party was given by the high school pupils, and many other people in town, for Clare Slocum, Thursday night. The evening was spent in a jolly time for everyone, and a fine supper was served at midnight.

The high school and grade pupils had their usual chorus practice Wednesday afternoon.

The pupils are all anxious waiting for a nice sunny day when they can go for a general scenic trip again and a picnic as well.

FARMERS KEEP BOOKS

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis—Farmers of Lincoln County are now able to keep reliable information relative to cost of producing their farm products. The department of farm management demonstration has prepared and issued a Farm Account Book, which is being distributed by local banking institutions in the county.

Besides giving the farmer an accurate record of his business at any period, it gives the necessary information for the correct filing of income tax returns, and the necessary information for determining cost of producing various farm products.

The banks of Lincoln County have distributed 25 of these books, which means that 25 farmers have been aided in the business organization of their individual farms. The banks do not charge for these books and are glad to give them to anyone desiring them. The officers of the bank believe that they will be amply repaid for the cost of publication, if the farmers will keep their records to determine cost of their products.

REGARDING THE YAQUINA BRIDGE

Petitions are being circulated asking for the calling of a special election for the purpose of voting on the question of issuing bonds in the sum of $100,000.00 for the purpose of building a bridge across the Yaquina river at this place. This bridge is badly needed and will do much to open up and develop the county, and will soon pay for itself. We are heartily in favor of the project and hope to see the early completion of this bridge.

There is a question, however, as to whether it is policy to hasten the matter too much, as Hon. B. F. Jones, who recently returned from Washington, where he was sent in the interests of the Roosevelt Highway, says that he believes Congress will act favorably on the project. If they do build the Roosevelt highway we will get our bridge for nothing, and thereby save our own money for other purposes. We are not throwing cold water on the bridge proposition, but we believe there is such a thing as being too hasty.

Other petitions are being circulated asking that the Corvallis-Newport Highway be located via Toledo-Elk City-Chitwood, etc. This matter was left in the hands of the Highway Commission by the Court and the Highway engineer has recommended the Simpson creek route.

As to whether it is wise to get into a squabble over the location of this road at the present time is doubtful, as the Highway Commission seems inclined to back down from their agreement that they would rock from Newport to the Benton county line, and should the people here express dissatisfaction as to the road as located by the Commission, they might take it as an excuse for shirking a distasteful obligation, and refuse to build the road at all.
