evening program and that they all faces that denoted happiness and satisfaction and that is more than we can say of most of our concerts and entertainments. Of the numbers played the reporter is inclined to the created a deep impression upon the Indian people present, especially the second number, "Lamentation," or the "Death of a Warrior." This is one and it is characteristic of our Indian music. We look forward with pleasure to the next concert:

They are both charmed and delighted with the big timber green forest and sunlit beauties of Siletz. Mr. Turney says no other place in Oregon can equal Siletz in all that goes to make up a delightful place to spend a vacation.

They will come back again next summer. They departed for home Sunday morning.

OYSTERVILLE FISHERMEN ORGANIZE ASSOCIATION

Winant, Ore. (Special)—The fishermen of the Lower Bay held a big meeting at Oysterville in Saturday, Aug. 5, and organized a Fishermen's association for the purpose of selling their products collectively and thereby gain the advantage of being able to find a better market and a better price through an organization head, which has been found far more successful in other communities rather than trying to make success of the business individually.

V. D. Boone was elected president of the new association and Edw. Sullivan named secretary.

The fishing industry brings thousands of dollars in to Lincoln county every year, and this organization of the men interested working cooperatively should make a much more profitable undertaking out of the industry.

PACIFIC SPRUCE SHIPS FIRST CAR OF LUMBER

The first car of lumber to be shipped out by the Pacific Spruce Mill here was billed out Monday to the McLeod Lumber Co. of Sacramento, Cal. The shipment contained only rough lumber.

The big mill is operations on one side every day but practically all the material turned out will be used by the mill company itself for construction purposes.

SERVICES ARE HELD FOR ACCIDENT VICTIM

The remains of John Shaffer, killed in the automobile accident near Edenville last Wednesday evening, was laid to rest Saturday afternoon in the local cemetery following services held in the Bateman undertaking parlors. Rev. Cain of the local First Methodist church preached the funeral sermon.

Mr. Shaffer was born in Renville County, Minn., in December, 1878. He married Miss Hattie Wheeler in 1908 and from this union three children were born, Joe, Otis and Buddie who with their mother survive him. Mr. Shaffer is also survived by four brothers, Henry, Julius, Robert and Fred, and four sisters, Mrs. Dena Hogenson, Mrs. Mary Baldwin, Mrs. Jennie Strong and Mrs. Rachael Seraford.

WEDDING BELLS RING FOR OLALLA COUPLE

A quite home wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Heady living in the Olalla when their daughter, Miss Vera, became the bride of Richard Davenport. County Judge James performed the ceremony. Only a few relatives and intimate friends were present. George Shinnery and Miss Alice Davenport acted as bridesmaid and best man. The young couple were presented with an enormous bridal cake, the product of the Toledo Bakery. Olalla neighbors united in giving them a beautiful chivari. The newlyweds have a host of friends throughout the county that unite in wishing them a life time of wedded bliss and prosperity.

THE RED SCOURGE

ious elements—the forest fire. For a day and night and another day the battle waged. Grimy men, black as the charred trunks around them, worn to the last stages of exhaustion, fought on—cutting away the underbrush, dynamiting logs and trees, beating out the slinking fringes of advancing ground fires, shouting one to another above the crackling inferno of heat and smoke, panting like hunted animals around the water barrels where they slaked their thirst with lukewarm liquid, but gaining, almost imperceptibly at first, yet gradually with greater certainty as the weary hours dragged on. And amid the confusion and crash of falling timber the ranger and his foreman generalised the battle.

"Several days later a wide, barren scar lay upon the mountainside, still smouldering in places where the black splinters of the charred stump pointed like accusing fingers, and still sent out masses of yellowish white smoke. The scar covered hundreds of acres and it would continue to smoulder and smoke for weeks, while all about in the adjacent woods were fire guards constantly vigilant to see that the enemy did not creep out and strike again.

"And far away the automobile tourists journeyed carefree and utterly unconcerned. At a sawmill they stopped for a few minutes to watch the logs in slow procession from the pond to the band saws. 'What a shame,' exclaimed the man with the cigarette, in a burst of sentimental revolt. 'What a shame to cut down these beautiful trees.'"

400-POUND BEAR IS KILLED NEAR ALPINE

Corvallis—A. W. Hawley was showing Friday morning the skin of a four hundred pound bear he had just shot on his ranch near Alpine. Finding a partially devoured sheep on his place, that morning, Mr. Hawley had called his neighbor, O. E. Williams. Williams' eleven-year-old hound soon had the bear treed where Hawley shot him. He plans to convert the shaggy bear into a rug.—Courier.
