

SWEET BRIAR

Nearly everyone in our community professes complete ignorance as to the identity of the beneficent fairy who erected the good looking name board at our school house. But truth will out! We'll catch him yet.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Niederer motored down from Portland to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rodgers where their children have been some time. Mrs. Niederer remained for the week but Mr. Niederer returned home the following day. He was accompanied as far as Corvallis by the Misses Mary and Lucy Rodgers. These young ladies have since returned from attending the home economic conference at that place.

Prof and Mrs. Caswell Graves were compelled to curtail their visit with U. D. Graves and family owing to the serious illness of Prof. Graves' father. They took their departure on the noon train Saturday.

Mrs. Mitchell and friend of Dallas were guests of A. P. Brandt last week.

Geo. Brandt of Gresham visited his father, A. P. Brandt, on Sunday.

Ivan Kyniston made a trip to St. Louis on Sunday.

J. W. Rodgers filled his silo on Monday. Other silos to be filled this month are those of M. O. Thompson, Fred Rontved and V. D. Graves. The ensilage cutter is owned by these four men (also D. L. Peterson of Olla). They are using for power the tractor with which Leland and Ivan Kyniston operate their sawmill.

Mrs. Morley of Southside visited her daughter, Mrs. J. L. Thomas, and family last week.

The community meeting last Sunday was a very satisfactory one. A shady spot near the school house was selected as the meeting place. Here the dinner was served and an informal program rendered. Mr. Cooter gave some valuable ideas relative to our community exhibit at the Lincoln county fair to be held at the county seat the first week in September.

Fred Rontved told of his very interesting trip to Tillamook in June to attend the Guernsey picnic; also of his purchase of a small herd of purebred Guernseys at the sale held in the Pacific International pavilion in Portland. Mr. Hubert urged Messrs. Brandt, Graves and Rodgers to exhibit their registered Jerseys at the fair. Other questions relating to our exhibit were discussed. The following visitors were cordially welcomed to our gathering and urged to come again: County Agent and Mrs. Cooter, Misses Annabel and Jeanette Cooter, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Hulbert and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Brandt.

ROADS STAND BY LOYAL EMPLOYEES

Tell President Harding Old and New Men Must Be Protected in Strike Settlement.

NOT A MATTER OF CHOICE

Faithful Employees Have Both Legal and Moral Rights to Seniority and Other Benefits.

New York. — The keynote of the reply made by railway executives representing more than 150 Class 1 railroads of the United States to the proposition of President Harding that "All strikers be returned to their work and their former positions, with seniority and other rights unimpaired," lies in the last paragraph of their reply to the president, as follows:

"It is submitted that the striking former employees cannot be given preference to employees at present in the service without doing violence to every principle of right and justice involved in this matter, and without the grossest breach of faith on the part of the railroads to the men at present in their service. Under these circumstances, it becomes apparent that the railroads cannot consider any settlement of the present strike which does not provide protection in their present employment both to the loyal employees who remained in the service and to the new employees entering it."

The executives had accepted the first two conditions proposed by the president, namely, that both employers and employees accept the decisions of the labor board, and that all law suits growing out of the strike be withdrawn; and in relation to the third condition state, not only as above, but also as follows:

"Agree With the President. "The railroad executives and managers agree entirely with the president's statement in his letter that it is wholly unthinkable that the railroad labor board can be made a useful agency of the government in maintaining industrial peace in the railway service unless employers and workers are both prompt and unquestioning in their acceptance of its decisions."

"Many men in the service refused to join the strike and in so doing were assured of the seniority rights accruing to them and of the permanent position of their jobs. On some important lines 50 per cent or more refused to join the strike. To these old loyal employees have been added thousands of new men who were employed and could be secured only on a definite promise that their services would be retained, regardless of the settlement of the strike, with all the rights pertaining to such employment, including that of seniority under the working rules and regulations previously approved by the railroad labor board."

"Just the Opposite Effect."

"We especially point out that a refusal to the old men who remained in the service and to the new men who accepted service of the rights of seniority, incident to their employment, would have just the opposite effect to that desired by the president, and would most seriously discredit the labor board."

"The board itself prescribed the rules of seniority under which the men referred to have secured their seniority rights, and the railroad companies have neither the legal nor moral right to deprive these men of those rights. By public utterances since the strike began the board has recognized and emphasized these rights, and to deny them now would, instead of upholding the authority of the labor board, overthrow its rules and discredit its authority. The chairman of the labor board at the time the strike was called made the following public statement:

"Upon one question the striking employees should not be deceived. Their leader has said that the strikers are not concerned with the rights of the men who remain in the service, and that they have automatically abandoned all the rights they possess under their agreements and under the decisions of the board, including their seniority. This is not the board's action. It is their own. Many carriers are giving their former employees the opportunity to re-enter the service within a limited time. It must be understood now that men who remained in the service and those who are now entering it will have rights of seniority that the board could not ignore."

What the Proposed Plan Means.

"It must be understood that any proposal that employees now on strike shall be permitted to return to the service without impairment to their seniority, is merely another way of suggesting that those men who took employment in this crisis in good faith, relying on the promises of the railroads to protect them in their positions, these promises being justified by the authoritative utterances of the labor board, and thus have made possible the continued operation of the railroads, shall now be sacrificed in favor of men now on strike who not only brought about the crisis, but, by their own action and declaration, are no longer employees of the railroads, under the jurisdiction of the United States Railroad Labor Board or subject to the application of the transportation act."

"In addition to the necessity of upholding the labor board and maintaining the pledges made by the railroads to the men now at work, there is the practical effect on the supervisory officers of a violation of the pledge. They were authorized to make. Their discouragement and demoralization would be far more disastrous than this or any other strike."

MAKES RAPID HEADWAY

Add this fact to your store of knowledge.

Kidney disease often advances so rapidly that many a person is finally in its grasp before aware of its progress. Prompt attention should be given the slightest symptom of kidney disorder. If there is a dull pain in the back, headache, dizzy spells or a tired, worn-out feeling, or if the kidney secretions are offensive, irregular and attended with pain, practice a good kidney remedy at once.

Thousands recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Read the statement below. C. F. Wagner, 1264 Van Buren St., Corvallis, Ore., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills for years and have found them to be a good remedy for an irregular action of the kidneys. Occasionally I have had trouble with the too frequent action of my kidneys but Doan's never failed to correct the complaint."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Wagner had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.
