NUMBER 6

SILETZ

The Easter services at the M. E. Church were well attended and the Easter program was of unusual interest. The Church was beautifully decorated with wild flowers and evergreens. The day seemed to typify the Resurrection. The sun rose on a clear sky and shed his life giving rays upon the green hills and flowery vales of the Siletz valley. The whole country was vocalized with the warbling of the birds and the soft cadence of the rippling waters of the Siletz river as it rushed on to be buried in the moon mad sea. W. S. Hall had charge of the Easter program which follows: Piano solo, Miss Chalcraft; song No. 108 by the Choir; Prayer, Rev. Walter Ross; song primary class; vocal solo, Prof. Eagy; song, Lillies by small girls; song 97 by the Choir and congregation; vocal solo, Easter Morn, Mrs. Cobb; marching song by small boys; duet, Mrs. Colvin and Mrs. Larsen; song 67, Choir; vocal solo, "The Holy City, Jesse Daniels accompanied by Mrs. Colvin playing on the piano and Mr. Larsen and Prof. Eagy with their violins. Few can excel Mr. Daniels in singing "The Holy City. Offering for the missionary work was next taken. Then came the Doxology followed by the benediction. This community took more interest in the Easter services this year than usual. Mrs. Walter Ross was on the sick list and would not take part in the exercises. The orchestra led by Chas. Larson, played some excellent pieces of music. The orchestra is a great help in the social affairs of the community and is composed of the following persons—Charles Larson, leader, and Mrs. Larson, Andy Goodell and Miss Linda Kimble.

County Agent Cooter and W. R. Tindall met Tuesday with the farmers in the Recreation Hall and had a Round Table talk. Mr. Cooter and Mr. Tindall had been down to Coos county to investigate the condition of the dairymen there and more especially to find out the standing and conditions of the Dairymen's Cooperative League in that county. It was found, Mr. Cooter says, that most of the unfavorable reports about the League were false when run down to the last analysis was proved to be untrue and were the production of some disgruntled fellow who was not big and broad enough to take in the situation and know the value of cooperation and progress but that he would do all the harm he could. Such persons have but little influence in this age of progress. The farmers of Siletz believe in the League and have nearly all signed up. These gentlemen collected a lot of information while on their visit to Coos county and Mr. Cooter took great pains to explain the whole matter to the farmers here. The Dairymen's Cooperative League is a good thing for the farmers and that is the reason that other companies are fighting it. "The tree with the best apples always has the most clubs under it. Messrs. Cooter and Tindall go home here to Oron.

Messrs. Kearn and Williams are cultivating their logan berries by having the potatoes dug and the land cleaned up. The best growth of logan berries will be treasured up and the smaller plants will be reset and the land cultivated thoroughly. It is their purpose to set 20 acres to logan berries. There is no sale for potatoes at Siletz this year. People here can get all the potatoes they want of Mr. Kearn at 25c a sack and dig them.

Russell Adams is now on a visit with his folks. He has been working in the ship yards at Portland and may return to the same work again. Russell's father owns a fine farm and he would like for Russell and Dick to take charge of it. But farming is too tame a life for these exservice boys.

Lee Wade will soon have his new bungalow up again as good as it was before it was blown down. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lane, March 28th, an eight pound son. This new arrival was christened Joseph Harry Lane. Mother and baby are doing excellent.

Grant as an old lady and Mrs. R. E. Grant as a portly old gentleman took first prize as the best sustained characters. The old gent's flirtatious ways caused the old lady a great deal of worry and the audience vast amusement.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Harding were up from Toledo over Sunday.

Elk City enjoyed a treat long to be remembered when the play "The Poor Married Man" was given here last Saturday night. The actors were carefully selected and did justice to their respective parts. We commend the Ladies Improvement Club for knowing how to give a good entertainment. It sure was a scream from start to finish. After the show refreshments consisting of ice cream, cake and coffee were served, then not being able to sober down from such a hilarious time the seats were cleared away and a few dances were enjoyed and very few left till early Easter morning.

THE GUARD DANCE

Todate all the small details have been worked out and plans completed to make the first guard dance a real achievement both from the social and business standpoint.

The supper committee has had several meetings to plan the bill of fare and have arranged for a strictly first class lunch to be served cafeteria style due to lack of table facilities. An experienced person has been obtained to prepare the coffee and this beverage will be served with real honest-to-goodness cream. Cakes, and ice cream and sandwiches—enough for all.

The music was secured from Corvallis and was demonstrated at the last Legion dance. You know the quality of it before hand.

The object of this dance is primarily to raise funds to go towards an expense account for the 3rd Platoon, to purchase such things that are not provided by the Government and are yet needed by the members. Also this platoon wishes to give a good social evening in return for the money obtained by the sale of tickets and supper.

The Guard will appreciate your attendance and co-operation in this affair—the date of the occasion is Saturday evening, April 2nd, the place, the Club House, Toledo.

Guard Publicity Man.

SILETZ SCHOOL

This week has brought such a change of weather that the intermissions are changed to the full fifteen minutes for recess periods, and the full noon hour.

On Tuesday afternoon a good many pupils could be seen with hoes and rakes preparing the seed bed on the small garden plot prepared to the north of the gymnasium. Each room has marked off a certain portion of this plot, and with each section competing for best appearance we feel that this should be a good start for school garden.

The plan for serving warm lunch is not continued since the cold and rainy season when it is most important is past.

Next Friday evening, April 8th, is the date set for the next meeting of the Community Club. All members be sure to come.

Last week the weather conditions were so bad that a good many pupils had severe colds, one teacher had loss of voice for a couple of days, and the lecture by Professor Horner, which was billed by the Community Club for last Friday was postponed. This week the change has been so marked that we are looking for large attendance at the program and social for Friday evening of this week. The High School girls are getting the program in readiness, and the Ladies Aid is preparing for the supper which will follow.
