SILETZ

At the local institute held in the public school building Saturday by County School Superintendent Goin was attended by the following teachers: Victor Shawe, D. W. Jones, Miss M. L. Hampton, Miss Junia Smith, D. M. Deeg, Mrs. E. E. Colvin, Miss Jessie Clark, and Miss Laura Treat. Had it not rained so hard Saturday more teachers would have attended. The forenoon program was as follows: Song, Oregon, My Oregon; Address of Welcome by Prof. Deeg; song, by Primary Class; original story read by Agnes Winkle; address by Dr. Carter; talk by Supt. Goin. In this talk Mr. Goin tried to impress upon the minds of the teachers the importance of a thorough preparation of the lessons before meeting their classes, of a modest and winsome manner before their school and to avoid trying to put on airs and assume to be superior because of position. Try to be plain, natural and sensible, aim to secure the good will and confidence of the pupils and then go ahead with your work and success will crown your efforts. At this time Prof. Deeg announced that a lunch was awaiting them in the adjoining room. This dinner which consisted of many good things to eat, was prepared by the teachers of Siletz. The afternoon was taken up with a round table talk by all the teachers, Supt. Goin presiding. Mr. Goin managed to sandwich in a good many interesting and useful talks to the teachers as the exercises went along. In the afternoon, special mention should be made of the very instructive and able addresses given on the various phases of school work by Professors, Shawe, Jones, Deeg and Miss Hampton. These teachers seemed to be prepared to give some very important and useful information to the teachers if put in practice will help to raise the standard of education very much in Lincoln County. The teachers as well as the Superintendent believed it was a good thing to have the pupils commit to memory a select number of poems which would strengthen the mind and train the heart for better and more useful citizenship. It is said the poet guides the heart of the nation and the military the physical forces. The spirit of the institute was fine and every teacher seemed to be inspired with a higher ideal of their profession. As Supt. Goin said, if the teachers did their work and brought results, the taxpayers would not complain of the cost. The Superintendent also said a cheap teacher was dear at any price. Although the institute was small in numbers, the teachers said it was one of the best ever held in the county. One other thing that the Superintendent said: the school grounds should be beautified and made a real home for the children and an intellectual center for the community. It is said the public school is the bulwark of our nation. Before adjourning the visiting teachers went over and took a look at the play house. They were pleased to see the size of the building and the interest taken in fixing it up and making it pleasant for the children. The storms of last winter nearly blew the building down. Had the work been done in the first place as it is being done now by Clayton Young, foreman, it would have saved the taxpayers $1,000 and the building would then have stood storms. This extra expense had to be incurred to save the building. Such is the fate of loose management. Rev. D. M. Pogue, formerly pastor at North Bend, preached his first sermon Sunday at the M. E. Church to a large congregation. The sermon was forceful, eloquent, spiritual and it made a good impression on the large audience that heard it. Rev. Pogue is a good preacher, has a pleasing personality and will no doubt succeed in his new field of labor. He has a wife and two children. Although he will not have the comforts he had at North Bend, but no doubt submit to the change and be satisfied.

The Agency was disturbed last week by a couple of rough looking fellows who had moonshine along and gave it to a couple of Indian girls and made them drunk, then got them in their car and started for Newport, but they were discovered and a warrant was sworn out for their arrest. Deputy Sheriff McElwain arrested one of them at Newport, but the other one, Brown by name, got away and was last seen beating it up the coast towards the mouth of Siletz. He was the hardest looking one of the two. I don't think he will come back again. This was a bold trick but it did not work because of the vigilance of our county officers. That kind of conduct don't get a person anywhere except in the county jail—a fine disgrace and the trouble it causes.

HOME TOWN NEWS

University of Oregon, Eugene, October 15—(Special)—The library of the University of Oregon receives 95 daily and weekly newspapers of the state of which the Lincoln Co. Leader is one. These are kept on file in a special room, which is daily crowded with students seeking "home town" news. No works of fiction, no magazines, can compare in popularity with what the Oregon editors and reporters write. At the end of each year the papers are bound and kept permanently on file in the library. In many instances scholars engaged in research have found these big gray volumes of great value.

