

More Price Reductions by Harvester Company

Entire Line of Implements Now at LOWER PRICES

In view of the recent reduction in the price of steel, we now announce lower prices for our entire line of farm machines and implements not covered by reductions previously announced.

All lower prices take effect at once

The reduction in the price of steel comes after all the material for the machines and implements we will sell this year has been provided, and will therefore have no bearing on the manufacturing costs of such machines. However, it does enable the Company to buy materials at lower prices for future manufacture, and in accordance with our announced policy we now quote those prices, the Company taking the loss on machines already finished and materials on hand.

Full information regarding our lower prices on binders, mowers, and all other harvesting, haying and corn machines, tillage implements, tractors, engines, and all other I H C farm machines can be obtained from any International Dealer.

SPIRITISM

(G. S. Parmele)
Disillusioned by the results of the war, a large section of the population of Berlin is said to be seeking consolation by spending millions for the veil according to a correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph, who gets his information from the Berliner Tageblatt, 'the spirit raving craze' is spreading to all classes, and purses. Every method known to modern oracles is used to fathom the future. Card readers and clairvoyants minister to the needs of the more humble in purse and are research societies, of which many classify themselves as "lodges," and bear esoteric names such as "Armadora" and "Oshim-Rahma-Johjyah." An "Order of Occultists" was established only a year ago, but already has a thousand members. It holds periodically "evenings for the selection of mediums," when "nervous ladies and gentlemen form a chain round a big table, sigh, tremble, fall into swoons, or get convulsions," and so demonstrate their fitness for communication with the spirits.

The order issues a paper in which hand readers, clairvoyants, and "mediums cures" advertise.—Literary Digest, March 1921.

Now it seems strange that otherwise "hard headed" business men should appropriate millions of dollars in this spiritualistic "research" but evidently such is the case. Still greater is the wonder, however, when we understand that nothing uplifting has come to it all.

Thousands claim to have received messages from the spirit world, and we doubt it not; but we do ask, who were the spirits, and how much good has resulted to a world that is dying of a self connected wound?

Mr. Jerome K. Jerome, in the Christian Advocate, has well answered the second part of this question in the following language: "Take the last five years. Has spiritualism done anything—is it doing anything to help man to be less brutal, less hypocritical, less greedy? Has it done anything—is it doing anything to lessen the appalling wickedness that is threatening the whole earth? For five years savagery and cruelty have been preached to us from the pulpit and from the press. . . . What has spiritualism done—what is it doing—to help mankind to recover its senses, its manhood; to rescue its soul from being withered by lusts and passion?"

Surely, to the student of Bible prophecy, such statements as those in the above quotations bring most vividly to mind the inspired utterances of Isaiah the prophet: "When they shall say unto you, Seek unto them that have familiar spirits and unto the wizards, that chirp and that mutter: should not a people seek unto their God? on behalf of the living should they seek unto the dead?" Isaiah 8:19 A. R. V.—(Continued)—Paid Adv.
