NUMBER 44

SILETZ

Died at Siletz, December 18th, 1920, Lenia, wife of Albert Martin, aged 35 years, 11 months and 22 days. She was born in Siletz and attended the Government schools at Siletz and at Chemawa. She joined the M. E. Church when a small girl and retained her membership up to the time of her death. She was the mother of five children, two having died during the flu epidemic. She leaves to mourn her death, a husband, three children, father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Chetco Charley, and many relatives and friends. Death was caused by an apopleptic stroke. Rev. Walter Ross conducted the funeral service assisted by John Adams the local minister. The services were unusually impressive and solemn. When her favorite song was impressively sung by the choir, "Asleep in Jesus," there was scarcely a dry eye in the house. Even the old folks who had come to the reservation more than 60 years ago and were used to seeing their friends depart could not refrain from shedding tears. It is said by friends who knew Lenia from childhood that her home life with her father and mother was unusually happy and pleasant. She took great interest in keeping her home with her parents neat and clean; but in her later days she had a hard time to get always cheerful and never never complaining. Thus it is when we come to the last hour humanity is much the same. We live have our joys and sorrows then pass away but beyond the grave we, like Mrs. Martin, if we believe as she did we shall know each other there and occupy a mansion in the beautiful City of God.

The public school closed Friday and the teachers have all gone home to spend the holidays. For the last three or four weeks have had an epidemic of measles and this has interfered with the attendance at school. By the time the school is taken up again the epidemic will have run its course. Friday, the 24th, the Siletz Valley Grange will have their annual meeting when new officers for the year will be elected.

Fred Chambers is now visiting his sister, Mrs. Maurice Andersen. Fred is optimistic. He believes we will get down to business when the Republican party takes charge of the government. If we continue the extravagance, waste and bad management, we have had for the past four years, civilization cannot live. Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty. I believe the strong arm of government is able to guide the ship of state safely thru this crisis and establish this nation upon a more solid foundation than it has ever had before and in these perilous times, I can see one star of hope rising on the world and that is a beautiful star, a star as glorious as the star that hung over Bethlehem and lighted the path to the manger where Jesus was born; it is the star of the American republic that in this critical epoch is rising out of the darkness into the sky, free to lead the world, banishing the liquor traffic and kindred evils from her domain forever.

TIDEWATER

The Tidewater and Canal Creek schools united in giving an entertainment and basket social at the warehouse, Saturday, December 18th. The proceeds of the basket sale going to the two schools for fixtures, etc. It was a grand success. The children, 42 in number, gave credit to their teachers and their efforts in training them. $150.00 was the receipts taken in from the basket sale, and of that $50.00 was donated to the community to start a fund to erect a hall at Tidewater—something long needed here. A dance was enjoyed for a few hours after the social, and everyone went home happy and with praise for the teachers, Miss Rae Simon and Miss Katherine Koerner for their success of the evening's entertainment.

SILETZ SCHOOLS

On December 17, the Siletz Schools were closed for the holiday season, the date having been set ahead owing to epidemics such as measles in the community. At 1:30 o'clock there was a general assembly in the 7th-8th grade room where a Christmas tree, where a decorated tree and other Christmas decorations were conspicuous. Here the Christmas program was held, in which were many songs, recitations, and dialog. The little folks had an important part, the last number being furnished by Homer Collins in an excellent Santa Claus make-up, which afforded a most fitting climax to the program. Not only did everybody present see the program, Christmas tree, and Santa Claus, but received from the old Santa a bit of real Christmas cheer in the form of a bag containing nuts, orange and candy. There was also a nicely decorated tree in the High School room and many presents were given and received in these two upper rooms after the formal program. The closing day was similarly observed at both the Long Prairie and Lower Farm schools.

On Friday some of the grade boys hurriedly planned to go to Toledo for a basket ball game in the evening. The traveling library sent for by Mr. Eagy on behalf of the Community Club has arrived by mail. It contains the list of fifty books of Traveling Library No. 99, and also ten additional books. This is a very interesting list comprising books of travel, biography, history, and miscellaneous subjects. Thru the Holiday season this library can be found and inspected at Mr. Chandler's store, and it is urged that as many as can do so should early arrange to begin the use of these books.

W. Beck has traded his ranch above town for a ranch near Sheridan. He traded with Mr. Hayes and Son and the latter will take charge of the ranch here soon after the first of the year. This is one of the best places in this locality, and we understand that the new owners will at once erect a silo and go into the dairy business on a large scale. Mr. Beck informs us that he would not have traded out had there been a bridge across the river here, or any immediate prospect of getting one, as he likes this country fine.

MR. MERCHANT
What competition do you fear most? The competition from a store which advertises, or the other kind? Newspaper advertising—regular advertising—is a vital part of the sales effort of aggressive optimistic firms. For business enterprises in which such an advertising policy prevails, the outlook is always rosy.

A BIGGER, BETTER TOLEDO

Now that the Presidential election is over and the beginning of a new year is at hand, let each of us be filled with that ambition that makes for a bigger and better Toledo and a greater Lincoln County. The readjustment time, through which we are now passing, will soon be over; prices will be stabilized and money matters, through the strong helpful influence of our Federal Reserve Banks, will be such that prosperous times will sweep over us as never before. Now comes the time for the opening up and development of the great resources of our county, and Toledo, the leading County Seat Town, must rise up and put on the "dress of advancement" setting the example of progress for the whole county. Eager eyes, from many parts of Oregon are watching us with a view of coming to locate among us, to bring their families, their wealth and helpful influence. Strong business men are to come and help develop our timber, our agriculture, and business enterprises.

With the incoming of these people, we shall see rock roads, well kept streets and sidewalks, and improved city lighting system; also the best of public schools, and churches and all that makes for a prosperous and lively county seat town. Come, get in the band wagon; all help boost for these things and ours will soon be a very prosperous community.

With best wishes for a Merry Christmas and a Glorious 1921.

(Signed) A New Comer.

THOSE WHO COME AND GO

(From the Oregonian)
A Peterson, who is in the garage business at Toledo and whose company is now building a fine bank building at that place, is among the arrivals at the Hotel Oregon. J. W. Parrish, a prosperous farmer, whose postoffice address is also Toledo, as likewise at the Hotel Oregon. They are members of the port of Toledo commission. Lee Wade, a third commissioner, is in the city. Mr. Wade is a sawmill man.

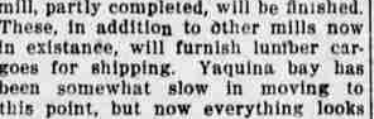

To afford their invalid baby special treatment, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Teal of Stanfield, Or. are at the Hotel Washington, and Mr. and Mrs. L. Waugh of Toledo, grandparents of the baby, are also at the hotel.

Captain of the Newport Transportation company, which has the boats which ply on Yaquina bay and vicinity, O. F. Jacobson, is in Portland on business connected with the port development.

"It means the making of Yaquina bay to have the government take over the improvement of the harbor," said B. F. Jones of Newport, yesterday. "In less than two years we should have 20 feet at lower low water, which, with a tide, will give us 26 feet—enough water to accommodate large sized vessels. The government has sold the railroads and the big spruce mill which was erected during the war. The mill, I understand, will start up in February, and a second mill, partly completed, will be finished. These, in addition to other mills now in existence, will furnish lumber cargoes for shipping. Yaquina bay has been somewhat slow in moving to this point, but now everything looks rosy and we are in for an unprecedented period of commercial prosperity. We have some of the finest standing timber in the world ready to be felled and made into lumber, and when our waterway is deepened, Yaquina bay will be a hummer."