STATE SHARES IN FOREST FUND

Oregon has just received $102,489.51 as its share in the annual receipts from the national forests located in the state, according to information from the District Forester's office here. Oregon's share comes from the fourteen federal forests in the State. This amount represents the 25 and 10 per cent of all moneys taken in from the national forests for the fiscal year closed June 30, 1921. Thirty-one of the counties of Oregon share in these forest receipts.

AGATES AS ADVERTISING

S. T. Loudon of Eddyville and S. W. Scoville of Pioneer were in the city yesterday working on a proposition whereby the Pomona Grange of Lincoln County would give an agate to each State Pomona Grange in the United States.

The meeting of the National Pomona Grange is scheduled to be held at Portland in the near future, and each state will be represented by a delegate. It is the plan of Messrs. Loudon and Scoville to present each delegate with a Lincoln County Agate, (the agate is the emblem of the grange) accompanied by a little folder telling of Lincoln County, and its many resources, and with a picture showing people hunting agates on the beach.

They believe that the expense incurred would be more than repaid by the advertising received. The grange of the county will be asked for funds to finance the undertaking, as will also the Commercial Clubs of Toledo and Newport.

HOW WILL THE STRIKE AFFECT TOLEDO PEOPLE

The nation is threatened with a big strike of some two million railroad employees, which if carried into effect will no doubt greatly cripple the railroads, and stop the running of many trains, for a time at least. This strike is scheduled for October 30th.

Just what effect will this strike have on Toledo and Lincoln County, is being asked by many.

The roads of this county are impassable during the wet winter months, so the use of trucks to bring supplies in from the Valley is out of the question. However, we are not entirely cut off as we have a very good harbor with a line of gas boats plying between this port and Portland, which assures us of plenty to eat and wear. The railroad company claims that it will be able to operate trains, in a limited way at least, so we will probably not be entirely without mail service, though it may not be very satisfactory. Provident housekeepers are laying in a good stock of provisions so as to be prepared in case of unforeseen events.

MORNING "JUICE"

Commencing Monday, October 24th, the Yaquina Electric Co., will again resume its morning service. The lights will be turned on at 6:30 and will be kept on until 8.

FARM BUREAU CAMPAIGN SUCCESSFUL

The first two weeks of the Farm Bureau organization work closed with a signed membership of approximately 200 members. The campaign will continue till the first of the year at which time at least 400 members are assured—the campaign has been under the direction of the State Farm Bureau, cooperating with the Lincoln County Bureau. During the first week speakers spread the Farm Bureau spirit throughout the county, and the week following solicitors from the state office assisted local drives in signing up members.

There are several communities where no solicitation has been done as yet and as soon as these are covered, each community will be asked to hold a meeting and send delegates to Toledo. From this point on the campaign will be under the direct management of these community representatives.

The new Farm Bureau plan has many advantages. While retaining all the advantages of the county unit plan as heretofore used the members in the new organization finds himself at once in harness with a million and a half farmers in all parts of the country pulling for the same thing—and accomplishing results.

From the county standpoint the new organization is going to have the advantage of being adequately financed—this means that it will be possible to pay the actual travelling expenses of community representatives who must meet at some central place occasionally if the work of the organization is to be properly carried on. Heretofore under the old plan it has never been possible to get representatives to county wide meetings.

The solicitors reported that but little talking was necessary to convince Lincoln County farmers who had been reading of the plans of the American Farm Bureau Federation, that they should become members. One farmer near Ona, Mr. Bunnell, was so enthusiastic about it that he insisted that he be permitted to pay his three years membership dues in advance.

The movement is also getting good support from the counties' bankers and business men who realize that any movement that will aid in the prosperity of the farmer will likewise benefit them. This movement is bound to mean much for Lincoln County.
