

BLACK BERRY CANNERY WILL NOT OPERATE

Crop to Be Taken Care of by Local Buyers; Estimated 200 Tons Will Be Available Providing Rain Holds Off.

Nature's Own Crop Will Not Clear Profit to Farmers of the County; Outside Capital to Build Factory Next Year.

"There is approximately 150 to 200 tons of wild blackberries in this vicinity that will soon be ready for market," stated P. Frederick Wednesday, "and it is a calamity that we have not an up-to-date factory to take care of this nature's own product that each year nets thousands of dollars to the people of Lincoln county. Providing the rains hold off another week or so the crop this year will likely break all records in size, quantity and quality of the fruit," he stated further.

Factory Will Not Operate.
"I have endeavored this season, as in past seasons, to interest canning interests to operate the local factory, but, due to the unsanitary conditions that exist and also to the very inadequate equipment of the plant I have found it impossible to get the plant into operation. We have the assurance, however, from an outside factory owner, whose name is not for publication, that his concern will erect a modern canning plant here next season that will not only take care of the wild blackberry crop but all other fruit crops that Lincoln county produces."

Crop to Be Taken Care of.
Although not able to operate the factory this season, the Lincoln county blackberry crop will be taken care of, according to Mr. Frederick. He will operate a buying station in Toledo and is dickering with several buyers in order to get the highest price possible. He estimates 4 1/2c per pound will be the price paid for the crop.

Providing Mr. Frederick's statement of 200 tons of berries is correct, it would seem that the wild blackberry crop of Lincoln county is one of its most profitable industries. It requires no effort or expense on the part of anyone to produce as the berries grow wild and are simply nature's gift. At 4 1/2c per pound this "sideline" will bring into this county a stream of gold to the tune of $20,000. Seems as though it is well worth the time of every resident of Lincoln county to exert every effort to put the entire crop on the market.

Waldport Stores Are Looted by Robbers Saturday

Proprietors of Drug Store and Pool Room Suffer Loss of Practically $700 According to Report.

According to a report reaching here Sunday from Waldport burglars made a raid on Dr. Linton's drug store and J. M. Reilly's combined pool and lunch room at that place Saturday night. The drug store was rifled of many valuable articles of jewelry and considerable cash, the total loss of this store being estimated at $600. The pool and lunch room was robbed of knives, flashlights, etc., and some $20 in cash was taken from the cash drawer. After taking what they wanted the robbers proceeded to devour all they could eat and then threw pies, cakes and other pastry on the floor.

It is thought that entrance to the buildings was gained by forcing locked windows, the windows of another store showing marks of attempts to "jimmy" the sills, but entrance was not gained at this particular place. Many strangers are reported to have been in town and on the beaches and a dance broke up about midnight.

(Contributed)
With the newly elected committee-men from half a dozen precincts in Lincoln county, a Democratic organization was perfected in the office of the county judge at the court house on Tuesday, August 1. George R. Schenck was elected chairman, Rosemay Schenck, secretary; Judge C. W. James, congressional committeeman, and G. H. Horsfall, state central committeeman. Executive committee, C. W. James, Newport; W. K. Patterson, Toledo; Perry Mitchell, Yachats, Mrs. Walter Hall, Siletz and G. H. Horsfall, Rock Creek.
Clyde McMillan and J. C. Cooter wrote in large type the policy that will govern the coming campaign and which has contributed strongly to the advanced position the Democratic party enjoys in Lincoln county today.
W. K. Patterson, who for years had linked himself with the higher ideals of public betterment, in Cleveland, O., succeeded in sweetening the western enthusiasm with some of the successful system employed there, with the result that the Democratic "buzz" is out on the speedway with a perfectly adjusted brake, and a strong undercurrent of conviction that the 1922 pennant has been hoisted for a homeward bound goal.

Veterans Must Get Claims in By August 9th

All Who Intend Getting Aid From Uncle Sam, Now or Later, Must Secure Certificates of Injury at This Time.

With only a few days left for disabled World War veterans of this district to secure certificates of injury, L. C. Jessup, northwest district manager of the United States Veterans Bureau urges those who may seek government compensation at a later date to make application for these certificates before August 9, expiration date of their issuance.
"The law governing activities of the Veterans' Bureau states that claims cannot be filed by disabled veterans after five years from service discharge unless the claimant has a certificate of injury and these certificates will not be issued after August 9," said Mr. Jessup. "This simply means that a veteran discharged from service for instance on September 1, 1917 could not file a claim for government compensation September 15 of this year unless he had the necessary certificate. We are anxious that every veteran in Washington, Oregon and Idaho know of this important ruling."
Mr. Jessup stated that the quickest way of securing this certificate is to make application for it by letter to U. S. Veterans' Bureau, Washington, D. C.

Official Testing to be Inaugurated in Lincoln County

Dairymen Are Taking Advantage of Project to Eradicate Tuberculosis in Herds; Dr. Derflinger in Charge.

Lincoln County will start its fourth year of T. B. testing next Monday, with Dr. Derflinger of the State Veterinarian department being in charge of the work. Commenting on the results of the T. B. testing, County Agent Cooter states that during the past three years' testing but few infected animals have been found, but that in a number of instances where such animals have been found their eradication has been a big safeguard to the general public. Illustrating this point, the first infected cow found was in a large herd on a dairy farm where farm butter from unpasteurized cream was being made, supplying principally the retail supply of the town of Waldport. Fortunately this cow was in only the early stages of the dread disease and not yet carrying it in the udder was not a "spread-er." She might soon have been, however, as she was soon to calve and the infection was spreading. In the second instance two infected cows were found in a herd supplying milk and cream during the summer season not only to local customers but to the large number of tourists annually visiting the resort. Fortunately in this case the two infected cows

Another Bruin Added To List Of Fatalities

Nash Brothers Bag "She" Bear Whose Toll in Goats for the Past Two Years Is Estimated at 75.

The Lincoln County Predatory Animal club is actively engaged in the campaign for members, and incidentally raising its quota of $275 to match the U. S. Biological Survey in the plan of putting on an expert hunter and trapper with a view of eradicating the predatory animals of this county. The damage caused by the bear and coyotes has been so appalling during the past year and a half that previous to the decision of the growers to begin an organized campaign against the offending animals, many growers had almost given up hopes for the small stock industry. As an instance of the damage done, by the bear a recent communication from Nash Brothers at Nashville to County Agent Cooter indicates the havoc which can be wrought by an individual animal. Mr. Nash stated, "On Tuesday of this week we killed a she bear and her cub, ahead of old Huz our bear dog. Yesterday I started the old killer and after a hard three and a half hour chase, met him in a canyon on top ground, for she wouldn't flee. She was only 20 feet from me and coming toward me fast. For a moment I thought I had more bear than I had bargained for but a quick, lucky shot between the eyes did the business. I estimate that this one bear during the past two years has killed at least 75 goats for us, and we are sure thankful to be rid of her."

Also in the Olalia Bull association, which is headed by a son of Rinda Lad, who is a brother of Lad's Iota, the greatest producing cow in the world, the farmers in this community can also expect the offspring of this finely bred animal to add laurels to the records of his sisters in blood. ## RAY L. JENKINS NAMED MANAGER OF 1922 FAIR

Has Had Much Experience in Organizing Agricultural Projects and Fair Should Be Great Success Under His Supervision.

Ray L. Jenkins, who put Alsea in Benton county on the map as an agricultural community center, through his spending enthusiasm and organization ability, has been named manager of the Lincoln County fair for 1922. The fair dates have been set for September 6, 7, 8 and 9, and all indications point to one of the most successful fairs ever staged in Lincoln county. The Lincoln County Jersey Cattle Club is promoting the construction of an additional stock barn and from listing already made with Livestock Superintendent L. A. Hulbert, all available barn space will be taken up. It is expected that the present large dairy barn will be completely filled with Jerseys.
The fair also has the added advantage of a splendid dance hall, constructed on the grounds by the American Legion. The doubling of the population of Toledo through the opening of the Pacific Spruce company's big mill and with the prospects of the opening of the Fisher-Storay mill now partly completed, a record attendance is assured. A carnival company has not yet been booked but Mr. Jenkins expects to have this matter settled in a few days. As Lincoln County has but few events of the type of the fair, concessionaires and showmen will find this county a very attractive business location during this annual affair.
